SENATE.

THURSDAY, May 6, 1915.

The Senate met at 10 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. Charles H. Kline) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Rev. M. D. Lichliter offered the following prayer:

Our Father with bursting bud and springing flowers Thou art reminding us that Thou rulest and reignest. With promise of abundant harvest and great fruitage Thou art showing us Thy watchful care concerning the children of men. We thank Thee for this day; with it comes renewed responsibilities. Qualify us each for our separate work, and may everything that we say and do be said and done to Thy glory, we ask in Jesus name. Amen.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. JENKINS, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

THURSDAY, May 6th, 1915.

The House met at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Charles A. Ambler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The SPEAKER. We will be lead in prayer this morning by the Reverend John Richelsen, of the First Presbyterian Church, of Bradford, Pa.

The Reverend John Richelsen offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, Creator of all life and fountain of all truth, we thank Thee for the beautiful morning which is given to us and that it brings with it for us the opportunities of work and of service. We would always that our service might be mixed with the ideals of God; that our tasks might be looked upon as opportunities which are offered us. In the midst of the many things sordid,—we almost think it necessarily sordid,—the daily work of all men,—we yet would not lose the idealism of God and of God's will as wrought out in the affairs of men.

We pray Thy blessing upon this legislative body of our beloved Commonwealth and we pray Thee that through their work and through their service the divine will might be the better manifested in the institutions and in the laws of our State. We realize that Thou hast expressed Thyself through the institutions of this people in a manner that has been glorious unto all men and has been unto us a blessing unspeakable. Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, lest we forget, lest we forget.

We beseech Thee that we might hope not only to continue the traditions of the past in a God-fearing country and in institutions that express Thy will, but that we might go on in personal triumphs, in national victories toward the ideals of our God. We thank Thee that whenever as representatives of the people we meet in these days we may give thanks unto Thee for the gifts of Peace and offer up unto Thee our petitions that among the great sister Nations of the world soon the swords might be beaten into plowshares and the spears into pruning-hooks. And may it be that our labors may be crowned as worthy achievements. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on motion of Mr. Baker, the further reading of the Journal was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

Every freight elevator having a car speed of over fifty (50) feet per minute shall be provided with a governor working in connection with gradually applied safety

Every freight elevator having a car speed of less than fifty (50) feet per minute must be provided with speed governor which may work in connection with an instantaneous safety

All elevators must be tested with a maximum load

All wooden guide posts must be provided with independent guide straps

All elevators carrying more persons that the regular attendant and designated assistants not to exceed three in number shall be classed as passenger elevators and are subject to all the requirements of passenger service

Every power driven elevator must be automatic terminal stops other than those required on the controlling mechanism

Every power driven drum hoist elevator must have a slack cable controller shifter

All brakes operated by a check line must be so arranged as to be applied automatically if the check line should break and all electric brakes must be applied by breaking the current

All passenger elevators must be equipped with mechanical interlocks and all interlocking mechanism must conform to the requirements of the Bureau

Where any interlock already installed is found to be unreliable or does not conform to the requirements of the bureau it shall be condemned and be replaced within a reasonable time by an approved interlock

Requirements for Elevator Locking Device

a The device must prevent the doors of the landing being opened either from inside or outside except when the car is within three inches of such landing

b The device must prevent the opening of the landing door either from outside or inside when the car is at the landing until after the controlling mechanism of the car has been set in position to stop the car

c The opening of the landing door when a car is at a floor must immediately lock the controlling mechanism in the stop position and the devices must prevent the starting of the car up or down until the landing door has been again closed and locked

d The locking device electrical or mechanical shall be such as will hold immovable and secure the carriage used in such elevator while any gate door or doors at the landing that are used for entrance thereto or exit therefrom are open and unsecured

e The device must be so arranged that the car can run from top to bottom without touching any of the mechanism at the landing unless it is desired to stop at a floor

f The device electrical or mechanical shall be such as to place the power of controlling the elevator beyond the control of the attendant while any gate door or doors on the landing leading to the carriage is open and unsecured

g The device must prevent the car leaving the landing from any cause whatever while the door of the enclosure is open

h No interlocker mechanism shall so affect the controller of any elevator as to reduce the valve lap to less than one-third (1-3) of its total amount

All automatic door opening and closing devices must be independent of the interlocking device

No pilot valve shall be installed or allowed to remain in service that cannot be controlled by an interlock within the limits of two-thirds (2-3) of its total lap

Any pilot valves now in use if in the judgment of the inspectors and the chief of the bureau of inspection are considered a source of danger shall be condemned and removed

Every hydraulic elevator shall have an independent exhaust pipe from the controlling valve of the discharge tank and no two cylinders shall be allowed to discharge through the same pipe unless provided with checks

The shaftways of all passenger and freight elevators hereafter constructed must be enclosed below the first floor with either fire-proof or slow burning construction All windows opening into elevator shafts are to be guarded with screens or bars

All hand power elevators in which the platform travels more than one story shall be equipped with a speed governor

If the shaftway of any passenger elevator is so located or the motive power is so limited in range as to make a basement air pit impracticable the air pit must be constructed above the first floor

The pit of every elevator shaftway must be kept clean and dry at all times Stop or resting blocks shall not be allowed at the bottom of shaftway

At the top of the shaft and under the suspension sheaves and beams of every power driven elevator there shall be built a substantial working platform or grating the said platform or grating to be of such a character as to prevent tools or other dangerous weights from falling through and down the shaftway

No explosives inflammable or suffocating material whether solid liquid or gaseous or any pipe for conveying the same shall be stored or kept under any elevator shaftway

No elevator shaftway shall be used for the storage of any material or the running of any rope wire or pipe except for the use of the elevator itself

All elevators used for earrying passengers must have their hatchways surrounded by substantial vertical enclosures the same to be made flush with the hatchway and continuous from door to ceiling on every open side of the car and on every floor except the top where a height of six feet six inches is sufficient On every other side of the car the enclosures must be at least six feet six inches in height All enclosures doors must be made to slide except in extreme cases where necessity compels the adoption of some other movable enclosures but in all cases this enclosure door must be of such a character as to be controlled by an interlock All grill work enclosures must be substantially braced and be kept in through repair Wherever an elevator shaftway has been constructed as not to admit of a mechanical interlock on the basement door the said door must be so constructed as to close and lock automatically when the car leaves

EVERY PASSENGER ELEVATOR MUST BE PROVIDED WITH AN INSIDE SLIDING DOOR

Whenever the car of a passenger elevator has more than one doorway every doorway must be provided with an inside sliding door and the doors must be so arranged and connected that the opening of any one door mechanically closes all the other doors

Every freight elevator shall have its hatchway surrounded by vertical enclosures and gates The fixed enclosures to be not less than six (6) feet in height and the gates to be as near six (6) feet in height as the condition will warrant Wooden gates must be made of vertical strip with spaces not wider than two (2) inches All gates must be self-closing and also fitted with device to prevent them being raised until the platform is at the floor landing and whenever practicable they must be made to slide vertically Full automatic gates wherever found will be condemned and must be replaced within a reasonable time by gates approved by the bureau

All enclosures must be made flush with hatchways on every open side of the car and whenever window recesses occur in the shaftway the same must be covered by a substantial grille or screen Where it is necessary to place a lifting gate on any elevator car the said gate must be so hung and balanced as to close automatically when the car leaves the landing

Whenever in the judgment of the bureau the construction of the building or the nature of the business is such that the standard vertical enclosures are impracticable they may adopt such safeguards as will afford the best protection Fire doors on the floor side of brick shaftways are not deemed sufficient protection and self-closing vertical gates shall be required in addition

Every elevator occupying a thoroughfare that cannot be guarded by vertical enclosures must be provided with a loud ringing gong that will ring continuously or at close intervals while the car is descending through the thoroughfare

Every power driven freight elevator must be provided with a signal bell that can be operated from every floor and the controlling device must be provided with some form of lock that will enable the attendant to hold the car immovable while loading and unloading All freight elevators not in the care of a regular attendant must have signs posted on every floor prohibiting all persons from riding on the car

Every sidewalk elevator must be protected at the street level by a removable railing of such construction that the controlling mechanism of the said elevator will be locked and held immovable until the railing is in place

Every sidewalk elevator must be protected by a substantial guard that will open the sidewalk doors far enough in advance of the car to prevent crushing a person between the car platform and the sidewalk doors

Where any freight elevator shall have flush enclosures but not self closing gates the owner agent or lessee may provide all the shaftway doors with substantial safe inside locks and put the car in charge of a regularly authorized operator otherwise the shaftway must be provided with approved self-closing gates

The bureau of inspection shall have the power to demand a regularly licensed operator on any elevator when in the judgment of the bureau the safety of the public requires the elevator to be placed under such control Should the owner agent or lessee refuse to comply with the same demand the elevator shall be locked up

All elevators counterweights must be hung in guides and the foot of the guideway must be so protected as to prevent any person from being injured by the descending weights

All counterweights must have their component parts so fastened together as to prevent any piece or pieces from becoming detached from the guides should the counterweight be accidentally drawn to the top of the shaft with the usual velocity

Counterweights of plunger elevators must be connected direct to plunger

All hydraulic elevators must have their valve chambers and cylinders provided with means for preventing the accumulation of air

If any accident shall occur to any elevator affecting life or limb or in any way impairing the strength or efficiency of said elevator it shall be the duty of the engineer in charge of the building or in the absence of the engineer the superintendent to immediately notify the chief of the bureau of such accident The chief of the burau shall cause any such accident to be promptly investigated

The owner agent or lessee of a building will be held responsible for the failure of the engineer or superintendent to properly report any elevator accident in said building or for any negligence on the part of said engineer or superintendent affecting the safety of any elevator under his control

The builder of any elevator will be held responsible for the proper construction of the said elevator in all its parts and for the execution of all rules and regulations of the bureau regarding elevator construction

If the owner agent or lessee of any building shall receive a written notice from the bureau that any passenger elevator under his control is in an unsafe condition and shall continue to operate the said elevators ignoring the requirements of the bureau the chief of the bureau shall after the lapse of two days from the date of notice have the power to post a written notice at the elevator entrance stating that the said elevator is in an unsafe condition and said notice shall not be removed until so ordered by the chief of the bureau

All power driven elevators must be inspected at least once every six months after first inspection All hand hoist elevators must be re-inspected at least once in twelve months after first inspection

Pressure tanks must be inspected as often as in the judgment of the bureau their condition may require

Certificates of inspection shall be in force one year from date of issue unless in the judgment of the bureau any elevator is found to be in an unsafe condition In such cases the certificate shall be removed and the elevator put out of service until it is put in safe running condition

The elevator inspectors with the concurrence of the chief of the bureau may require safety appliances in addition to those before mentioned when in their judgment the same may be necessary to better provide for the safety of the public

The inspection of elevators shall be conducted during business hours (eight ante meridian to five post meridian) and with as little interruption to the business of the establishment as possible The inspection of pressure tanks need not be conducted during business hours

The owners and tenants of buildings in which elevators are located their agents and employes shall be required to admit elevator inspectors at all times and with as little delay as possible and to give every facility for the prompt execution of all inspections

Every elevator shall be regularly inspected by the bureau of inspection regardless of any other inspection and no insurance or casualty company's certificate will be accepted in lieu of a certificate from the State Bureau of Elevator Inspection Said bureau created by the provisions of this act shall be under the direct supervision and control of the Department of Labor and Industry

The title was read as follows:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 657, as follows:

An Act to further amend section two of an act entitled "An Act relating to the settlement and audit of the accounts of all officers elected or appointed of boroughs townships poor districts and school districts prescribing the time for such settlement and audits for the matters to be contained in the report of settlement and audit for the filing of said report in the office of the clerk of quarter sessions and for appeals to the court of common pleas and Superior and Supreme Courts approved the ninth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven" by more specifically defining the duties of auditors in regard to the report of settlement and audit

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section two of an act entitled "An Act relating to the settlement and audit of the accounts of all officers elected or appointed of boroughs townships poor districts and school districts prescribing the time for such settlement and audits for the matters to be contained in the report of settlement and audit for the filing of said report in the office of the clerk of quarter sessions and for the appeals to the court of common pleas and Superior and Supreme courts" approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven which as amended by an act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirteen entitled "An Act to amend the title the first section the second section and the third section of an act of Assembly entitled 'An Act relating to the settlement and audit of the accounts of all officers elected or appointed of boroughs townships poor districts and school districts prescribing the time for such settlement and audits for the matters to be contained in the report of settlement and audit for the filing of said report in the office of the clerk of quarter sessions and for appeals to the court of common pleas and Superior and Supreme Courts' approved the ninth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven by repealing so much thereof as applies to school districts" reads as follows

"Section 2 That the auditors of every borough township and poor district and school district created or incorporated by any general or special law of this Commonwealth shall file a report or statement of their said settlement and audit in the office of the clerk of the court of quarter sessions of the county within which such municipality or district shall be situated or within which shall be the greater portion of its population within a period of ten days after the completion of said settlement and audit which report shall contain an itemized list of all receipts expenditures and credits of the said several officers for the preceding fiscal year" be and the same is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 2 That the auditors of every borough township and poor district created or incorporated by any general or special law of this Commonwealth shall file a report or statement of their said settlement and audit in the office of the clerk of the court of quarter sessions of the county within which such municipality or district shall be situated or within which shall be the greater portion of its population within a period of ten days after the completion of said settlement and audit which report shall contain an itemized list of all receipts showing the dates and sources thereof all expenditures and credits allowed showing the number of the voucher the dates the names of persons to whom payment was made or credit given the purpose and the amount thereof of the several officers for the preceding fiscal year One such report shall be filed also and remain with the senior auditor for the inspection of all persons concerned and also within said period of ten days said auditors shall publish by posting written typewritten or printed hand bills in at least three public places not hotels or saloons a summary of said report

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HUBLER. Mr. Speaker, this bill pertains to audits and simply classifies the laws.

Under the existing laws it has been indefinite and not clear to the auditors as to what disposition they should make of their audits and this bill clarifies the matter.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1345, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the seventh day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen Pamphlet Laws six hundred ninety-four entitled "An Act providing for and regulating the incorporation into a third class city of a borough or of two or more contiguous boroughs"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading.

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker this bill amends the third class city act to meet the decision of the Supreme Court in the South Bethlehem case, making all elections for changing boroughs into third class cities to be held at general elections. South Bethlehem and Bethlehem voted at a special election and the Supreme Court declared the election void. This act simply makes the act conform with that.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—1.

Brownlee,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1414, entitled:

An Act to create a Civil Service Commission and to regulate the employment promotion and discharge of certain county employes in counties having a population of over eight hundred thousand and less than one million five hundred thousand inhabitants and making a violation of the provisions thereof a misdemeanor punishable by fine or imprisonment.

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That on and after the first Monday of January one thousand nine hundred and sixteen appointments to and promotions in the civil service of all counties of this Commonwealth having a population of over eight hundred thousand and less than one million five hundred thousand inhabitants as computed by the last preceding United States census shall be made only according to qualification and fitness to be ascertained by examinations which so far as practicable shall be competitive as hereinafter provided on and after that date no person shall be appointed transferred re-instated or promoted as an officer clerk employe or laborer in the civil service under the government of any such county in any manner or by any means other than those prescribed in this act The term "civil service" of such a county shall include all offices positions and employments in which the officers or employes are paid by the county treasurer provided that the power of the sheriff to appoint deputies in times of emergencies or riot shall remain in the manner provided by existing laws

Section 2 There shall be a civil service commission in every such county consisting of three commissioners chosen from the county officers who are elected by the people who shall be elected by the ballot of the various county officers elected by the people The persons so appointed commissioners shall be so far as possible in full sympathy with the purposes of this act

On the first Monday of January one thousand nine hundred and sixteen the three commissioners shall be so elected and shall serve during their term of office and until their successors are appointed The three commissioners shall choose one of their number president of the commission At the expiration of the term of the commissioners the county officers aforesaid shall elect the commissioners to serve for the full term of the county officers elected at such succeeding election The members of the commission shall serve without salary The civil service commission in each of such counties may employ a chief examiner who shall act as secretary and such other clerks examiners or employes as it may deem necessary or proper to carry out the purposes of the act who shall receive such salaries as the salary board of such county shall prescribe

Section 3 The civil service commission in every such county shall prescribe and enforce rules for carrying into effect the provisions of this act and enforce such rules and keep minutes of its meetings

Section 4 The civil service in every such county shall be divided into the classified and the unclassified service The unclassified service shall comprise the officers elected by the people attorneys physicians engineers and all persons filling positions created by statutes and the classified service shall comprise all persons not included in the unclassified service

Section 5 The civil service in every such county shall make rules and regulations providing for examinations for positions in the classified service and for appointments to and promotions therein and for such other matters as may be necessary to fully carry out the purposes of the act The character of the examination and the method of conducting it the requirements of the commission regarding the applicants and the method of redress of an applicant in case he finds himself aggrieved by the action of the commission in refusing to examine him or after the examination in refusing to certify him as eligible shall be governed by the provisions of the law now in force relating to civil service in cities of the second class

Section 6 The positions and employment in the classified service of every such county shall be arranged by the commission into three classes to be designated as the exempt class the competitive class and the labor class which are defined as follows

The exempt class shall include the chief clerks of the various county officers and the various clerks of the different courts who are appointed by the court and also shall include those positions except laborers for the filling of which competitive examinations shall be found impracticable by the commission Every such position in the exempt class shall be so stated in the rules of the commission with the reasons therefor

The competitive class shall include all positions or employments in every branch of the classified service except those positions in the exempt class and the labor class Appointments shall be made to all positions in the competitive class that are not filled by promotion or transfer The names of those persons eligible for appointments shall always be listed and certified in the order of their standing beginning with the highest Every position or employment in the competitive class unless filled by promotion or transfer shall be filled in the following manner The appointing officer shall notify the commission of any vacancy which he desires filled and shall request the certification of eligibles The commission shall forthwith certify from the appropriate eligible list the names of three persons thereon who received the highest averages at the examinations held under the provisions of this act The appointing officer shall thereupon with sole reference to the relative merit and fitness of the candidates make an appointment from the three names so certified As each specific vacancy occurs in the same or similar position precisely the same method of procedure shall be followed Where the services to be rendered are of a temporary character and for a limited period not to exceed six months the appointing officer shall advise the commission stating the duration of such period the rate of compensation and other conditions of employment and may select for such temporary employment one of the persons on the appropriate eligible list who have expressed a willingness to accept a temporary appointment Successive temporary appointments shall not however be made

Vacancies in positions in the competitive class shall be filled so far as practical by promotion from among persons holding positions in a lower grade in the department or office in which the vacancy exists Such promotion shall be based upon merit as shown by his previous service and experience The commission shall promulgate rules relating to transfers from one department or office to another and rules relating to reinstatement in the service

Section 7 The labor class shall include all ordinary unskilled laborers and vacancies therein shall be filled by appointment from lists of applicants registered by the commission Preferences in the employment from such list shall be given according to the regulations to be prescribed by the commission The commission may establish separate labor lists for the various offices or departments The commission may require of an applicant for registration for labor service before he can be registered such evidence with respect to his age physical condition capacity for labor sobriety industry and experience which will justify the belief that he is a proper person to be placed in such class

Section 8 No officer clerk or employe in the competitive class who shall have been appointed under the provisions of this act or of the rules made pursuant thereto shall be removed discharged or reduced in pay or position except for just cause which will not be religious or political and the method of removal and the causes therefor shall be the same as that prescribed for the removal of an officer clerk or employe in the act providing a civil service commission for cities of the second class The provisions of this act shall not apply to county employes who at the time it becomes operative are in the employ of the county

Section 9 No person shall be appointed to or employed in any position in the competitive class in any such county until he has passed an examination in conformity with the provisions of this act and the rules made pursuant thereto The examination shall not be conducted in such a way as to elicit information from the applicant concerning the political or religious opinions or affiliations of him nor shall any inquiry be made of him concerning such opinions or affiliations and no favor or disfavor shall be shown to any applicant because of his political or religious opinions or affiliations No person shall appoint promote discharge remove reduce or discriminate in any way against any official or employe in the classified list because he has made or given or because he has refused or neglected to make or give any contributions assessments or payment for any campaign for political purpose or for the benefit or promotion of any political party and for the use of any political party in connection with any general or primary election

Section 10 Whoever makes any appointment to office or selects any person for employment in wilful violation of this act or wilfully violates any of the provisions of this act or wilfully refuses or neglects to comply with any of its provisions shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine of not less than fifty ($50.00) dollars nor more than five hundred ($500.00) dollars or shall be imprisoned for a period not exceeding one year in the discretion of the court

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Almighty and Everlasting God, receive we pray Thee the gratitude of our hearts for the light and the life of this day; for strength for its duties, and for the power of appreciation for its mercies. Grant we pray Thee now Thy blessing upon this Senate with its President. Aid them in their work of this hour and of this session. Endow them with wisdom from on high. Keep us we pray Thee during the darkness of this night as in the hollow of Thy hand. We ask in our Saviour's name. Amen.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. HERBST, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

The Chair asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Franklin, Mr. Hoke, for tonight's session.

Mr. M'CONNELL read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1517, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to defray the funeral expenses and other expenses incurred in and about the last illness of the late John T. Fisher, Senator from the twenty-seventh Senatorial district of Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION CONVEYING MESSAGE TO THE PRESIDENT FOR THE UPHOLDING OF OUR NATIONAL HONOR, DIGNITY AND SECURITY AND RECOMMENDING THAT THE ARMY, NAVY AND COAST DEFENSES BE PUT IN THE HIGHEST STATE OF EFFICIENCY.

Mr. JENKINS offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations:

Whereas, The Imperial German Government, within two months last past, and prior to the sinking of the Lusitania, has committed a series of hostile and unjustifiable acts against the United States of America and many of its citizens, affronting our national honor and security and constituting offences that no nation should commit against another with whom it desires to be at peace, and,

Whereas, The said Imperial German Government by sinking the American ship, Frye; by later drowning the American citizen, Leon H. Thresher, who at the time of his death was on board a British merchant vessel which was sunk without warning and without regard to the safety of its neutral passengers of whom the said Thresher was one; by wrecking without warning the American tankship Gulflight, which at the time of its destruction was flying the American flag and by dropping bombs from an aeroplane upon the American ship Suching, has proclaimed and shown its utter indifference to the safety of both the property and lives of non-combatants and neutrals and of citizens of the United States upon the high seas, and

Whereas, The President of the United States through proper diplomatic channels on February 10th, 1915, informed the said Imperial German Government that this country would hold that Government to a strict accountability for any violation of neutral rights for any hostile acts it might commit, and,

Whereas, Since the giving of the said national messages, the said Imperial Government has committed the acts above recited and has deplorably heightened the injury thereof by the sinking of the Lusitania under atrocious circumstances, destroying or drowing thereby more than one hundred Americans of whom a number were citizens of Pennsylvania,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Legislature of Pennsylvania convey to the President of the United States its message that it will support him to the utmost in any measures he may take to uphold our national honor, dignity and security, and that the Legislature recommends immediate measures to put the Navy, the Army, and all coast defenses of the United States in the highest state of efficiency, knowing as we do that the declared purposes of the American Government in this matter serve the best interests of mankind not only for the present but for all time.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 318.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 6, 1915.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval Senate Bill No. 318 entitled "An Act relative to passenger elevators in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and providing a penalty for violation thereof."

While it is most important that all possible security should be given to those using elevators, and while the air cushion may be the surest in operation there are other devices for the same purpose which are now in general use and are claimed to be safe, and are approved by officials having to do therewith, and a restriction to one class more expensive than others might and would work hardship in building construction.

The Bill affects persons firms and corporations and the penalty for violation is imprisonment and fine, but does not provide for the punishment of officials or directors of corporations which would work an injustice in favor of corporations as the corporation itself cannot be subjected to imprisonment.

For these reasons the Bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. SALUS: Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. JENKINS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH

VETO OF RESOLUTION PROVIDING FOR THE CONTINUANCE OF A COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE AND EXAMINE THE VARIOUS LAWS IN EFFECT IN THE DIFFERENT STATES RELATING TO RECORDING OF DEEDS, MORTGAGES, ETC.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 7, 1915.

To the Honorable the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval a resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives providing for the continuation of a commission to investigate and examine the various laws in effect in the different states relating to the recording of deeds, mortgages, the transfer of lands, the insurance of titles, and the practical operation of such laws, and to propose such changes in the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth as to insure the best system of recording.

This resolution continues in effect a commission created by a concurrent resolution of the Assembly dated December 20, 1911. This resolution also provides for an expenditure of a sum limited to $5,000 to continue the work of this commission for two years more.

Inasmuch as the commission has already been at work for four years and has made two reports it would seem to me that its continuance is not necessary and that this additional expense, in the present condition of our revenues, ought not be incurred.

For these reasons I withhold my approval from this concurrent resolution.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the resolution pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the resolution be postponed for the present.

Mr. MAGEE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

"Where a turnpike or toll-road company or other private corporation shall own or control the whole or any part of a road or route forming all or any portion of a State highway as hereinbefore described and defined it shall be the duty of the State Highway Commissioner for and in behalf of the Commonwealth by amicable agreement to purchase said turnpike or toll-road or such part thereof owned by such company or corporation and if a fair and reasonable price which shall be approved by the Governor for said road or part thereof cannot be agreed upon it shall then be lawful for the State Highway Commissioner to petition the court of quarter sessions of the county in which the State highway or any part thereof owned or controlled by said turnpike company or other private corporation is located setting forth that such turnpike or toll-road or part thereof is a State highway within the designation and description of this act and that no agreement as to price or damage can be reached and thereupon said court shall appoint a jury of view consisting of five reputable citizens of the county in which the road or part thereof is located and the said jury having been sworn or affirmed to perform their duties faithfully justly and impartially shall after due notice to the company or corporation and the State Highway Commissioner view and condemn the said turnpike toll-road or highway or part thereof as a State Highway or part thereof and shall appraise and report the damages which the owner or owners shall be entitled to receive therefor And for the purpose of appraising the damages as aforesaid the said jury shall first hear evidence on the part of the said owner or owners and afterwards shall hear evidence on the part of the State Highway Commissioner after which evidence shall be heard in rebuttal and in sur-rebuttal as prescribed for trials at law Said report shall be presented for confirmation nisi at the term of said court next succeeding said Mr. GERBERICH. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 840, entitled:

An Act providing for the sale distribution and use for the promotion of biological science and for the discovery of new methods of treatment in medicine and surgery of unclaimed animals in the public pounds and providing penalties for neglect or refusal to comply with the provisions of this act be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 857, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to provide for just compensation to the Commonwealth and to persons and corporations for loss or damage to property by fire proximately caused by the operation of locomotives engines on railroad in this State by making railroad corporations responsible for all such loss and damage irrespective of the existence or non-existence of negligence on their part in cases where such fires arise with in one hundred feet of the railroads or rights of way owned or operated by such corporations outside of the territorial limits of cities and boroughs go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 890 (House Bill No. 575), on third reading, entitled:

An Act relating to and regulating the employment of persons in compressed air work be recommitted to the Committee on Corporations.

Mr. KURTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 899 (House No. 528), entitled:

An Act in relation to the appointment and salaries of the deputy sheriffs on duty in the court rooms of the courts of oyer and terminer and quarter sessions or the peace in counties containing a population of not less than five hundred thousand nor more than one million five hundred thousand inhabitants as computed by the last preceding United States census and repealing all acts parts of acts general special or local inconsistent therewith

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING.

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 994 (House Bill No. 406), entitled:

An Act to clarify the statute law of the Commonwealth by repealing certain acts and parts of acts of Assembly which are obsolete expired supplied superseded repealed by implication or declared unconstitutional

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend Section 1, sub-section 635, by striking out all of sub-section 635, beginning at line 2941 and ending with line 2952.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 995 (House Bill No. 890), on third reading, entitled:

An Act making a fixed charge for county purposes on lands purchased by the State for State forests andp roviding for the distribution of the same to the counties wherein State forests are located be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 997 (House Bill No. 842), entitled:

An Act to empower the Public Service Commission to require railroad corporations to employ an adequate number of men upon trains and to repeal an act entitled "An Act to promote the safety of travelers and employes upon railroads by compelling common carriers by railroad to properly man their trains" approved the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, no question in recent years within the history of our State has been so widely agitated, or so extensively advertised as the matter of the Repeal of the Full Crew Law. The greatest pressure has been brought to bear to effect this repeal. Twenty-one gigantic railroad corporations have combined into one great whole, using their talent, their energy and their capital in a determined effort to free themselves from legislative law.

In the stand I take on this question, my one desire and aim is to protect the traveling public and the trainmen of my State, and I am opposed to the repeal, because I know the necessity of a Full Crew Law on trains if a proper value is to be placed on human life.

On the 23rd day of March, within this Senate Chamber, the joint railroad committee of the House and the Senate had the privilege of hearing the witnesses testify in behalf of the railroad corporations, attempting to explain the economic reason why the Full Crew Law should be repealed. Let us review in part the testimony of some of these witnesses:

Mr. Schaffer opened the case for the railroads and he introduced the little, old gentleman from York, Pa., who told of how the brakemen had nothing to do, and of how a brakeman told him they had nothing to do, but he had made some investigations himself, and he found out that once in a while they had to carry a chain, but these chains only weighed from 49 to 51 pounds, and he could very easily carry two of these chains himself, one on each shoulder, and he was seventy-seven years of age. The statement was so ridiculous,——so utterly childish, that on account of his age, I left him go unchallenged.

Mr. Alba B. Johnson, President of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, was another of their speakers, and he would have the Committee believe that the business depression of our nation, and even the European War was brought about by the enactment of the Full Crew Law, and that the information furnished to the public by the Railroads was the truth. I could not let him go unchallenged, so he was recalled and questioned as to the correctness of his statement, that the information furnished to the public was the truth, and he repeated it was the truth. I then asked him as to the truthfulness of the Railroads' statement in their circulars, that, "a milk or express train of 20 or more cars must carry a crew of six. The only place four of them would ride would be in the rear car." Was this information true? He said he did not know. When he was then asked as to how many men were required by law on a train of 19 or 20 milk or express cars, he said he did not know, but would refer the question to Mr. Schaffer, who was conducting the case for the railroads. The question was repeated to Mr. Schaffer, and he referred it to Mr. Patterson, the attorney for the Pennsylvania Railroad. Mr. Patterson wanted to know what the question was, so it was repeated to him, and he answered he did not know, but he supposed it was true. The question was put to anyone on the Railroads' side to answer, and not one of them could answer. Right then and there is where the Committee should have refused to hear or handle the case further.

These men did not know anything about the law or its requirements, but they knew it should be repealed because the railroads wanted it revoked and that for them was sufficient knowledge.

Now, a practical man was put on as a speaker, Mr. Phillips, Superintendent of the Delaware and Lackawanna, who made the assertion that three men rode in a caboose and one in the engine over the entire division; that the brakemen required by law were of no more use than the fifth wheel of a wagon and had no duties to perform. I had Mr. Phillips recalled, and asked him if on his Division they had any grades, and he said, yes, a 78 ft. to the mile grade. I then asked Mr. Phillips, if on these grades, three men were sitting in the caboose one in the engine riding, and he said "No sir;" but remember if he had not been challenged, he would have had the committee believe such was the case. He contradicted himself only because he knew his reply would be a matter of record for the public and for the Interstate Commerce Commission to investigate such conditions.

When Mr. Phillips was again asked how many brakemen were required on a nine-car train with 1 baggage car, 1 express, passenger coaches and Pullman, he answered an Extra Crew. He was requested to answer the question as to the number of men, and he then said a Full Crew. He was again told to answer the question put to him as to the number of brakemen required, and he replied, two brakemen. How many flagmen? He answered one. How many baggagemen? He answered one. Now, it does not seem possible that on a nine-car train, this Superintendent was using an extra crew, which is two crews; it does not seem plausible that he was using two brakemen instead of the one required by law, and it is more natural to presume that he was trying to mislead the committee. However, if the officials are ignorant of the law and its requirements and are using extra crews or double crews, two brakemen instead of the one prescribed by law, their appeal does not lie to the Public,—it does not lie to this Senate, it lays with themselves to study and to master the ltw and to use the number of men prescribed thereby.

When Mr. Phillips was asked if on the first stop made, crew discovered hot box with journal partly burned off; they had to set same off; there was no track on the right hand side; they had no cross over on the opposite track to reach an auxiliary siding, the train standing on a grade, the flag must go back, would the brakeman not have to take his place, and he replied "an impossible occurrence was cited." Why it happened every day in the year almost, and in the State of Pennsylvania too, that it becomes necessary to cross over to set off defective cars and to pick up other cars, and any number of men under oath will testify to it.

I had to smile when the practical Superintendent told his story, for it brought back to memory a little incident that occurred on the Pittsburgh and Western Railroad. On the Pittsburgh and Western some years ago, there was a small strike in the yards; there were furnaces in the lower end of the yard and it was necessary to keep them going. So, the practical Superintendent of the Division made himself up a crew, consisting of himself, the yardmaster, the trainmaster and the travelling engineer. The yardmaster was to take the place of the conductor; the trainmaster, the front brakeman; the travelling engineer, the middle brakeman, and the Superintendent, the flagman. So they got their engine out and hooked it on to about 20 cars. It was level ground to the engine house, but it was all the engine could do to move them, so before striking a little grade, the yardmaster, acting as conductor stepped off the train to see what was wrong, and as the two rear cars pulled up, there was the Superintendent, acting as the flagman, sitting on top of a brake wheel, the brake set up tight and the wheels sliding; the brake in front of him also set up tight and the wheels sliding on the car. This was another of the practical superintendents.

Another of their witnesses, Mr. Greer of Butler, told the Committee of a differential existing between the Full Crew Law in the State of Pennsylvania and the State of Ohio, but when he was questioned as to the differential in passenger rates in the State of Pennsylvania and the State of Ohio, he did not know anything about it. All he knew was, that it was the business of the Committee to repeal the Full Crew Law.

Then Mr. Langdon, the air expert from the Erie addressed the Committee, and based all his argument on a train of fifty cars, and told how absolute the air was thereon, but if you remember he did not do much boasting about how absolute the air was on the train of over fifty cars. He forgot to tell what has happened on trains of 80 and 100 cars when the air hose burst a few car lengths from the engine. At such times trains have been known to buckle and throw cars across on the opposite track, and it took all the men prescribed by a Full Crew Law to work hard to avert further disaster and wrecks.

The other witness from the Erie told of two wrecks in 1906; the trains ran away down hill, but when he was interrogated relative to the two accidents in question, he was forced to admit neither of the trains were full crewed.

Now, another of the Railroads' speakers. Mr. Post, the funny man. Why, if Barnum and Bailey's circus had been in Harrisburg on the 23rd of March, we would have thought "Old King Clown" had broken loose and hit the Senate floor. And Mr. Post, would have the committee believe the railroad men of the State had accused the "dear" press of selling out to the railroads. He was asked to name the men who made the accusation, and he said that was not a fair question. It was fair enough for him, though to saddle the accusation upon the railroad men for the purpose of putting them at variance with the press. He was requested again to name the men in order that the trainmen could protect themselves, so he said it was a lawyer. There is such a big difference between a railroad man and a lawyer, that we would have accepted this, but he went on to say he heard it in New Jersey. He was then asked again to say whether he had heard it in the State of Pennsylvania, and he was forced to admit that he had not. Yet, had he not been cornered, he would very willingly have left the inference that he had.

Mr. Bartol, another advocate of the Railroads' side, told the Committee of how forty years ago he helped to brake for amusement, and he went on to tell of the 29 car trains of today, to which another man would have to be added if it was made 30 cars. I asked him if he knew of any 29 car trains operated in the State of Pennsylvania on any division of railroad, and he said, I am not a railroad man, I do not know. He was again asked how many men were used on the 29 car trains of 40 years ago, and he replied, I am not a railroad man. When he was asked how many men were on a train of 30 years ago, he said, I am not a railroad man, I cannot answer those questions. What in the name of God did he know, and what was he doing before the Committee?

So far as producing any convincible or logical argument before the joint Railroad Committee, the friends of the railroads failed in their mission.

So far as the railroads are concerned, they have done everything possible to present their side in a favorable light and to the best advantage. They have given the public the corporation side,—the side that looks to increased dividends, regardless of the cost,—regardless of the welfare of the men who mann their trains or the safety of the traveling public. The other side of the question is the protection of the travelling public and the train crews.

The railroads have told of the useless, extra man required by law, who has nothing to do except draw pay. Did the railroads furnish the public or this Senate with the following information:

On February 22. 1915, at Sunbury, this useless man saved from injury or loss of life, a passenger who had run and caught train after the trap doors had been closed, and the extra man having been at that point, immediately opened door and drew passenger to safety.

Just recently on the Ohio Division, a namesake of mine, a Mr. Burke ran and caught train after the doors had been closed, expecting that some one wuld see him; he rode a distance of 25 miles hanging on until finally the grip of his hands was weakened and he fell to his death. Had there been a full crew on that train, had the extra or necessary man been there, this man in all probability would have been seen and his life saved.

On August 20. 1914, on Extra Freight Train, Columbia Branch, brakeman discovered car door swinging open and was due to meet a passenger train coming in opposite direction, brakeman went to car and hanging over side of car, secured the door, and swinging same back to car held it in place until Fast Express train had passed, thereby saving what would undoubtely have been a wreck or injury and loss of life. THIS WAS THE EXTRA MAN AS SPOKEN OF IN THE FULL CREW ACT.

February 11, 1915, Fast Passenger Train coming into Harrisburg, extra man hearing stones fly stopped train and found brake rigging down; brake rigging disconnected and train proceeded into Harrisburg, thereby probably averting what would have been a wreck.

March 4, 1915. Fast Train on the P. H. & P. Branch of the P. & R. Railroad, standing to take water, extra man in inspecting train found broken flange about 25 cars from engine; car was backed from engine. ANOTHER INSTANCE OF THE EXTRA MAN FINDING A DEFECT IN TRAIN.

January 7, 1915, Fast Freight Train having been stopped by signal, extra man found broken flange on wheel of car; 42 inches of flange being broken. After car was backed from train, it proceeded on its way. It would undoubtedly have caused a wreck if it had not been discovered.

March 9, 1915, Freight Train on P. R. R. having run off short track at end of siding, was wrecked, blocking opposite track. Extra man ran forward with signals and flagged Fast Express which was stopped 100 yeards from wreck. Another case of a wreck prevented by extra man.

January 12, 1915, Fast Passenger train north bound on Division of P. R. R. struck car door which had been blown from track going in opposite direction, causing said passenger train to be thrown over on opposite track. Extra man on said train immediately grabbed his signals and flagged fast express going in opposite direction. Had he not done so, it would without doubt have run into the wrecked passenger train and caused loss of life and damage to property.

February 5, 1915, Train 44 while en rout from Pittsburgh, the front brakeman noticed that there was something wrong with the front coach. Upon stopping the train, discovered wheel under first coach, 27 inches of flange broken off. THIS WAS DISCOVERED BY THE EXTRA TRAIN MAN.

While a freight train was making run from Cherry Tree to Clearfield on February 25th, a brake beam was discovered dragging on tracks at Wells Water Station. Brakeman making repairs undoubtedly preventing an accident.

On March 4th, en route from Patton a brake beam was discovered dragging. Train stopped and defect repaired, preventing accident.

On February 14th when leaving Clearfield Yard broken brake hanger was discovered, preventing brake beam from falling to track. Train stopped; defect repaired.

On March 24th, en route from Arcadia, brake beam discovered dragging on track. Train stopped and defect repaired.

On April 20, 1911, while doing work at White Haven, with a crew of five men, and owing to a curve, the conductor found it necessary to go upon the Lehigh Valley tracks for the purpose of giving signals to the engineman, and while doing so was struck by a Lehigh Valley Passenger train running on the opposite track. It is the opinion of all the men at this point, that had there been another man on this train to pass signals this accident would not have occurred and the conductor would not have been killed.

The railroads and the spokesmen of the railroads have not told you of the commendable work done by these necessary men, termed by them the "extra men." If there is even a fraction of doubt existing that lives were lost because this man was not on the train to notice defects and to transmit signals, is it not our duty to see that he is there, and that he will be there to help preserve life? Is not one life saved in the State of Pennsylvania worth many times over the $2.67 paid per day to this necessary brakeman as required by the present law?

Let me also give you another side of this question which the railroads have not said anything about! Twenty-five years ago when I ran through freight on the Pittsburgh and Western, the number of cars then constituting a train averaged from 18 to 24; today, they average from 75 to 100; twenty-five years ago the train rating was from 400 to 700 tons, while today it is from 4500 to 6500 tons. We had the same number of men then on a train that the Full Crew Law of today prescribed. The wages paid a conductor then from Willow Grove to New Castle and return was $4.20; today it is $4.16, four cents less; the brakeman received $3.10, while today he receives $2.78, thirty-two cents less than the pay of twenty-five years ago. Why, on that division if they had to deliver twenty-five years ago, the tonnage of today, it would have taken 10 full crews instead of one.

Now, if the railroads with their increased tonnage, the longer and heavier trains, the increased freight rates, the increased cost placed on mileage books and on commuter tickets, cannot afford to properly man their trains, so as to afford protection to the public and to the train crews, there is something wrong somewhere, and there is a motive behind all this.

Petitions were presented to the Joint Railroad Committee, signed, it is claimed 262,523 people asking for the repeal of the Full Crew Law. Out of a population of over seven million people, they ask for the repeal of a law, and present a petition signed by 262,523 people to influence legislation to revoke a law created in the interest of humanity. Petitions are worthless, and especially so when signatures are secured by deliberate misrepresentations, as has been done in this case.

Don't let this Senate be misled. The fight is not so much against the Full Crew Law itself, as it is to gain control of legislation in the State of Pennsylvania. Let me read you a letter sent out by the railroads which tells a tale that can be readily understood by any honest and fair-minded man:

THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA, BALTIMORE AND WASHINGTON RAILROAD COMPANY, WEST JERSEY AND SEASHORE RAILROAD COMPANY.
Pittsburgh, Pa., March 27, 1915.

Mr. W. J. Kennedy,
Mars, Pa.

Dear Sir:

The Railroads of this State appeal to you for assistance in their effort for repeal of a State Law known as the Full Crew Law, Act of 1911. The enforcement of this and other laws of like character in the State Statutes, increase the cost of railroad operations. The business interests and industries as well as the railroads are thus penalized by the presence of one man on a train crew from whom there is absolutely no return in efficiency or safety.

Won't you please read the facts presented in the enclosed booklet, after which we feel sure that you will agree that sufficient reason exists for the modification of this law, placing the regulation under the State Public Service Commission.

Believing that if the legislators of this State are in receipt of letters from the business interests endorsing the efforts of the railroads, they must bow to the demand thus expressed and so cast their votes, we therefore solicit letters from you to the Senator and the Representatives from your district, asking them to support the modification. In this connection we beg also to enclose a suggestion for the letter.

If you will favor us in this matter we will be glad to have the letters written on your letterheads, enclosed in your business envelope and placed in a stamped envelope we send you herewith. On receipt of these letters we will see that they are presented to the Senator and Representatives addressed.

Thanking you for your assistance, I am

Yours respectfully,
(Signed) C. W. RICHEY,
Master Carpenter.

Your Senator is J. F. Graff.

Your Representatives are J. O. Campbell and J. M. Leighner.

Now, you tonight must bow to the demand made through letters received and secured by a booklet of fraudulent information, and so caste your vote. I will later refer to this booklet. Let me ask you now, why the railroads are appealing to the business interests of this State to line up with them? Make no mistake. It is, that they may be free from legislative law, in order that they may dominate and control the legislation of the State.

I want to impress upon the members of this Senate one fact, and that is, the Railroads in appealing to the Interstate Commerce Commission for an increase in freight rates used the Full Crew Law as one of the main arguments. They received the increase, but when they were making their fight for it, they did not tell the Interstate Commerce Commission or the public, that they were going to make a strong fight to have Full Crew laws repealed. Would they have received the increased freight rates had they done so?

The Railroad Corporations are seeking to make the legislative bodies of this State responsible for the repeal of the Full Crew Law, for should it be repealed, the Public cannot be held responsible, for it has not demanded or even requested it. A petition signed by 262,523 people out of the population of this State is no authority for the repeal of this law, and should a wreck occur and lives be lost for the want of a sufficient train crew, the Railroad Corporations will not assume the responsibility, they will then claim that the legislative bodies of this State repealed the law.

It is for this body to determine whether human life is to be safeguarded or corporations favored. In this connection, let me ask you to look over the history of men in public life,—some of them brilliant men,—able men, yet when the influence of corporations rested on them, Suspicion touched them, and the result was that useful careers were ruined. The DAY HAS GONE BY WHEN YOU CAN BREAK FAITH WITH THE PEOPLE AND EXPECT THEM TO HONOR OR CONTINUE YOU IN PUBLIC LIFE.

The men who man the trains appeal to you for Justice. They ask you as men to let them have the protection which the law affords, and not throw them back on the mercy of corporations to get along with an insufficient crew, added responsibilities and greater fear as to their own lives and the lives entrusted to their care. No set of men are more loyal to employers in rendering faithful and efficient service than the railroad men, and they deserve and they are worthy of the protection which the law of this State has given them. They are watching you. With hearts heavy with anxiety they are awaiting your verdict. The workers in other branches of labor are also closely following this, because they know if the Railroads can have labor legislation repealed, so can the other interests. Just as much reason and justice for favoring the one as the other.

For years this State was dominated by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Are we going to again turn the State and Legislation over to this corporation? You can be on the side of right, or you can go with the side of might, but you will have a hard time explaining to the people at large why you favored the corporations, when the question was protection to human life. You will have a hard time explaining why you threw an army of useful and necessary men into the ranks of the unemployed, because the Railroads did not want the man that the law put there, and you will have a still harder time explaining what evidence you procured, which was so vastly different to that presented to the Courts of our State, that you found it necessary to take an opposite view of their decree that the Full Crew Law was essential to, and did promote safety. Are you willing to assume that responsibility? Can you in justice to yourself take that position?

I previously remarked that I would refer to the Railroads' Booklet of information later. I want to quote you from that booklet the following statement: "The Railroads will conduct the campaign in every legitimate way. They will publicly stand for all that is done and said. There is to be no lobby, neither will there be any star chamber conferences or private deals to influence either public opinion or legislative votes. Have the Railroads kept that pledge? No Lobby! Recall to mind, Monday night, April 19th. What a pitiful scene,—what a disgraceful scene took place in the House. On the rostrum with the Speaker sat a General Manager of a Railroad, and two General Superintendents. On the Floor and within the rails were railroad superintendents lobbying. The Manufacturers and business men who had a member of the House in their employ, were there sitting beside him, watching and waiting to deliver him; politicians from all over the State who had any influence with the members were there watching and waiting to turn them over to the railroads, and the action of the House told the result of the watching and the lobbying. Men in the House, who had pledged their word that they would be against the repeal, I am told, were sent for that morning, and told they must change their vote,—they must be for the repeal. They were met in the halls of buildings, and with tears in their eyes, they said, "My God, I wish I had never run for the office. My word is out to a hundred railroad men that I would be against this repeal, and for the first time in life I must make it no good, and put a blot upon my name that not only myself must bear, but my family as well. I have been called in and told that I must change,—that I must be for the repeal." These men are to be pitied.

And now in conclusion, I want to call the attention of this Senate to another significant fact. The bill before you is here in a different manner to that of any other bill handled during this session. It has come from the hands of the Railroad Committee after a secret ballot had been taken upon it,—the only measure upon which a secret ballot has been taken this term, and I shall always feel, that a bill in which so much was involved, and the action upon which means so much to the traveling public and the trainmen of Pennsylvania was not accorded the same treament or handled as other bills by the railroad committee, and that the courtesy extended Senators upon measures in which they are interested was not accorded me by the Committee and as Representative of the 42nd Senatorial District, and a member of this body, I resent with all the power within me, the injustice and the wrong which I believe has been committed.

MR. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I would be unmindful of my duty to my constituents, and I would be unjust to myself if I would not explain the reasons why I intend to vote against the repeal of the Full Crew Law. The repeal of the Full Crew Law, written into the statutes of Pennsylvania in the session of 1911, and which by its terms was committed for its enforcement to the Public Service Commission, where it is intended to replace, if you will, the power which is set forth in this bill, intended to repeal the provisions of the Act of 1911, and the reason the Full Crew Law has not met with the treatment that it justly deserves is for the reason that the Public Service Commission has not given the act the treatment which the provisions of that act require, because I know the policy at one time was, and I know not whether they continue it now, that the men employed on the railroad was not permitted to file a complaint of the violation of the law made through the trainmen body, the complaint must come from the employee himself, and to what does that bring the employee? It brings to the employee not the order for his discharge, because he made complaint that the laws were not complied with, but it results in a few weeks thereafter in some excuse found why that man should no longer continue in the service of his company. And so it is that the railroad companies of Pennsylvania, notwithstanding their efforts at this time and their cry that this law is bringing hardship upon them, that they enjoy immunity to some extent from what was intended by the provisions of the Act of 1911. Enacted in 1911, no effort made in 1913 to repeal, why? Why at that time there was pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission proceedings on the part of the various railroad companies effected by the terms of this bill, proceedings intended to obtain for the railroad companies an increase in freight rates, and by accident sometime ago I had in my possession a brief which was prepared by counsel for the railroad companies, where a very large part of the reasons assigned why increase in the freight rates should be allowed were for the exacting requirements of the Full Crew Law of the Session of 1911 of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and it was not until after the session of 1913 had adjourned that a five per cent. increase in freight rates was allowed, and it was not until after the session of 1913 had adjourned that the railroads of this Commonwealth increased the price of mileage books from $20.00 to $22.50. While I was sitting here listening to my colleague from Allegheny County stating about the increase in freight rates, I happened to look at the mileage book which I have in my possession issued on the ninth day of April, 1915, with the number 129360. That does not tell the number of mileage books that have been issued by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company up to April 9th, 1915, but grant that for the four months that you have over 250,000 mileage books issued in this Commonwealth at an increase of $2.50 a book, and you have a right to expect that that will amount to an increase of revenue to the railroad company of approximately $1,000,000, a year, and let anybody, if he will, say that the railroad company that is getting one million dollars of extra money is spending one million dollars in extra employment of men on the railroads.

My constituency have overwhelmed me with letters asking for the repeal of this law, and I have not the slightest bit of doubt that every Senator of this body stands practically in the same position. I represent a district that is distinctly a railroad district, and I have had hundreds of letters sent to me by men employed in the shops asking for the repeal of this law, and these same men come into my office when they think they are not being watched and ask me in the name of God and fair play for the workman to cast my vote against the repeal of this law. The other day there was a man in my office, and I said to him, "What is your opinion of the Full Crew Law?" and he said, "I have no doubt that you saw a letter that I wrote you." He said, "I was asked to write a letter and I refused. A few days afterwards my foreman came to me and laid a letter down and said 'sign it' and appreciating that I had either to sign the letter or lose my employment by some excuse that would be found thereafter, I signed that letter and sent it to you." He said, "In the gang in which I am employed there are seven men, and I know to my own certain knowledge that five men out of the seven signed the letter under the same secret protest in their mind that I signed mine."

Furthermore, I have examined, and I have no doubt my fellow Senators have examined, the letters which have come to them, and I know that they will agree with me that in many instances they have found dozens and dozens, aye I might say several hundred addressed on the same typewriting machine, or if in handwriting, in the same handwriting, indicating what? a free and liberal mind in sending and expressing to a member of this body his view on the repeal of the Full Crew Law, another one just exactly like the one in my hand as follows:

(SAMPLE LETTER)

Hon. E. E. Beidleman,

Senator (or Representative), State of Pennsylvania,
Harrisburg, Pa.

Honorable Sir:—If the State Railways Commission does not have power to regulate the number of men constituting a train crew, it should be given such power at once, let the Commission look after such features and abolish the Full Crew Law, which was only enacted to provide positions by law from which there is no return in efficiency and safety.

Your efforts to repeal the Full Crew Law are hereby solicited.

Very respectfully,"

Signs his name and dates it 3-31-1915. And only in the last ten days at that door that same man who in years gone by had rendered services for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and now one of the business men in the district which I have the honor to represent, I asked him what he understood the Full Crew Law to mean, and he was absolutely dumbfounded and unable to answer. I say, Mr. President, and my fellow Senators that I have taken occasion since this onslaught of correspondence has come, to ask the people as I meet them on the street what they understand to be the meaning of the Full Crew Law, and I have met but one who was able to answer unless he be a trainman. I have asked shopmen; I have asked storekeepers. Only the other day a professional man came into my office with a petition on certain other legislation, asking me to use my influence and my vote in a certain direction, and I turned to him and said, the unfortunate thing is that these petitions do not speak the truth of a man's mind, and it is unfortunate that when a Senator or Representative receives a communication from some person in his district that it does not represent exactly what it says. He said, "The people in my community are very much interested and wrought up in the repeal of the Full Crew Law." I knew he had some employment with the railroad company, and I said to him, by the way, "What do you understand the Full Crew Law to mean? what is a Full Crew under the Act of 1911?" And he started to hedge, and I said, "No, let's be fair about it tell me what it means" and when he told me what it meant, it was not what the Act of 1911 provided at all. So it is. I will venture to say that if the members of this body had asked their contituents what they understand by the provisions of the Act of 1911, they would have been unable to answer. Let us analyze for a minute what it does mean, and this is not only a question for the employe, but it is a matter for the safety of the traveling public. If you have a passenger train of four cars, one of which is a baggage car, the Full Crew Law of 1911 provides that their shall be an engineer, a fireman, a baggage-master, a conductor and a brakeman, and if you have an excess of that number, and it makes no difference if it be one hundred cars, you put on one additional man under the Act of 1911. I understand how easy it is to deceive the public when you say we start a train at Philadelphia and bring it to the City of Lancaster with a certain number of cars, and we add one more car, if you have the limit, and then we have to put on an extra man. They do not tell the public that if they add fifty cars, all they will have to add to the crew is one man.

Now, how is the public entitled to this safety? You have a train running in excess of four cars, you take any one of the big trains that is coming into this station at Harrisburg, if there is no brakemen on that train as provided by the terms of this act, the Railway Company if you please may be negligent, and some passenger becoming impatient desires to get off the cars without the trainmen opening the door of the vestibule car. He walks out and you follow. The railroad company may have been negligent in permitting some opening on its platforms into which the innocent passenger may walk, and yet if he goes into Court for the purpose of recovering, he is confronted with the rule of contributory negligence, and barred from his recovery, and I submit, Mr. President, when the railroad companies ask for an increase in their freight rates and ask for an increase in their passenger rates, the public is entitled to some of the advantages, and the protection, the thing that led to the passage of the Act of 1911. And I want to say, and I believe I can successfully challenge, that there is not a train in Pennsylvania operating to-night that carries on it one man in excess of what was carried in 1907. At that time an effort was made to retrench, and they took from the big trains an experienced brakeman, and they substituted for him, a porter at thirty-five or forty dollars a month, whose greater concern was in getting a tip from the passenger rather than the passenger's comfort in travelling. And that is what brought about the agitation that put on the books this Full Crew Law, and that is the reason it is on the books today. Why, Mr. President, if promises are not to be performed, then they should not be made. When promises are made, we have a right to expect that they will be kept, and when in the heat of the campaign last fall, we were struggling in political affairs, the opinion of the present Governor of this Commonwealth was asked on the repeal of the Full Crew Law, and let me read for the information of this Senate just what he said: September 25th, written from his office in the Witherspoon Building in Philadelphia.

"I beg to acknowledge your letter of September 17th asking my position on the Full Crew and the 'Semi-monthly,' pay Laws that are now in the statute books of this Commonwealth.

I am in favor of these laws. I have never heard in any way of any attempt on the part of any one to amend or replace them, and I should certainly oppose any change in these laws unless it were a change in the interest of the working people whose welfare is concerned. In other words, I am absolutely in favor of every law that will carry additional favor and help to our people, and opposed to any that would take from them the rights which they now enjoy.

Very respectfully yours,

M. G. BRUMBAUGH.

The original letter, signed by the Governor himself, wherein he says that he would certainly oppose any change in these laws that would affect the people whose welfare is concerned. Whose welfare? the trainmen, necessary to make up the proper crew for the manning of a train to run safely over the railroads of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Let me add, Mr. President, that in the number of men who have called upon me in this matter, a committee of some twenty shopmen came one night, and they had been imbued with the idea that if the Full Crew Law was repealed, it meant additional wages and additional comforts to them. And I said in reply to that statement, "Go to the President of your railroad company, or go to some member of the Board of Directors, and have them submit in writing, so that we may have information from which there can be no retraction, and let them say in what way this betters the condition of the shop man,, let them say what increase of wages will come to them, and let them say, how long, if the increase, is to come, it will last, then come back and talk about the repeal of the Full Crew Law, and if you can say that it means a greater comfort to the greater number of workmen in this district, I am willing to talk further about the repeal of the Full Crew Law, but until then, the promise made to stand up and protect this law with every means within my power, I intend to keep the promise made to my people." And, Mr. President, the promise made by the Governor of this Commonwealth; the implied promise made by the people of this Commonwealth, aye the implied promise made by the railroads themselves when they used as a reason why they should have increase in freight rates and increase in passenger rates. There is no reason assigned here why this Act of 1911 should be taken from the Statute Books.

And the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. GERBERICH. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume consideration of Senate Bill No. 841, on final passage postponed for the present, on page 5 of to-day's calendar, entitled:

An Act creating a Division of Boiler Inspection in the Department of Labor and Industry requiring and regulating the inspection of steam boilers and providing penalties for the violation thereof

Mr. CATLIN. Mr. President I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 841, entitled:

An Act creating a Division of Boiler Inspection in the Department of Labor and Industry requiring and regulating the inspection of steam boilers and providing penalties for the violation thereof

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GERBERICH. Mr. President, This bill is designed that all boilers used for power are to be inspected and registered. There are no new positions and no new salaries created in this bill. I think it is a public necessity, a public protection, and I expect the bill will pass.

Mr. WARNER. Mr. President, this is a bill that there is no more necessity for than the fifth wheel in a wagon, we have today every boiler for power is inspected or is insured, what they call liability insurance, for which a certificate is issued and sent to the Department of Labor. Besides the law is that every boiler must be inspected, especially everyone having a power boiler, which certificate must be issued and sent to the Department of Labor, therefore this is an additional expense which is unnecessary. At present fifty per cent. of the power that is in use is electricty and gasoline. Therefore, the number of boilers in use now is not fifty per cent. of what there used to be. This is a useless bill and should be defeated.

Mr. GERBERICH. Mr. President, The inspections of all boilers already covered by law or by casualty insurance are not included in this bill.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I have received a number of letters from my constituents in my district requesting me to vote against this bill. They claim that it is an unnecessary bill and would work a hardship on those owning boilers throughout the oil regions of Armstrong county and therefore I cannot support the bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

An Act to amend an act entitled "An Act providing that in all counties having more than five hundred thousand inhabitants advertisements and notices required by law or rules of court to be published in newspapers of general circulation unless dispensed with by special order of court shall be published in the legal newspaper issued at least weekly of the proper county disignated by rules of court for the publication of court or other legal notices approved May third one thousand nine hundred and nine so as to include all counties having more than one hundred thousand population

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, in counties with a population of over five hundred thousand, there is a legal journal in which notices may be published. This is a bill to include other counties. It is not mandatory but it is discretionary. By a special rule of Court its operation may be suspended. In some counties in the State where they would like to have a place where all of the legal notices, except notices mentioned in this bill, might be found by the Bench and Bar and litigants. It is a convenience in fact. It has passed the House with but two votes in opposition to it.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President. I would like to say a few words in explanation of this bill. This bill at the top of page 11, Senate Bill No. 645, is a bill relating to the pay of stenographers employed in the courts. The present law allows them ten dollars a day, and it is discretionary with the court whether the court shall start them off at $1500 or to a sum not to exceed $3000. The only thing this bill does is to make it discretionary with the court. if the business warrants it, that the court may start them off at a salary of $1000. It is the only bill that I know of that is in the nature of a salary reducer that has been offered at this session of the legislature, and I ask for its passage.

And the question concurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Repeal

Section 1301 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with or supplied by this act are repealed

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1041 (House Bill No. 1507), as follows:

An Act for the protection of sheep and the incidental destruction of certain dogs

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That any dog that enters at large unaccompanied by the owner any field where there are sheep shall constitute a private nuisance and the owner of such sheep or his agent or servant may kill such dog while it is in the field without liability or responsibility of any nature for such killing

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

MOTION TO RE-COMMIT.

Mr. PATTON. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1042 (House Bill No. 1038), on second reading, entitled:

An Act to provide for the modification of the plans of the new Western Penitentiary in Centre county so as to provide larger or additional buildings in order to accommodate the inmates of the Eastern Penitentiary as well as the Western Penitentiary for the consolidation of said institutions into one to be known as the State Penitentiary of Pennsylvania

be recommitted to the Committee on Corporations.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question?

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I object to this Penitentiary Bill being put back at this time to any committee, for the reason that this bill has been before the Senate for two months. It is only a subterfuge to kill it, and if the members of the Senate want to kill it when it is on third reading, let them do so, but I seriously object to this Penitentiary Bill being put back to committee at this time.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, just a few words of explanation to justify the motion to recommit this bill for a hearing. There is no member in this Senate Chamber who knows what additional cost this is going to place upon the respective counties that are now being taken care of in the manner of providing for their prisoners. The matter was brought to the attention of the Senators from Philadelphia that there would be considerable additional cost for transportation, not only for taking care of the transportation of prisoners, but also for the relatives of prisoners, who would have to go practically three hundred and fifty miles from Philadelphia to the centre of the state to see the prisoners there, and also practically an additional $350,000 for transportation of prisonrs from the City of Philadelphia to the place now proposed in this bill. If this cannot be shown to us by the Senators from the other parts of the state, that the Commonwealth is not going to be mulcted for half a million dollars, I think it is time to have a hearing on this bill, because it has not been lying in the Senate for two months, but for only three weeks, and if this is going to be a burden on the state, than it had better be recommitted.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. McNICHOL and Mr. PATTON, and were as follows, viz:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, May 10, 1915.

The House met at 8:00 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (Charles A. Ambler) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. F. W. Staley, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee that Thou hast revealed unto us that heaven is Thy Throne and the earth is Thy footstool and that Thou dost say unto individuals and nations and governments and kings and empires "Thus far shalt Thou go and no farther." We thank Thee that some of us have learned by experience that war knows no pity, no humanity, no brotherhood—only cruelty, death and destruction, as seen in the sinking of a great ship with its hundreds of passengers, a disaster which has shocked the entire world; and the lesson coming out of that disaster is that the safe place for the American citizen is upon American soil, upon American ships and under the American flag.

We earnestly pray Thee, O God, tonight that Thou wouldst endow the President of the United States and his advisors with Divine wisdom and expert diplomacy, to solve these critical and dangerous problems with the diplomats of the nations, and may he realize that he has back of him a hundred millions of patriotic, united and God-fearing people whose prayer should go up "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do" and unto the Father and the Son and the Holy Ghost we will ascribe everlasting praise to Thy world without end. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of the proceedings of Thursday, May 6th, 1915.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the proceedings of Thursday, May 6th, 1915, when, on motion of Mr. Brownlee, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

Yours respectfully,
Daniel G. Fretz."

The SPEAKER. Shall leave be granted? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and leave is granted.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO THE SINKING OF THE STEAMER LUSITANIA

Mr. ADAMS presented the following resolution which was twice read:

HOUSE RESOLUTION.

In the House of Representatives, May 10, 1915.

Whereas, On the seventh day of May the Lusitania, a transatlantic passenger vessel carrying neither guns nor other weapons of war was attacked by a submarine belonging to the German Nation and without warning or opportunity for escape sent to the bottom of the sea many hundreds of defenseless men, women and children and among them more than one hundred American people, and

Whereas, Such a deed unknown to the laws of war or the principles of civilization constitutes a personal affront to the American Nation and calls for such action on the part of this country as will secure the speediest reparation and a guarantee against recurrence; therefore—

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, That this House condemns the action of the German Nation as a dastardly deed worthy of none save a barbarous and uncivilized people; that the detestible act being a personal affront to this Nation calls from the President of the United States the most drastic action in securing from the German Nation an apology for its barbarous conduct, reparation to the fullest degree for the destruction of the American lives and property, and an unconditional guarantee that its heinous conduct manifested in this cowardly deed will never again be permitted by it to occur, and

Be it further resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the President of the United States.

Ordered, That the same lie over for printing.

Mr. GARNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1613, File Folio 3707, (Senate Bill No. 821), entitled:

An Act establishing under the Department of Labor and Industry a system of regulation of employers seeking employes and of persons seeking employment and prescribing as incidental thereto certain duties of employers and of county municipal township and school authorities and of agencies procuring employes for others and prescribing penalties be recommitted to the Committee on Labor and Industry for the purpose of a hearing.

Mr. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. GARNER. Mr. Speaker, when we had these acts before our Labor and Industry Committee all of the members there agreed that if a hearing was asked for that they would all agree to a send them back for a hearing. Now that is all we are asking for.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

VETO OF RESOLUTION.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 7, 1915.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval a resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives, recalling House Bill No. 961, entitled "An Act imposing certain liabilities on persons firms and corporations in cities of the second class for the cost of extinguishing fires which occur through their criminal intent design or willful negligence or where they have not complied with any law ordinance or other lawful regulation for the prevention of fire or the spreading thereof providing a method for the ascertainment of such cost and the manner of collecting the same."

(Signed) MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

The SPEAKER. The Chair was instructed in inform the House that the bill was signed before the resolution reached the Governor, therefore the resolution was vetoed.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I move that the veto together with the resolution be laid on the table.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1108.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 6, 1915.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 1108, entitled "An Act to validate acts done and conveyances made by or to corporations after letters patent are issued and before the recording of their charters."

This bill is to validate acts done between the grant of letters patent and the recording of charters.

The words "any act" in this bill are too general. If the bill is intended to remedy or correct any special act done by a corporation between the grant of letters patent and the recording of charter the said act should be specified. The implication of this bill is too wide.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

(Signed) MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the veto together with the bill be laid upon the table.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 103.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 6, 1915.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 103, entitled "An Act to amend an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled 'An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith.'"

This bill amends the School Code in so far as it relates to assessments in school districts of the first class, by providing that the school tax instead of lying uniformly upon all property in the district, shall be levied and assessed in the same manner as municipal taxes are now levied and assessed.

The municipal tax referred to rests upon an act passed prior to the present Constitution, and it is exceedingly doubtful whether this bill would be constitutional, inasmuch as it does not lay a uniform tax in the school district.

The reason for the bill seems to be that, because in certain outlying districts the school facilities are claimed to be not equal to those in the more congested districts, the tax levied in these outlying districts should be less than in the congested districts. If the law were to conform to this idea, it would spell a hopeless outlook for the childhood of this outlying territory.

The remedy is not to make a lower tax rate, thereby accepting a cheaper form of education for these children, but the remedy is to continue the uniform tax rate as the law requires, and establish for these children educational opportunities commensurate with the rights of the people.

In other words, the remedy lies with the Boards of Education in these districts, whose function it is to provide education equally effective for the children of the entire district. Because of its unconstitutionality and because of its mistaken policy, this should not be approved.

For these reasons I withdraw my approval from the bill.

(Signed) MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the veto together with the bill be laid upon the table.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendments.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE (SPECIAL ORDER).

The SPEAKER. The hour of nine o'clock having arrived, the Chair lays before the House as a Special Order, House Bill No. 1094 on Final Passage.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1094, as follows:

An Act authorizing the depositing of county funds at interest and regulating the manner of selecting such depositories and making such deposits

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever the funds in the treasury of any county having a population not exceeding two hundred and fifty thousand shall be greater than an amount which the commissioners thereof shall deem necessary to meet current expenses it shall be the duty of the county treasurer to place such surplus funds on time deposit in such bank or banks as will pay interest on such surplus funds

The county funds deemed necessary to meet current expenses shall be deposited as a checking account fund in such bank or banks as will pay interest thereon

Section 2 Before any money shall be deposited as required in section one the county treasurer shall advertise once a week for three weeks in a daily or weekly newspaper published in said county asking for bids of intrest to be paid on such respective funds and stating when and where such bids shall be opened At the time and place designated in such advertisement the bids shall be opened publicly in the presence of the county commissioners and the treasurer The contract or contracts shall be let to the responsible bank or banks offering the highest rate of interest on each respective fund The treasurer shall have the right to reject any or all bids Before any money shall be deposited in such bank or banks a contract shall be entered into in writing between such bank or banks and said treasurer Each bank so selected as a depository shall enter into a bond with said treasurer with at least two sureties to be approved by the court of common pleas of said county or with a surety company authorized to act as surety in Pennsylvania as surety on such bond which bond shall be in double the amount of any moneys so deposited or to be deposited

It shall be unlawful for any such treasurer to deposit with any such bank county moneys in excess of one-half of the amount of such bond But such bond may be increased from time to time if the amount of moneys so deposited or to be deposited shall so require Said bonds shall remain in the custody of the controller or auditors of such county

Section 3 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HABGOOD. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House. This is a bill similar to the Senate Bill which was defeated last Monday night by a vote of 112 noes to 18 or 19 ayes. It provides for the requiring of small counties with small balances and small banks to pay interest or they cannot deposit the money in the banks. I do not think it is necessary to take your time further with it. I ask you to kindly vote "no" as you did a week ago tonight.

Mr. KUHN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House. At this time I rise to ask you as men who are here trying to represent the best interests of our State to vote for this measure. I want to say to you gentlemen that I believe the majortiy if not all, of you are business men, or in some way or manner represent business interests. The placing of this bill, as it comes before you to-night on out statute books is only doing that very thing that the good business man of to-day would do in the conducting of his business and his affairs. I want to say to you, sir, that in the various counties covered by this bill there are thousands, tens of thousands, yes, hundreds of thousands of dollars that lay in the vaults of the various banks, being used by those banks for speculative purposes wherein the county is not in any way in any form or any manner receiving any compensation for the use of that money. You as business men would not allow those funds to lie in a bank for any length of time without receiving a compensation for those funds. You would either compel that bank to pay you a certain per centage on your deposits or you would get it and loan that money to some substantial business man and receive therefrom a compensation for the use of it. I am going to ask you gentlemen to help these smaller counties to derive a benefit, however small it may be, from these funds that are deposited in these various banks. Therefore, I think you can do not better in assisting these counties than to vote aye on this measure.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, we are one of the counties which are affected by this bill. I want to say to the gnetleman from Greene that the money which is put out by the county treasurer in the bank and for which there is a rate of interest paid and is turned over to the county as it now stands, the treasurer is the custodian of the fund. This bill proposes to make the custodian of the fund the man who is the highest bidder as per the rate of interest.

That takes away all the personal guardianship which it was intended that the treasurer should hold and is against all the institutions of this State. Under this bill the treasurer will advertise for bidders to take this money, paying the greatest amount of interest and the bidder who does pay the greatest amount of interest receives the money. There is no question of doubt, gentlemen, but that this opens the door to speculation on the part of some man who can get a bond. I say further to the large counties of Pennsylvania, "what is good for Peter is good for Paul," and if you are going to put this thing on us, there is no reason why you should not take it upon yourselves, and I protest against the passage of the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken

Whereupon, Mr. H. I. Wilson requested a verification of the roll upon the completion of which the Speaker announced the vote as follows:

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER)

The SPEAKER. The hour of 9:30 P. M. having arrived, the Chair lays before the House the special order fixed for that hour.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1471, as follows:

An Act amending an act entitled "An Act relating to and regulating motor vehicles and vehicles trailing after or propelled by motor vehicles controlling their speed upon the public streets and highways in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania providing for their registration and licensing of certain operators by the State Highway Department prohibiting the operation of any motor vehicle by any person when intoxicated or without the consent of the owner forbidding the passage of any law laying a tax upon or requiring the registration of motor vehicles or licensing of any operator or regulating the speed of motor vehicles by any county borough city incorporated town or township establishing the rights of motor vehicles upon the public highways with relation to other vehicles providing for their equipment and for the width of tires to be used upon motor vehicles and vehicles trailing after or propelled by motor vehicles regulating the services of process and proceedings in actions for damages arising therefrom providing for arrest and for service of process and proceedings for violation of this act prescribing the penalties therefor and providing for the disposition of fees collected and fines imposed thereunder" approved the seventh day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and seventy-two) by increasing the registration fees provided in section six thereof

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That so much of section six of an act entitled "An Act relating to and regulating motor vehicles and vehicles trailing after or propelled by motor vehicles controlling their speed upon the public streets and highways in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania providing for their registration and licensing of certain operators by the State Highway Department prohibiting the operation of any motor vehicle by any person when intoxicated or without the consent of the owner forbidding the passage of any law laying a tax upon or requiring the registration of motor vehicles or licensing of any operator or regulating the speed of motor vehicles by any county borough city incorporated town or township establishing the rights of motor vehicles upon the public highways with relation to other vehicles providing for their equipment and for the width of tires to be used upon motor vehicles, and vehicles trailing after or propelled by motor vehicles regulating the service of process and proceedings in actions for damages arising therefrom providing for arrest and for service of process and proceedings for violation of this act prescribing the penalties therefor and providing for the disposition of fees collected and fines imposed thereunder" approved the seventh day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and seventy-two) which provides for the registration fees under said act be and the same is hereby amended by increasing the registration fees therein provided so as to read as follows

REGISTRATION FEES

Section 6 The fee for registration of a motor cycle shall be four dollars

The fee for the registration of motor vehicles equipped with pneumatic tires except motor cycles and those included in what is known as the dealer's class provided for hereinafter (when registration is issued prior to July of any year) shall be six dollars for each motor vehicle of less than twenty horse-power twelve dollars for each motor vehicle of twenty and less than thirty-five horse power twenty dollars for each motor vehicle of thirty-five and less than fifty horse power thirty dollars for each motor vehicle of fifty horse-power or more

The fee for the registration of motor vehicles equipped with solid tires other than traction-engines shall be

Ten dollars for each motor vehicle of less than four thousand pounds gross maximum weight of load and vehicle

Fifteen dollars for each motor vehicle of four thousand pounds less than five thousand pounds gross maximum weight of load and vehicle

Twenty dollars for each motor vehicle of five thousand and less than ten thousand pounds gross maximum weight of load and vehicle

Twenty-five dollars for each motor vehicle of ten thousand and less than fifteen thousand pounds gross maximum weight of load and vehicle

Thirty-five dollars for each motor vehicle of fifteen thousand and not more than twenty-four thousand pounds gross maximum weight of load and vehicle The fees for registration of vehicles trailing after or propelled by motor vehicles shall be four dollars for each such vehicle of less than ten thousand (10,000) pounds gross maximum weight of vehicle and load combined and eight dollars for each such vehicle of more than ten thousand (10,000) pounds and less than twenty-four thousand pounds gross maximum weight of vehicle and load combined

But no motor vehicle shall be registerable which shall exceed ninety (90) inches outside over all width of vehicle and load combined—except that motor-buses for carrying passengers to be used within the city limits only in cities of the first second and third classes may be registered up to one hundred (100) inches outside over all width of vehicle and load combined—or shall exceed a maximum of twenty-four thousand (24,000) pounds gross weight of vehicle and load combined or shall exceed eighteen thousand (18,000) pounds maximum gross weight of vehicle and load combined upon any axle or shall exceed seven hundred and fifty (750) pounds maximum gross weight of vehicle and load combined upon any one wheel for each nominal inch of width of solid tire upon the wheel

The fees for registration when issued on or after July first shall be one-half those required above All registrations shall expire after December thirty-first of the year for which issued

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LIPSCHUTZ. Mr. Speaker, the matter now before the House is one of vital importance. This bill, in line with many other bills is for the purpose of raising revenue. We all know that all bills, which have for their purpose the raising of revenues meet with the dissatisfaction of that class which they affect. I therefore say to you gentlemen, before making up your minds to vote against this bill, to regard the seriousness of that vote. Do not vote here for the purpose of protecting a special class against the majority of your constituents.

No doubt you have received protests in regard to this bill, when the bill was first brought to the attention of the automobile owners and first brought to the attention of those in the automobile business, but I ask you, gentlemen to consider that this bill has been amended, first reducing the taxes fifty per cent and now about twenty-four per cent. Now, it is necessary in order that our constituents may receive their appropriations, that we must have money for that specific purpose. If we do not have that money, then our appropriations for charitable purposes will be reduced, and materially reduced. Therefore, gentlemen, I implore, I beseech thee, to be very careful in this matter of legislation.

I want to say to you gentlemen that when you take into consideration that the automobile owners and the automobile dealers are a very, very small fraction of our population, I say to you that you are here working in the interests of the entire State, and I will say to you that this money is to be used for the purpose of good roads and the automobile people are in favor of good roads and they cannot have the penny and the cake both. If they want good roads, they must pay for them, and why should they object to this small increase.

If this bill is defeated,, along with other revenue raisers, our constituency will be the sufferers. It is utterly impossible to appropriate moneys if we do not have moneys to appropriate and each and every one of us are interested in charitable appropriations, which necessarily must be cut if we have not moneys for that purpose, so I ask each and every member within the hearing of my voice to vote "Aye" on this bill, because it is necessary and proper legislation.

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker, it is with regret that I rise to speak in opposition to the measure that is sponsored and supported by these gentlemen of this House. I have voted consistently with all the measures that the gentlemen have introduced during the past session. I do not like to appear as being opposed to anything that will raise revenue to build roads, because I believe that the gentlemen of this House know that during the last two sessions of the House I have worked consistently for the support and maintenance of our roads in this Commonwealth, not only the State roads, but the township roads as well. During the session of 1913 I was a member of the Committee on Roads, and I am again this session, but I want to say to you gentlemen, that as Chairman of the sub-committee in 1913, that had charge of the automobile bill, that we have to-day as a law upon our statute books, I had plenty of opportunity to hear both sides of this question.

I heard what the automobile people had to say and I heard what those who are opposed to this measure had to say. I want to say to you, gentlemen, that the automobile interests of the State of Pennsylvania are paying more money to-day than any other State in this Union for the purpose of maintaining good roads. I want to call your attention to the fact that the assessed valuation, the licenses paid by these automobile people, the owners of automobiles, if assessed upon the basis of full value will run anywhere from twelve to twenty-four per cent. not per cent. but twenty-four mills, if you pass this bill. I ask you in all fairness if it is right to tax any other interest twenty-four mills. I understand that this increase of revenue will be somewhere near three hundred thousand dollars and it is that the increase will be one hundred and seventy-three thousand on these second class automobiles; that is the division between the twenty and the thirty-five horse power automobiles. I submit to you that this machine is the small machine that the valuation in that machine runs from five hundred to one thousand dollars and if these men pay twelve dollars on that machine they are paying at a rate of twenty-four and twelve one hundredth mills on their investment. I want to call your attention to the fact that this increase in revenue comes from a poor class of people, the owners of small machines and the machines that don't do the damage to the roads that larger machines do, or anywhere near it. The provisions of this bill also increase the tax on the motorcycles. Now, we had during the session of 1913 a great deal of discussion over this motorcycle business and we found that a great many motorcycles were used in the centers of population by the men who labor, men who work in factories in the outlying districts of the cities and that these men rode these machines to and from their places of work and that the people who were interested in that business objected to this increase. I therefore say to you gentlemen that there is only four States in these United States that get more tax upon mororcycles than the State of Pennsylvania. In the District of Columbia, they pay two dollars on a machine during the lifetime of that machine. I feel that this is an important matter and want to call your attention to one thing more: That to-day the automobile license in the State of Pennsylvania is one million three hundred thousand dollars; that is the estimate, that at the end of this year it will be one million eight hundred thousand. I submit that to-day it is one hundred and thirty dollars a mile for all the State roads you have and at the end of the year it will be one hundred and eighty dollars a mile for all the State roads you have. If I understand the bill of 1913 the moneys raised by this license is to be used for the upkeep and repair of State highways and cannot be used for overhead chargs. Furthermore, if you want to raise revenue we have other sources to raise revenue from. We have natural resources in the State of Pennsylvania which ought to be taxed. We have products shipped out of the State that are being developed. Lumber is limited, but take limestone, for instance, limestone is being shipped out of the State in great quantities and crude oil and natural gas. I ask you to vote "No" on this bill.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, it is perhaps not necessary for me to call the attention of the House to the fact that to-night and to-morrow will be largely devoted, in this House, to what is known as the revenue bills. There is no particular reason that I know of why I should stand here particularly as an individual and as a member of this House and ask the members of this House to provide revenue for this State unless they do so of their own accord and because they believe it is good business in their judgment. This House has now the opportunity of saying whether the automobile shall pay any additional license fee or not. Such fees begin with the year 1916. Let us reason together and see whether the opposition to this bill is well founded. We know when this bill first came to the House it provided for a doubling of the license fee and as I stated when this bill was under consideration on second reading a protest came in from all sides and it made it difficult to explain to the pepule why so much was added to the fee. Then it was considered that inasmuch as the automobile people of this State had not been taken into the confidence of the Legislature, or those who had taken upon themselves to plan for the people of this State bearing on automobiles, it might be well to reduce the fees materially, which was done. Now, let us see where we are at? There are in round numbers one hundred and ten thousand automobile licenses issued in this State. There are about one hundred thousand of them that will be effected to the amount of either one or two dollars and the rest will be effected more than that, but the one hundred thousand people who own automobiles will only be called upon to pay one dollar or two dollars more than they have paid heretofore. It is almost inconceivable to believe that that one hundred thousand people, or that a very large majority of them, at least, would be opposed to this measure if they could be here to-night and reason with us. We know that the Automobile Federation has adopted resolutions and have written us letters opposing this bill and opposing any raise at all in the fees. Now they oppose this bill as a matter of principle. They do not oppose it because the money is not needed for roads, not because it would be a hardship on any particular man, but they want to assert their rights and use their influence with this House to say that as a matter of principle you shall not raise our license fee. Now, any other large interest in this State—and you take one hundred and ten thousand people combined together and they would make a large interest—I say any other large interest in this State might combine and tell this Legislature what to do. The question before us is not whether the Automobile Federation is opposed to this as a matter of principle but whether it is right for us to do it; that is all there is to it. I want to call your attention to the fact that we are facing an absolute condition. The money of the State as it now is is entirely inadequate to meet the demands and that is the only reason in the world why I stand here saying that I at least will vote for this bill. I am prepared to state to you gentlemen that the charitable institutions of this State are bound to suffer unless enough of these revenue bills go through to make the sum adequate to meet the appropriations that we hope and expect to make. It is easy for the members from Allegheny and from Philadelphia to understand what it means to get the appropriations. It is easy for the Federation to oppose paying anything additionally into the State Treasury, but they ought to take into consideration that in the cities where large numbers of automobiles are owned that they have good streets to run upon and that charitable institutions get large appropriations of State moneys in their cities. It does seem to me that as a matter of principle, as a matter of right inasmuch as this is only such a slight increase and the money is so much needed for the roads of the State that the automobile people ought to withdraw their opposition, but if they do not we must vote on this bill to determine whether they shall be charged this small fee in addition to what they are paying or whether we shall back down and not charge them anything in addition. It does seem to me that the amount realized from this increase being something over three hundred thousand dollars, is of enough consequence to make a stand for. I feel that it is not an imposition on automobile owners to ask them to pay this additional fee. Why? Because we have these bills to pay. The State owes the townships of the second class in bonus because of their road taxes under the Acts of 1905, 1911 and 1913 between three million dollars and five millions dollars passed up to us to provide revenue to pay at least a good share of that money back. Now, of this money that we are levying on the automobiles will go for the repairs of roads and will loosen other moneys to pay this bonus fund. I say frankly that that is the main reason why I am asking you to support this bill and help raise funds to pay townships of the second class what is fairly due to them and what was not paid them at the last session of the Legislature. If this bill is defeated in what kind of shape are we to carry through any of the other revenue bills that will affect other interests. There is no use of going into an extended argument. The question is whether we want to assume the responsibility over the protests of the Automobile Federation or any individual of the Federation, of the officers, if you please or secure three hundred thousand dollars for the State and will you say, in the face of all this here is another revenue bill that should be defeated. I see no reason why I should be the champion of this particular revenue bill or any other revenue bill, but as a matter of principle and as a matter that has been outlined in this by those who have the revenue question in charge at this session I make this frank statement to you: If you fail to-day to pass this revenue bill and if you fail to pass some of the other revenue measures the Executive of this State will be greatly embarrassed and the chances are that nearly every county will feel the effect of it so far as the appropriations as to charitable institutions are concerned, and I desire to let it be known that I have told what is going to happen and when I tell that my responsibility ceases.

Mr. HABGOOD. Mr. Speaker, I simply want to say a word in behalf of the men who own automobiles. In so far as I am concerned I do not have the pleasure of owning one, but I wish to say that I think that the gentleman from Jefferson who just finished, has entirely the wrong idea of their attitude. They do not object to pay taxes on their automobiles for roads, for they have been paying more in proportion and per capita than any other class of individuals in this State. But the facts are these, gentlemen, they have been paying this tax and in addition to paying this tax in so far as our county and the interior counties are concerned at least, they have had to go down in their own pockets after they had paid the State tax and put in money as a personal contribution in order to have the roads passable to use. That is the question which is involved here, and I wish to say now that I expect to vote for the other revenue bills as they shall come in special order to-night. It is not a question of men or a set of men who are saying "we will not be taxed for good roads," for I know so far as the automobilists in my county are concerned, that they are perfectly willing to pay three times the tax they pay now if they get the roads in accordance therewith, and I think it is only fair and only just as a business proposition that the State should say to these automobilists, that, at least until we make these roads so that you will not have to go down in your own pockets, to make them passable, we will, at least, until that time, not raise the tax upon your automobiles." I do not mean to say, for one minute, that this is due to any fault of the Highway Department, not in the least. We all know why it existed, and think it will be changed in these next two years, and know that these roads will be made passable, but there is another question to all this, which is, that the automobile question is not now a question of luxury; it is not now upon a question of pleasure, but it is on a question of business utility, and when we increase the taxes upon these machines as you do in this bill, you increase a tax upon a man's business whether that be a small business or a large business in these times when business needs to be protected rather than an additional tax. Many of these larger machines which will pay the larger increase under this bill are those who do not go out of our cities, but those who do work upon and over the city streets within the city limits. Now, gentlemen, it is not fair to say that the men who own automobiles will combine themselves together and say we will have no tax if we can prevent it; we will have no increase if we can prevent it; because they do not say so; and they are glad to pay more, as they do than any other class, if the roads are made as they should be, but in the name of common justice I ask you that after they go down in their own pockets in addition to the taxes and put in as much as I know, two hundred and fifty dollars from one automobile owner to assist in making the roads passable, I ask you not to increase their taxes; I do not believe that it devolves upon us that we shall pass this particular bill, or that the hospitals and charitable institutions will be cut, because if 75 per cent. is taken out of this bill and the revenue can be raised elsewhere, that therefore the other 25 per cent. must remain therein or it will endanger the charitable institutions. It, too, can be made up surely if the other 75 per cent. can be made up, and I ask you gentlemen, in all justice to these men who are now paying as individuals a greater amount than any other class in this State, to vote no on this bill.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that the attention of the House ought to be clearly called to the state of affairs relating to the State Treasury. We are making liberal appropriations. Pennsylvania boasts of her charitable institutions; her educational institutions and her common schools. Now, in 1911, the Sproul Act took over 8,000 miles of roads and called them "State Roads"; in 1913, quite a number of thousands of miles of roads more were added, and since that time, if my memory serves me correctly, but one measure has been passed by this body and that was the anthracite coal tax in 1913, the payment of which will be probably resisted until it is passed upon by the Supreme Court of the United States. Now, that is all right. It is very well to have magnificent institutions; it is all very well, to give many millions to the charities of the State, but we cannot do these things unless we get money from somewhere, and the arguments, made by the eloquent gentleman from McKean and the equally eloquent gentleman from Wyoming can be made against any revenue raiser that is proposed in this House. I would say that the gentleman from the coal regions presented, equally strong reasons against the passage of the anthracite coal tax and I would say that the gentleman from Wyoming introduced and had passed an act which would relieve the traction engines from taxation. And so it is all along the line. If we do not have revenue acts we cannot have roads. A few hundred dollars a mile is little enough to maintain these ten thousand miles of roads and I do not know of any source from which it is better to take it than from the automobile owners. Automobiles have created the road problem. It was their efforts that caused the House to pass the Sproul Act in 1911 and established a complete system of highways, and this increase in this taxation seems to me a very fair source from which to get revenue, and I hope that the House will pass the bill.

Mr. BARNETT. Mr. Speaker, it looks to me as if we would either have to put up or shut up. The last few weeks we have voted our money lavishly, more money than we have to spend. We have been multiplying offices, multiplying commissions with an army of clerks and inspectors and voting big salaries all along the line. Now the question is, where is the money coming from? We all want good roads; everybody wants good roads but they want the other fellow to pay for them. We all want to raise tax; everybody wants to raise revenue, but they want the other fellow to pay the revenue. Now, when it comes to this we all have got to give and take a little. This is one of them, and gentlemen we must have money from some source. The gentleman from McKean says, let the roads be made good, and then put the tax on automobilists and then we will pay it. Well now, that is not just the way these things are done. It is not first the good roads and then the money; but it is first, the money and then the roads. How are you going to get the good roads without the money? This tax as first proposed was to double, you see, double the automobile tax. Well, there was quite kick all along the line, and, perhaps justly, because to double any tax or any cost is a pretty big item. Then it was proposed to reduce it and increase it fifty per cent. and there was still a kick along the line. Then the bill was recommitted for amendment and it was reduced and now it is but a small increase. The automobile that previously paid a ten-dollar fee, now pays twelve. I do not imagine that many of the automobile owners will kick about that. It is a small increase, but it will raise some revenue. The member from McKean County says some of his constituents paid money of their own free will and accord to make good roads,—as high as two hundred and fifty dollars. Well it is a limited number that pay money that way, a very small number, but "many a mickle makes a muckle." Now let all the automobilists put up a small amount and there will be a large amount raised in the whole. One drop is but little, but many drops make a rain and make a flood. The automobiles use these roads more, perhaps, than any other class of citizens. On some of the roads the automobile is very destructive. It affects the road injuriously. They enjoy good roads. They have urged good roads. That fifty million-dollar scheme was an automobile scheme. The people voted it down. They did not want it that way, but the automobilists wanted the other people to pay the fifty million. Now they enjoy the roads they use the roads; and I believe they are willing to pay for what they get, so as we must have money from some source, I see no good reason why they should not pay a fair proportion of this extra money called for by the State of Pennsylvania.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Amend Section 17, by striking out lines "13, 14, 15, 16."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendments as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

The SPEAKER. The hour of 10.30 o'clock P. M. having arrived, the Chair lays before the House the Special Order fixed for that hour.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1687 (Senate Bill No. 610), entitled:

An Act providing for the payment by the several counties of the Commonwealth of the expenses of holding primary elections

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, this is one of the suggested revenue measures, and it may be deserving of some explanation at this time. It is intended to relieve the State of an annual expense of $450,000, representing the cost of the primary elections under the Act of February 17th, 1906, known as the "Uniform Primary Law." The Act of June 17th, 1913, transferred from the State to the counties the personal property tax, a yearly reduction in the revenues of the State of $1,250,000, which was an unsolicited and unexpected gift to 66 of the 67 counties of the State, Philadelphia being the only county at the time asking for the passage of that act. The bill now under consideration is intended to transfer from the State to the counties the cost of the primary elections, which, in consideration of the gift of the personal property tax to the counties, I believe to be fair and reasonable. With the bill enacted into law, the counties will, under the provisions of the two laws referred to, still be the net gainers by as least $800,000.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, the bill we are about to consider is a repealer of the Act of 1906. If you remember the history that passed the Act of 1906 you will remember that that bill was passed in the face of great opposition from the rural districts. Only this afternoon in talking with our representative who was a member of this House at that time, he stated to me that the passage of the bill was made possible only when it was agreed that the expense of the Uniform Primary should not fall upon the counties. As the result of that agreement the representatives from the rural districts supported the bill, believing that it was done in good faith, and while, but a moment ago, I voted "Aye," hoping thereby to raise the revenues of the State, and while I am loath to say one word that would in any way lessen the revenues of the State, I feel that an explanation upon what this bill means to the counties having a large territory and a small population, should be given. To illustrate, my own county of 889 square miles—a mountainous territory—has but 63 voting precincts. That means that the expense of conducting the elections, per capita, is immense when compared with the expense of conducting the elections in the thickly populated districts. But a short time ago we passed a bill adding an additional expense to the conducting of the primary elections, when we passed a bill requiring that the registrar assessors should be paid for that day. That will add several hundred dollars again to each one of the small counties. Now if we throw this expense back on the county, it is true that we are gaining revenue for the State, but when you are gaining revenue for the State by the repealing of this bill, you are simply taking that revenue out of the counties. You are taking that revenue from the taxpayers, who live out on the farms or in the cities, but you are taking it from the counties. It is not raising revenue, it is only transferring revenue, transferring it from the county treasury to the State treasury. So far as I am personally concerned, it matters but little to me, but so far as the county is concerned, it means several thousands of dollars every primary election, and I feel that it is only fair that the members of this House take this condition into consideration when they vote upon this bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?,

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Mr. HARPER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up, from page 16 of to-day's calendar, Bills on Third Reading Postponed, House Bill No. 1446 (Senate Bill No. 477).

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1446 (Senate Bill No. 477), entitled:

A Supplement to an act approved the eighteenth day of April one thousand eight hundred fifty-three entitled "An Act relating to the sale and conveyance of real estate"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KUHN. Mr. Speaker, if there is any one in this House who can explain this bill I would like to have them explain it.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lawrence, Mr. Harper.

Mr. HARPER. Mr. Speaker, this bill provides for the changing of the practice of selling real estate through Orphans' Court where the real estate is situated in two counties. The present practice requires procedure to be started in both counties and the advertising to be done that way. This bill provides that the parties interested shall select the county and proceed under the present law in the one county and after that has been done a transcript and exemplification of the record taken from that county and filed in the other county, thus expediting matters and saving cost.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

RESOLUTION CALLING UPON THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES AND CONGRESS TO TAKE SUCH STEPS AS WILL SEVER ALL RELATIONS BOTH DIPLOMATIC AND COMMERCIAL BETWEEN THIS COUNTRY AND GERMANY.

Mr. MILLS offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

Whereas, the people of the United States, in common with citizens of all civilized countries, view with horror the act of Germany in destroying, without just provocation, the steamship Lusitania, thereby sacrificing the lives of hundreds of innocent non-combatants, and

Whereas, this act was not justified by any rule of so-called civilized warfare and stamps the nation responsible for it as an outlaw among the civilized governments of the world, therefore be it

Resolved (If the House of Representatives concur) that the General Assembly does hereby call upon the President of the United States and Congress to take such action as will sever all relations, both diplomatic and commercial, between this country and Germany as notice that the people of the United States while desirous of going to all honorable extremes to avoid plunging this country into the horrors of a world war, can no longer, hold communion of any sort with the government responsible for the needless destruction of the lives of so many of its citizens.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. MCNICHOL. Mr. President, I move that this resolution be referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

so determined or awarded shall be paid by the Commonwealth together with the costs and expenses of the proceedings in condemnation and the said turnpike toll-road or part thereof shall become a State Highway or part thereof free from tolls Provided That if the amount of damages as finally awarded shall be deemed excessive by the State Highway Commissioner he may refuse to accept the appraisement or verdict and may then omit said turnpike or toll-road or part thereof from the aforesaid route of State Highway and all court costs and costs of jury proceedings shall thereupon be paid by the State Highway Department and by necessary divergence therefrom he may select and adopt the next best and most suitable and convenient route or road in order to connect-up and complete a continuous State Highway and thereafter such diverged route or road shall be taken and remain and be as much a part of the State Highways of the Commonwealth as though otherwise particularly described in this act Provided further That at any time during the proceedings in condemnation after the filing of the original petition of the State Highway Commissioner the said State Highway Commissioner with the consent and approval of the Governor may after ten days written notice to the owner or owners of said turnpike toll-road or highway present to the said court of quarter sessions of the proper county a declaration of his intention to immediately enter upon and take the said turnpike toll-road or part thereof and to pay or cause to be paid to the said owner or owners such amount of damages as shall be assessed in the manner provided for by this act and all costs and expenses of the said proceedings which declaration shall contain certificate of State Highway Commissioner that sufficient funds to pay all possible damages costs and expenses of said proceedings have been appropriated by the Legislature and are available for this specific purpose and upon presentation of said declaration the said court shall mark the same filed of record in said proceedings whereupon the funds in the hands of the State Highway Commissioner or in the State Treasury and specifically appropriated to the use of the State Highway Commissioner shall be pledged and deemed as security for all damages done or suffered or which shall accrue by reason of the taking of said turnpike toll-road or part thereof and the said turnpike toll road or part thereof shall immediately become a State Highway or part thereof free from tolls and the same may then be improved and maintained by the State Highway Commissioner in the manner provided by this act and upon completion of the proceedings in condemnation the State Highway Commissioner shall accept the appraisement and verdict and the damages so determined or awarded shall be paid by the Commonwealth together with the costs and expenses and in case the said damages and costs and expenses are not paid within thirty days from final adjudication and judgment thereon the owner or owners of said turnpike toll-road or highway may enforce the payment of the same by writ of mandamus which shall be issued by the court of common pleas of the county in which the seat of government is or may be located and shall be proceeded in as provided by law And provided further That where any existing turnpike or toll-roads or parts thereof owned by turnpike companies or private corporations shall be or form any part of any State Highway hereinbefore designated described or defined the same are not hereby immediately taken over for improvement or repair but the purchase thereof shall be deferred by the State Highway Commissioner and the same shall remain and be operated and controlled by the owners thereof as heretofore until such time as the work of improvement of all other State Highways and parts or portions thereof shall have been completed And provided further If in the judgment of the State Highway Commissioner local or special conditions of any of said turnpikes or toll-roads or any part or parts thereof are such as tend to interfere with or inconvenience travel thereon and shall sooner require the purchase improvement and control thereof by the State then upon the approval of the Governor such turnpike or turnpikes toll-road or toll-roads or part or parts thereof so affected by such local or special conditions shall be taken over in accordance with the provisions of this act" is amended to read as follows

Where a turnpike toll-road or toll-bridge company or other private corporation shall own or control the whole or any part of a road route or bridge forming all or any portion of a State Highway as hereinbefore described and defined it shall be the duty of the State Highway Commissioner for and in behalf of the Commonwealth by amicable agreement to purchase said turnpike toll-road or such part thereof or toll-bridge owned by such company or corporation and if a fair and reasonable price which shall be approved by the Governor for said road or part thereof or toll-bridge cannot be agreed upon it shall then be lawful for the State Highway Commissioner to petition the court of quarter sessions of the county in which the State Highway or any part thereof owned or controlled by said turnpike company bridge company or other private corporation is located setting forth that such turnpike or toll-road or part thereof or toll-bridge is a State Highway within the designation and description of this act and that no agreement as to price or damage can be reached and thereupon said court shall appoint a jury of view consisting of five reputable citizens of the county in which the road or part thereof or toll-bridge is located and the said jury having been sworn or affirmed to perform their duties faithfully justly and impartially shall after due notice to the company or corporation and the State Highway Commissioner view and condemn the said turnpike toll-road or part thereof or toll-bridge as a State Highway or part thereof and shall appraise and report the damages which the owner or owners shall be entitled to receive therefor And for the purpose of appraising the damages as aforesaid the said jury shall first hear evidence on the part of the said owner or owners and afterwards shall hear evidence on the part of the State Highway Commissioner after which evidence shall be heard in rebuttal and in sur-rebuttal as prescribed for trials at law Said report shall be presented for confirmation nisi at the term of said court next succeeding said appraisement and view unless by order of said court the same be continued to a later term and if no exceptions are filed thereto said report shall at the expiration of thirty days after confirmation nisi be confirmed absolutely and an appeal therefrom by the Commonwealth or the company or corporation shall lie to the court of common pleas of said county within thirty days after confirmation absolute and upon issue framed by the court of common pleas the damages shall then be ascertained as in similar cases subject to an appeal to the Superior or Supreme Courts as the case may be The said court of quarter sessions may in its discretion appoint a competent stenographer to keep a faithful record of all proceeding before the viewers and to furnish a full copy of his notes to be attached to and form a part of the record And the said stenographer shall be allowed the same compensation as that paid in their respective county to court stenographers and each viewers shall be allowed the sum of two dollars and fifty cents for each day necessarily employed which together with the compensation allowed the said stenographer shall be taxed as part of the costs of the proceeding and be paid as hereinafter provided Immediately upon agreement reached or upon completion of any court proceedings and acceptance of the appraisement or verdict by the Commissioner the damages so determined or awarded shall be paid by the Commonwealth together with the costs and expense of proceedings in condemnation and the said turnpike toll-road or part thereof or toll-bridge shall become a State Highway or part thereof free from tolls Provided That if the amount of damages as finally awarded shall be deemed excessive by the State Highway Commissioner he may refuse to accept the appraisement or verdict and may then omit said turnpike or toll-road or part thereof or toll-bridge from the aforesaid route of State Highway and all court costs and costs of jury proceedings shall thereupon be paid by the State Highway Department and by necessary divergence therefrom he may select and adopt the next best and most suitable and convenient route or road in order to connect-up and complete a continuous State Highway and thereafter such diverged route or road shall be taken and remain and be as much part of the State Highways of the Commonwealth as though otherwise particularly described in this act Provided further That at any time during the proceedings in condemnation after the filing of the original petition of the State Highway Commissioner the said Highway Commissioner with the consent and approval of the Governor may after ten days written notice to the owner or owners of said turnpike toll-road highway or toll-bridge present to the said court of quarter sessions of the proper county a declaration of his intention to immediately enter upon and take the said turnpike toll-road or part thereof or toll-bridge and to pay or cause to be paid to the said owner or owners such amount of damages as shall be assessed in the manner provided for by this act and all costs and expense of the said proceedings which declaration shall contain a certificate of State Highway Commissioner that sufficient funds to pay all possible damages costs and expenses of said proceedings have been appropriated by the Legislature and are available for this specific purpose and upon presentation of said declaration the said court shall mark the same filed of record in said proceedings whereupon the funds in the hands of the State Highway Commissioner or in the State Treasury and specifically appropriated to the use of the State Highway Commissioner shall be pledged and deemed as security for all damages done or suffered or which shall accrue by reason of the taking of said turnpike toll-road or part thereof or toll-bridge and the said turnpike toll-road or part thereof or toll-bridge shall immediately become a State Highway or part thereof free from tolls and the same may then be improved and maintained by the State Highway Commissioner in the manner provided by this act and upon completion of the proceedings in condemnation the State Highway Commissioner shall accept the appraisement and verdict and the damages so determined or awarded shall be paid by the Commonwealth together with the costs and expenses and in case the said damages and costs and expenses are not paid within thirty days from the final adjudication and judgment thereon the owner or owners of said turnpike toll-road highway or toll-bridge may enforce the same by jayment of the same by writ of mandamus which shall be issued by the court of common pleas of the county in which the seat of government is or may be located and shall be proceeded in as provided by law And provided further That where an existing turnpike or toll-roads or parts thereof or toll-bridges owned by turnpike or toll-bridge companies or private corporations shall be or form any part of any State Highway hereinbefore designated described or defined the same are not hereby immediately taken over for improvement or repair but the purchase thereof shall be deferred by the State Highway Commissioner and the same shall remain and be operated and controlled by the owners thereof as heretofore until such time as the work of improvement of all other State Highways and parts or portions thereof shall have been completed And provided further If in the judgment of the State Highway Commissioner local or special conditions of any of said turnpikes or toll-roads or any part or parts thereof or toll-bridges are such as tend to interfere with or inconvenience travel thereon and shall sooner require the purchase improvement and control thereof by the State then upon the approval of the Governor such turnpike or turnpikes toll-road or toll-roads or part or parts thereof or toll-bridge or toll-bridges so affected by such local or special conditions shall be taken over in accordance with the provisions of this act Provided however That the toll bridges included in this act must be less than five hundred feet in length

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

BILLS OVER IN ORDER.

The PRESIDENT. Senate Bill No. 522 (House Bill No. 653), on final passage, entitled:

An Act to amend an act entitled "An Act to provide for State registration of nurses to establish a State Board of Examiners in connection therewith and to provide penalties for the violation of certain provisions regarding such registration" approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and nine providing further regulation as to applications for examination for registration of nurses and the fee chargeable therefor and providing for the making of reports of training schools for nurses whose compentency for instruction is approved by the said board

Senate Bill No. 870 (House Bill No. 1008), on final passage, entitled:

An Act dividing the counties of this Commonwealth into eight classes designating the mode of ascertaining and changing the classification and providing for the regulation of their affairs according to their respective class

Senate Bill No. 877 (House Bill No. 928), on final passage, entitled:

An Act to classify the fish in the waters within this Commonwealth declaring which are game fish which are food fish and which are bait fish and to regulate the catching and sale and to forbid the sale of certain fish and encourage the propagation of the same to protect the waters within this Commonwealth from unfair improper wasteful and destructive fishing and to protect the fish from being destroyed or injured by destructive means to provide for the appointment of fish wardens and to declare their official powers and duties to encourage and regulate the propagation of fish within this Commonwealth and to regulate the free distribution of the same by the Department of Fisheries in the waters within the same to define powers and duties of the Department of Fisheries to regulate the sale and shipment of fish artificially propagated for profit and to provide penalties and punishments for the violation of the provisions of this act and providing how and by whom the costs shall be paid

And Senate Bill No. 994 (House Bill No. 406), on final passage, entitled:

An Act to clarify the statute laws of the Commonwealth by repealing certain acts and parts of acts of Assembly which are obsolete expired supplied superseded repealed by implication or declared unconstitutional have not been received from the printer and will go over in their order.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1058 (House Bill No. 638), as follows:

An act to amend an act entitled "An act relating to appeals in cases of summary convictions" approved the seventeenth day of April Anno Domini eighteen hundred seventy-six

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of an act approved the seventeenth day of April Anno Domini eighteen hundred seventy-six entitled "An act relating to appeals in cases of summary convictions" which provides as follows:

"Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in all cases of summary convictions in this Commonwealth before a magistrate or court not of record either party may within five days after such conviction appeal to the court of quarter sessions of the county in which such magistrate shall reside or court not of record shall be held upon allowance of the said court of quarter sessions or any judge thereof upon cause shown and either party may also appeal from the judgment of a magistrate or a court not of record in suit for a penalty to the court of common pleas of the county in which said judgment shall be rendered upon allowance of said court or any judge thereof upon cause shown provided That all appeals from summary conviction and judgment for penalties shall be upon such terms as to payment of costs and entering bail as the court or judge allowing the appeal shall direct" be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in all cases of summary conviction in this Commonwealth before a magistrate or a court not of record either party may within five days after such conviction appeal to the court of quarter sessions or other court having jurisdiction thereof of the county in which such magistrate shall hold office or in which the court not of record shall be held upon the allowance of said appeal by the said court of quarter sessions or other court having jurisdiction thereof or any judge thereof upon cause shown and either party may also appeal from the judgment of a magistrate or of a court not of record in a suit for a penalty to the court of common pleas of the county in which said judgment shall be rendered upon allowance of said court within said five days no commitment of the defendant nor execution against his property shall issue in such cases if the defendant shall deposit with the magistrate the amount of fine or judgment and the costs same to be repaid to the said defendant upon allowance of the appeal All appeals from summary conviction and judgments for penalties shall be upon such terms as to payment of costs and entering bail as the court or judge allowing the appeal shall direct

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 53, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of an act, approved the twenty-fourth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen entitled "An Act making it unlawful for the commissioners of any county in this Commonwealth to contract to repair build or rebuild any county bridges without due advertisement for sealed proposals excepting contracts not amounting to two hundred and fifty dollars"

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. P. W. SNYDER. Mr. President, this bill, No. 53, dated February 1st, over three months ago, is an amendment to the Act of 24th of July, 1913, applying to the construction of county bridges.

I oppose the passage of this bill because the County Commissioners of Blair County, which I have the honor to represent, asked me to oppose it, and because I believe wise public policy demands its defeat.

I ask your careful attention to what I shall offer and your unbiased judgment when you respond to the roll call.

Not being an engineering expert, I sought information from one who is an acknowledged authority on such matters and received the following, and I ask that every Senator open his Calendar at File Folio 3227 and follow me.

"As per your verbal request, I take pleasure in submitting to you, the following criticism on "File of the Senate No. 53," which criticism embodies all the points you saw in the letter, together with the additonal points we mentioned during our conversation:

Section No. 1. Any reference to unit stresses is carefully omitted and this is a very vital point in bridge design.

Referring to the above, I would say that while Part 1 of Section 1 requires the loading and water discharge capacity to be specified, it does not make any mention of unit stresses, a point of vital importance in bridge designing.

With no unit of stresses specified there would be no uniformity in plans submitted. The unscrupulous engineer and contractor, by raising the unit stresses above the limits set by good usage, would make their designs much cheaper and thus secure an unfair advantage in the bidding, as under another paragraph of this bill, the Commissioners are compelled to accept any competitive designs and specifications presented and must consider bids or proposals upon such competitive plans and specifications.

Section No. 2. The requirement to expose plans to public inspection is good, but not necessary in view of the fact that they are generally given to prospective bidders without restriction as to the use of them.

Section No. 3, and the first and second paragraphs of Section 4, are unobjectionable. The second paragraph of Section 4, requiring the Commissioners to accept competitive designs and specifications, would not only lead to a return to the old methods of jockeying and sharp practice which made the highway bridge contracting business so disreputable twenty or thirty years ago, but would not permit the Commissioners to exercise any discretion as to ornamentation or other special features that would be justified in the cases of bridges in towns. If this part of the clause were made permissive instead of obligatory there would be less objection to it, but it would subject any County Commissioners, who rejected competitive plans, to violent public criticism, if not legal attacks by interested parties.

The last part of the last paragraph is particularly vicious, as it makes it unlawful to award contracts on plans containing any patented device or feature without permitting the question of the validity of such patents being raised and thus practically bars out the presentation of plans containing any features subject to alleged patents, however trivial and however indefensable the patent might be, by any except the patentees themselves or their representatives.

This paragraph also makes it unlawful to award contracts on plans that contain any patented trade articles, such as deformed reinforcing bars, paving, curb protection bar, hand railing, or paint, on which no royalties are charged, they being furnished to the trade at standard selling prices which cover the inventor's royalties."

A rather scathing criticism, that; now for the colored gentleman in the wood pile.

If this bill had been drawn in the interest of D. B. Luten, it could not better suit the purpose.

D. B. Luten does business in the middle west under the name of Luten Engineering Company, of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

A blotter, containing their advertisement, is herewith submitted as Exhibit No. 1.

The object of this amendment seems to be to enable D. B. Luten, Patentee, the National Bridge Trust, or its Pennsylvania representative, Luten Engineering Company, to monopolize the concrete bridge business in Pennsylvania; but whether the bill is in the interest of the Luten concern or not, no necessity exists for such an act as this, for the reason that the taxpayers of the State are fully and amply protected by the Act of 1913, and, therefore, we hold that this amendment is not only unnecessary but positively harmful and that the original act should stand.

But, let us again look at the bill.

By Section 2, the County Commissioners are required to expose plans and specifications of a proposed bridge to public inspection for at least three weeks immediately prior to the time fixed for opening bids or proposals. By Section 3, they are required to advertise for bids once a week for at least three weeks on the plans and specifications which they have prepared, but by the last paragraph of Section 4, the County Commissioners are required to accept any competitive designs and specifications for said bridge, and expose the same to public inspection for at least five days prior to the time of opening bids. (See lines 42 to 46, inclusive.) Under this provision, it will be impossible for any person to come in with competitive designs and specifications up to and within five days of the opening of the bids and demand that the County Commissioners receive such designs and erect bridges thereon, after an exposure to public view for only five days. This even though the plans prepared by the Commissioners are required to be exposed for three weeks. There is nothing in this bill which will prevent any number, from one to ten thousand, designs and specifications being dumped in the various Commissioners' offices of the counties for competition in bridge letting, and the Commissioners, if they perform their duty as they ought to perform it, would be required to examine all of these plans and have them tested by some competent engineer to determine whether a bridge built under said plans and specifications will be sufficient to carry the load, etc. Five days is not enough time for such an investigation.

As to that part of the last paragraph of Section 4, applying to patented designs (See lines 52 to 60, inclusive.) This provision would make unlawful any contract for a bridge, the plans and specifications of which were prepared by any County Engineer in which any method of reinforcement whatsoever was used unless the plan of reinforcement would first be passed upon by a patent expert to determine whether it was covered by a patent, and if so, by whom, and after this has been ascertained, the patentee must be seen and asked for prices. Could anything be ranker than this?

As said before, D. B. Luten, himself, claims to control more than forty patents applying to reinforcement entering into construction of concrete arches alone. Mr. Thacher, of New York, claims numerous patents on reinforcements entering into construction of concrete bridges. A Mr. Bone, of Cincinnati, Ohio, claims to be the patentee of reinforcements entering into abutments and wing-walls of concrete bridges. The Concrete Engineering Company, of New York, claims to own American and foreign patents on reinforcements entering into concrete bridges. This list could be continued indefinitely, so that if this will be made a law, it will be utterly impossible for County Commissioners to enter into a legal contract for the construction of concrete bridges.

As the law obtains at present, if the County Commissioners in the construction of a concrete bridge, and in the use of reinforcements therein, infringe on the rights of any patentee, said patentee has his remedy under the law by an action for infringement and he is amply protected.

Under this proposed law, there is no doubt but what D. B. Luten and his agents hope to make every County Engineer an agent for their concern, for the reason that, being unable under this bill to enter into a lawful contract for a concrete bridge, the engineer would be driven to select the Luten design of bridge, and the Luten reinforcements. There is nothing in the law as it now obtains, to prevent County Commissioners from soliciting competitive designs, neither is there anything in the law to prevent D. B. Luten, or his agent, from trying to persuade County Commissioners to accept the Luten design of bridges and present them to bidders on the same basis as other plans are presented. The evil of this bill is that it is intended to, in some way, enable D. B. Luten, and his corporations and agents, to force their bridges upon County Commissioners, whether they want them or not.

Pennsylvania is not the first State to be placed under the control of these designing bridge concerns.

Let me quote an extract from the Indiana State Statutes:

"If any plans or specifications include the use of any patented dveice or of an article controlled by monopoly, the specifications shall be accompanied by a statement of the terms upon which such device or article may be used or obtained."

Burn's Indiana Statutes, Pa., 7686, P. 161.

And it is alleged that this act was passed at the instance of D. B. Luten or his associated concerns.

It is alleged that the Luten concerns, holding many patents, valid or otherwise offered officials in another State free use of their patent claims if they would give them their checks for the royalties and that they would hold the checks and in a short time return them uncollected. If this be true, the evident intention of the Luten concerns was to bluff or scare timid County Commissioners into acknowledging the validity of their patents and giving them the contracts for the erection of their bridges. Evidently the United States Government is suspicious of this D. B. Luten and fraud and illegality are suggested in recent proceedings, for I have here a resolution adopted in the Senate of the United States, as follows:

63d Congress—3d Session.

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 513.

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES.

January 8, 1915.

Mr. Bristow submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Patents.

February 10 (calendar day, March 1), 1915.

Reported by Mr. Shafroth, with an amendment; considered, amended, and agreed to

RESOLUTION.

Resolved, That the Committee on Patents or a sub-committee thereof, is hereby authorized and directed to inquire, investigate, ascertain, and report as to the issuing of patents, to Daniel B. Luten from nineteen hundred to the present time, and particularly to inquire, investigate, ascertain and report as to the fraudulently obtaining of the patents and the illegality of their issuance.

Resolved further, That said committee or a subcommittee thereof is hereby empowered to summon witnesses, to send for persons and papers to administer oaths, and employ a stenographer at not to exceed $1 a printed page to take and secure whatever testimoney and evidence may be required to asecrtain and report upon the matters aforesaid; and said committee or a subcommittee thereof is hereby authorized for the purposes aforesaid to sit wherever necessary and act as well when Congress is not in session as when in session.

Resolved further that the said committee is hereby directed to report the result of its said investigation and inquiry to the Senate at as early a date as is practicable; and the expenses incurred by such investigation and inquiry shall be paid from the contingent fund of the Senate upon vouchers to be approved by the chairman of the committee.

Blair County in the past five years has built fifty bridges of reinforced concrete at a total cost of $124,773.73, and remodeled 15 bridges adding creasate block doors at a cost of $21,329.24, and only on last Friday awarded contracts for the building of eight more concrete bridges to cost $26,866.93, and at this letting, D. B. Lutten submitted his plans in competition with plans presented by Edwin Thatcher and their own County Engineer for one of the eight bridges. When the bids were opened, the results were as follows:

The low bid on Luten plan was $14,989.00.

The low bid on Thatcher plan was $14,681.15.

The low bid on the County Engineer's plan was $11,548.00. All designs for same requirements for loads, unit tresses, etc. Thus under the act of 1913, Blair County saved $3,441.00. But under this proposed Act, Mr. Luten would have gotten the contract, and the County would have lost $3,441.00 on this one bridge.

We are doing splendid work for the permanent benefit of our County and to the injury of no one, for, if any rights are infringed, Mr. Luten with his numerous patents and the allied concerns with many more patents are amply protected by the Federal Government.

Then, why? Oh, I ask you, why should these interests come here and ask the Legislature to enact a law to further protect them, to hamper our County Commissioners and to crush our local contractors?

Mr. President, it is clear that the passage of this bill would practically place the designing of all county bridges in the hands of D. B. Luten and his associates or their agents.

Let us not do this. Let us rather grant "equal opportunity to all, and special privilege to none." Let us defeat this bill.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, several weeks ago the Senator from Blair was very much interested in saving children under three years of age from taking baby drops that were supposed to contain opium; very much interested in protecting the lives of the children of Blair County and the balance of the counties of the Commonwealth, but this morning he stands in the position of not wanting to save the County of Blair, and the other counties of the Commonwealth some money. True, he had his speech written from an engineer's standpoint, and I have no doubt, composed to a very large extent by his engineer of Blair County, and in referring to his pet—I refer to Mr. H. G. Hinkle, who does the designing of bridges in Blair County, and if that is not the gentleman, let the Senator from Blair deny it. My interest in this measure, Mr. President, was aroused by reason of the construction of a bridge across the Swatara Creek at Middletown, in this County. As you go along the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad just below the Middletown station, you will see a new concrete arch bridge. When it was attempted to bid on that bridge, the engineer of Dauphin County had designed a truss bridge, and he said it was impossible to build a concrete arch bridge for one cent less than $30,000. After considerable persuasion, the commissioners of Dauphin County consented that designs other than the steel truss bridge design made by the county engineer might be submitted and considered with the result that the lowest bid that was submitted on the steel bridge prepared by the county engineer was $19,958.50, and the design submitted by the concrete designer was $17,045.00, or $13,000 less than the $30,000.00 which it was supposed to have cost the county of Dauphin and $2913.00 saved on a permanent concrete bridge as against the steel truss bridge prepared by the county engineer. I want to call the Senator's attention to the fact that in his own County of Blair on the seventh day of May, there was awarded one forty-five-foot span bridge of steel construction for $3,018.00, and on the twenty-seventh day of April, 1915, there was contracted for jointly by Adams and York Counties a forty-five-foot bridge for $1984.00, or $1034.00 which might have been saved to the County of Blair if the engineer had been large enough and big enough in his mind to permit competitive designs to be submitted in order that bids might be taken. And again, sir, the County Commissioners, upon the advice and consent of that engineer, let, on the seventh day of May one bridge for $2,618.00 for a forty-foot span, and Mifflin County, on the thirtieth day of April, 1915, contracted for a span of forty feet in concrete for $1598.00, making a saving of $1020.00, or almost three thousand dollars which might have been saved to your County of Blair had there been an opportunity for competitive bidding. As I have said, Mr. President, the Senator from Blair County submitted his argument and presented it here from an engineering standpoint, and not as a matter of protection to the contractors or taxpayers of his county. He has not read the provisions of this bill. This bill imposes no obligation upon the County Commissioners whatsoever. His county engineer can design as many bridges as he may want to and there is no obligation on the board of County Commissioners to in any way recede from letting a contract for steel construction if they so desire. If you will take this bill and read it over from beginning to end, I challenge the Senator from Blair, and any Senator on this floor, or any contractor or engineer in this Commonwealth. or any other Commonwealth, to show where there is any mandatory provision for the county commissioners to let any bridge for designs that may be submitted under the provisions of this act. Mr. President, there is now erecting in the County of Berks, at Leesport, I think it is, a bridge upon which there are three infringements of patents, and take a contractor who may go to the wall, where would the suit for the infringement of the patent finally come? Against the County of Berks. With what result? That he would recover for the infringement. And take this bill, 53, and analyze it, and what does it provide? That if competitive bids are submitted, the man who has a patent design shall submit to the county commissioners at the time bids are submitted how much will be the commission on the bridge. For what purpose? For the purpose of favoring the contractor? No, for the purpose of advising the county commissioners and contractors desiring to bid how much they shall add to their bid to cover the cost of the royalty on any patent design that may be offered. I take you down to the County of Delaware where there were let contracts for the construction of bridges at Ridley Creek and Marcus Hook of concrete design, and did not permit any person to submit competitive designs as authorized under this bill with the result that the contract for the one was $13,900, and the bridge under other designs could have been built for $10,000.00,—aye, a better bridge than the one they will get; another one let at $3.900.00 where there could have been a bridge built for $2500, or a saving of $1400. Taking the bill from beginning to end, let the Senator from Blair, or his engineer, who has written this argument, I submit, and raise this objection, not because of the reasons which he endeavors to set forth here, but for the reason that he knows if competitive designs are permitted, that engineer will not be permitted to recover the commissiones from his county which he gets by a monopoly in favor of steel bridges. I challenge his engineer, of expert training and knowledge in concrete construction, the engineers in this Commonwealth to a large extent have been careless in the matter of steel bridges and when you come into competitive design in bidding on concrete construction, of course, you will run across patents. I do not know Thacher, I do not know who may have patents, but I respectfully submit, Mr. President, that this is a bill in the interest of the taxpayers of the county and not in the interest of engineers who are endeavoring to make a monopoly of commissions in the several counties that they may submit one kind of bridge.

Now, what does this bill provide? The law is now that the county engineer submits a form of bridge, and he submits a bid. He submits a design for steel construction. There is nothing in the Act of 1913, or any other act, which will prevent any person from coming in and submitting designs in competition with steel. This bill simply provides that where plans have been prepared, whether they be for steel or concrete, the engineers, the various contractors and persons interested in bridge construction can go to the site where it is proposed to build the bridge, take the plans and specifications as they are prepared, and in the same capacity take them to the office and prepare plans and specifications and place them in the county commissioner's office. And what else? There they lie open for any person desiring to bid, and not to close up the doors, or open that county to suits for violation of infringements of patents for a person interested in the patents shall say on that plan and specifications how much he shall expect from the County or the contractor for the royalty upon it. Anything unfair about it? Any disclosure? As it now is, sir, if your County wants a concrete bridge and there is an infringement of patent you have no means of ascertaining what the amount of verdict may be against that county or contractor. This bill provides he shall show there in plain words how much he is entitled under his claim for patent rights and royalties, and leaves the contract open to competitive bidding on the part of all contractors. Take this bill from beginning to end and I challenge you, sir, to show me in a single instance where there is any obligations upon the part of your county commissioners, or the commissioners of any other county to adopt any plan other than those submitted by your county engineer. The County Engineer and county commissioners are in duty bound to let a contract for a truss or steel bridge for which they may procure concrete and the only thing is the criticism as it might come to your commissioners and your engineers for having spent more of your taxpayers' money for building a substantial structure in the form of a concrete bridge. These bridges to which I refer in the County of Blair you have a concrete bridge, forever through with the cost of repair and no cost of painting, no services necessary to detect rust on your steel construction, a permanent bridge is there forever, and the objection as made here, and I respectfully submit at the instance of engineers who have selfish motives, not desiring to save the county's money but to take it from them, come in here with a selfish motive and say that it is not fair that the county should have the benefit of free and open competition in the matter of construction of bridges.

Mr. P. W. SNYDER. Mr. President, in regard to my bill for protecting three-day old infants I do not think has any connection with building bridges in the State of Pennsylvania, I am about to say this morning I received a card which shows that fourteen cases of an infant destroyer were seized in Illinois only last week by the Federal Government. I don't know whether my bill had anything to do with that in making progress in saving the lives of babies.

Now, Mr. President, Mr. Hinkle is not the author of the arguments in my address. I have only seen Mr. Hinkle once and that was last Saturday after the letting of the Blair County bridges. I admit that he did give a few points, but very few, to another party, that I used. The engineer who gave me the information is one in the engineering world high above Mr. Hinkle and Mr. Hinkle is a pretty good engineer. Now, the Senator from Dauphin says there is no obligation for the County Commissioners to accept the patentee's design. I contend, and I think I have shown to you, that there are demands in this bill to make the engineer hesitate and to make him uncertain, and they feel compelled to give the contracts to these engineers who have these numerous patents. Now it is very evident that I am not a skilled lawyer, or engineer, and it is very evident that there should be.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, will the Senator from Blair permit himself to be interrogated?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Blair, Mr. Snyder, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. P. W. SNYDER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, in order to shorten the argument in regard to the interpretation of this act, I desire to ask the Senator if he will point out to the Senate that provision which makes it mandatory for the engineers to adopt one plan or the other that may be submitted.

Mr. P. W. SNYDER. Mr. President, I have already pointed out the section of the bill which contains the thing which I have alluded to, and the line.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, the Senator has not answered my question. I asked him the question, if he will point out the language in this Senate Bill No. 53, which makes it mandatory upon the engineer of his county or any other county to accept any particular plan and specification.

Mr. P. W. SNYDER. Mr. President, No, I cannot do that now, but, by the wording of the bill, certain things are required and one of them is, we have to advertise three weeks, and under this bill you only have five days for the letting of the contract.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to ask, in the light of the fact that plans and specifications are on record and are prepared by his county engineer and on record for three weeks whether he allows any time for persons desiring to compete and to go to the site of the proposed bridge, make their measurements and their surveys and prepare their plans, and I ask him whether or not there be any contractor who can within five days after final plans have been submitted be deterred from submitting a proper bid on any plan that may be entered in the office.

Mr. P. W. SNYDER. Mr. President, I reply to the Senator from Dauphin by saying that I do not believe five days are long enough. They must get the water conditions in the river and a great deal of information and five days are not enough. I think if our own people have to advertise three weeks, why should others not have three weeks and here I submit the work done in Blair County in five years and the number of bridges built speaks for itself, and these same county commissioners who labored on this work have told me that this proposed bill will interfere with the county commissioner and that is enough for me. Let the old law alone. If he wishes we will bring expert testimony and let us recommit this bill to committee and have a hearing on it. I would like to be heard in committee on this bill. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Dauphin.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Beidleman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I will.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Blair, Mr. Snyder, will proceed.

Mr. P. W. SNYDER. Mr. President, will the Senator from Dauphin recommit his bill to Committee and let us have a fair discussion, investigation and action on this bill?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I will not permit this bill to be recommitted because whatever expert testimony he may bring, will not in any way change the sense of this bill because it is not a matter of what engineers desire, it is what is fair to counties and what is mandatory on county commissioners who allow competitive bidding.

Mr. P. W. SNYDER. Mr. President, I have served in the House two terms and I am about closing my experience in the Senate of one term and this is the first time I have ever heard of any member of the Legislature having any perfect bill. Gentlemen of the Senate I trust you will defeat this measure. It will do no harm to defeat it. Let us alone with the laws that we have and I will assure you the State will get along very well without this act.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 857, entitled:

An Act to provide for just compensation to the Commonwealth and to persons and corporations for loss or damage to property by fire proximately caused by the operation of locomotives engines on railroad in this State by making railroad corporations responsible for all such loss and damage irrespective of the existence or non-existence of negligence on their part in cases where such fires arise within one hundred feet of the railroads or rights of way owned or operated by such corporations outside of the territorial limits of cities and boroughs

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, I would like to explain what forest fire bill this is. Some are of the opinion that this is the same forest fire bill that I introduced in the session of 1913, and also introduced at the beginning of this session, but that is not true. The bill I introduced at the beginning of this session was the bill that shifted the burden of proof upon the railroad companies in case the fire originated upon the right of way of the railroad, and that was deemed prima facie evidence that they were responsible for the fire, and they had to disprove it. That bill in some way got before the Public Service Commission and also the Attorney General and they thought the bill was entirely too drastic in shifting the burden of proof upon the railroad companies. The Attorney General and others then drew this bill now before us and presented it to me, with the request I introduce it and substitute it for the bill I had. This I have done. This is a very simple bill, and only calls for damages in case the fire originates from a locomotive within one hundred feet of the right of way. But the burden of proof is upon the party who loses his property, not upon the railroad company, as my old bill called for. Now, this bill, has been gone over thoroughly by the Attorney General and I believe it ought to become a law. In section 2 of this bill, it allows the railroad company the privilege of insuring the property of any people that is liable to be damaged, they have the right to insure the property in order to insure themselves against this act. One-third of the area of the State at the present time is in forests. The Pittsburgh Flood Commission has made a report that in 1806 eighteen thousand square miles of forest timbers were along the Monongahela and Allegheny Rivers, of which the most of it was in the State of Pennsylvania, and that same commission also makes the report that up to date there are 7,700 square miles, or almost forty per cent. of what they had at that time.

Now if this act becomes a law, the railroad companies will protect us from forest fires such as we had in the past. As the act is at the present time, we have no way of proving it—no way of shifting the burden of proof upon them in any way, so that we can get any damages and I was informed by one of the employes connected with the Attorney General's department to-day that there is not one case in one hundred under the present act where it is possible to get any damages from the railroad company. I have had considerable experience in fighting forest fires, and I can state this fact from experience, that if the railroad companies would watch their forest fires for ten days or two weeks during the dry season with the proper number of men along them to protect them from fire there would be no danger. So if this act becomes a law, it gives two things for the railroad company to do; one thing is to insure against fire as section 2 calls for, or else watch for fires during a week or ten days during the dangerous time of the year. We had one report that showed that seven hundred thousand acres of timber lands were burned over in ten years, of which there were one hundred and fifty-eight thousand acres of timber land were burned over. Now it will not be long if we can keep the fires out of the forests before the re-growth will take the place of the virgin timber, and it does not take very many years to get as good a water-shed as the virgin timber. I do not mean to say that in every case the railroad companies are responsible for forest fires, but in nine out of ten they are. We have one of our commissioners on the Fish and Game Commission who has reported that he is satisfied that ninety per cent. of the forest fires are started by the railroad companies, and James H. Wilson, in his report in 1910, made the statement that the majority of the forest fires were started by the railroad companies. There is nothing unreasonable about this act. It is not like the old one, shifting the burden of proof. It states that in case the railroad company sets fire to any person's property within one hundred feet of the right of way, the owners have the right to go into court and try to get damages for that loss. I hope the Senate will pass the bill.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. W. W. SMITH. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume consideration of Senate Bill No. 793, at the top of page five of to-day's calendar, bill on final passage postponed for the present, entitled:

An Act providing for watchers male and female at elections where Constitutional amendments are submitted extending the right of suffrage and imposing duties on election officers and county commissioners and providing penalties

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.
Agreeably to order,
The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 793, entitled:

An Act providing for watchers male and female at elections where Constitutional amendments are submitted extending the right of suffrage and imposing duties on election officers and county commissioners and providing penalties

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I would like to call the attention of the Senate to this bill. It is the bill known as the "Women's Watchers Bill." The purpose of the bill is to allow the women about the polls during the election where their interests are being voted on. It seems to me that as long as they are going to have the suffrage question voted on that it is only fair to give them an opportunity to go there and watch the voting and give them the same rights that we have, I would like very much to see the bill pass.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, we are at the present time enacting statutes for the appointment of inspectors and watchers at elections. In the past this Commonwealth has voted on one hundred constitutional amendments, and in no one case were we suspected of conducting elections dishonestly or improperly. It seems to me that the passage of this act would be a confession or a suspicion on our part that the present electorate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will not conduct the election on this amendment honestly and above suspicion. I have confidence enough in the voters of this State that they will give this election the same honest, fair and conscientious conduct that they have all others in the past, and I am going to vote against this amendment.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, there is not any question about honesty or dishonesty connected with this bill. This simply gives the women the same right which the men have to look after their interests in and about the polls. The reason the women have not been there before is because they have never had their particular interest being voted on at any particular election. That is why they are asking for it now, and they never asked for it before.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I do not think there is any member of this Senate who questions the honesty of the voters of the State of Pennsylvania. This is simply extending the courtesy to the women of our State that has already been extended to them by the States of New York and New Jersey and I think we should be gallant enough to look with as much favor upon the women of our own State as those of New York and New Jersey.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. President, women are inexperienced in the manner of holding elections. Let them have the opportunity of learning how this is done.

SPECIAL ORDER FOR HOUSE BILL NO. 1038.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 1042 (House Bill No. 1038), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to provide for the modification of the plans of the new Western Penitentiary in Centre county so as to provide larger or additional buildings in order to accommodate the inmates of the Eastern Penitentiary as well as the Western Penitentiary for the consolidation of said institutions into one to be known as the State Penitentiary of Pennsylvania go over in its order. We have not had the details as to what additional expense will be incurred by the eastern part of Pennsylvania, including the City of Philadelphia. I think it is only a courtesy which should be extended to the City of Philadelphia until we have an opportuntiy to examine the details of this bill and furnish the information on Monday night., and we want to stop. look and listen before we get into this proposition.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I have no objection to this if the Senator from Philadelphia will agree that this bill shall not be called up between now and next Monday night.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I will agree to the suggestion of the Senator. Let it go over from day to day, and I will agree that there will be no attempt to call this bill up until Monday night.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President; cannot we arrange for a special order for Monday night?

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Thompson, desire to make that as a motion?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I would suggest that if the Senator makes it Tuesday at eleven or twelve noon, I will agree to that because Monday night is a busy night.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, everybody is here on Monday night. Tuesday there are some absent. A good many have gone now. and I do not know of any reason why the Senator should not comply with his own request that it come up on Monday night.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move that Monday night at eleven o'clock be the time fixed for a special order for the consideration of this bill.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

(For report see Appendix.)

REPORT OF COMMISSION TO MAKE EXAMINATION OF CANAL FORMERLY OWNED BY THE SUSQUEHANNA CANAL COMPANY.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 10, 1915.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor herewith to transmit a self-explanatory report of the Commission appointed to make an examination of the canal, formerly owned by the Susquehanna Canal Company, along the west bank of the Susquehanna River between Wrightsville, Pa., and the Maryland state line, (Act of July 25, A. D. 1913).

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

BILLS SIGNED.

THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. Charles H. Kline) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 610, entitled:

Senate Bill No. 749, entitled:

An Act to permit a married woman whose husband has lived separate and apart from her for one year or more and who during that time has not been supported by her husband to become a feme sole trader

Senate Bill No. 428, entitled:

An Act to create in Pennsylvania what shall be known as "Bird Day" and requiring all teachers in our public schools upon that day to make a special effort in teaching the value of the lifework of birds to our people

Senate Bill No. 477, entitled:

A supplement to an act approved the eighteenth day of April one thousand eight hundred fiifty-three entitled "An Act relating to the sale and conveyance of real estate"

Whereupon,

THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. Charles H. Kline) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 516.

Mr. P. W. SNYDER. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 516 (House Bill No. 544), on page 6 of yesterday's calendar, entitled:

An Act authorizing the adoption of an amortized basis for valuing the bond investments of life insurance companies or fraternal beneficiary societies was defeated on final passage.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. P. W. SNYDER. Mr. President, I voted no.

Mr. W. W. SMITH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. W. W. SMITH. Mr. President, I voted no.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I would say that this bill is in line with the policy in the other states which have large insurance companies, like in Connecticut and in New York. It is a bill recommended by the department and is very necessary to complete the insurance laws of the State.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I will just add to what the Senator from Delaware has said, that the object of the bill is this; I have gone through a case recently with the Insurance Department and if you buy a bond to-day at 90, say, and the bond matures in ten years from now, it simply means that in a year from the day you purchase it it shall be worth 91 in five years 95, and on up until it gets to 100, at which the bond matures at that length of time, and as Senator Sproul has said, it is a great handicap to many departments, and to many corporations in the State and to the insurance department because they are not rated here as they are in all of the surrounding states and this is to bring us up to a level with the other states.

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. President, I would like to add to what the Senator from Beaver has said that if you buy a bond of a thousand dollars at eleven hundred you have to take off every year until it comes down to par.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—26.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with.

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1039 (House Bill No. 1299), as follows:

An Act regulating the business of loaning money in sums of three hundred ($300) dollars or less either with or without security to individuals pressed by lack of funds to meet immediate necessities fixing the rates of interest and charges therefor requiring the licensing of lenders and prescribing penalties for the violation of this act

Whereas There is at present conducted in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania an extensive business in the making of small loans of three hundred dollars and less to persons in need of funds to meet immediate necessities and

Whereas The conduct of such business has become a cause of general complaint and much protest by reason of the fact that those engaged therein have extorted from the borrowers in interest and charges amounts running in many instances to one hundred per centum and even two or three hundred per centum or more and borrowers are often compelled to repay many times over the amount borrowed with legal interest thereon frequently through ignorance and intimidation and there is no regulation or provision of law for the protection of such borrowers or for the punishment of such money lenders and

Whereas It is recognized that such business however unfortunate does and will exist and there is therefore a real need for the establishment of such provision as will enable its continuance under proper regulation and supervision of law and

Whereas It appears that in the conduct of such business greater risk is incurred than is ordinarily incident to lending money by banks pawnbrokers and other money lenders where marketable security is given and greater labor and expense is required in examining into the character and circumstances of the borrower and in the collection of the money loaned therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is nereby enacted by the authority of the same That on and after passage of this act it shall be lawful for any person persons partnership association or corporation within this Commonwealth who shall comply with the requirements of this act to loan money in sums of three hundred ($300) dollars or less either with or without security to individuals pressed by lack of funds to meet immediate necessities and charge and collect for the loan thereof interest and fees as hereinafter provided under the following conditions

(a) Any person or persons firm corporation or association applying for the same under oath and in the form prescribed by the Banking Commissioner and paying the sum of fifty ($50) dollars may in the discretion of the Banking Commissioner except as hereinafter provided obtain a license for carrying on the said business The said license shall be issued by the Banking Commissioner and shall expire the first day of June next following the date of its issuance but no abatement of said charge shall be made if licenses are issued for less than one year Every such license shall be renewed annually on the first day of June in each year No license shall be granted to any corporation unless and until such corporation shall in writing and in due form to be first approved by and filed by the Banking Commissioner appoint an agent resident in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania upon whom all judicial and other process or legal notice directed to such corporation may be served and in the case of the death removal from the Commonwealth or any legal disability or disqualification of any such agent service of such process or notice may be made upon the Banking Commissioner The said commissioner shall have the power to reject any application for license if he is satisfied that the character and general fitness of the applicant or applicants is not such as to command the confidence of the community and to warrant the conclusion that the business will be honestly transacted in accordance with the intent and purpose of this act The said commissioner may revoke any license if the licensee shall violate any of the provisions of this act Whenever such license is revoked said commissioner shall not issue another to said licensee until the expiration of at least one year from the date of revocation of such license and not at all if such licensee shall have been convicted of a violation of this act under the provisions of section six (6) thereof In addition to said license fee said licensee shall pay for the examination by said Banking Commissioner as hereinafter provided Every such applicant shall execute and file a bond to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the penal sum of five thousand ($5,000) dollars with the Banking Commissioner to be approved by him for the faithful observance of all laws relating to such business Said bond shall be executed by a surety company authorized by the laws of Pennsylvania to transact business within the Commonwealth and such bond shall be renewed and refiled annually not later than the first day of June in each year

(b) The license shall state fully the name or names of the persons or corporation and of every member of the firm or association authorized to do business thereunder and the location of the office or place of business in which the business is to be conducted and in the case of a corporation shall also state the date and place of its incorporation the names of its directors for the period for which the license is issued and the name and address of the agent as provided in section one (1) of this act Such license shall be kept posted in a conspicuous place in the office where the business is transacted No person persons firm corporation or association so licensed shall transact or solicit business under any other name or at any other office or place of business than that named in the license Not more than one office or place of business shall be maintained under the same license and no loans or advancements shall be made at any other place than that designated in the license But in case of a removal the Banking Commissioner may on application indorse thereon a transfer to the new place of business with the date of transfer and from the time of such endorsement the new place so designated shall be deemed the place designated in the license

(c) The Banking Commissioner shall either personally or by such person or persons as he may appoint for the purpose at least once a year and oftener if he deems it advisable investigate the business and affairs of every such licensee and for that purpose shall have free access to the vaults books and papers thereof and other sources of information with regard to the business of such licensee and shall ascertain the condition of the business and whether it has been transacted in accordance with law Said commissioner and every examiner appointed by him shall have authority to examine under oath or affirmation any person whose testimony relative to the business of any such license may be required on any such examination The cost of every such examination shall be paid by the licensee so examined and said commissioner may maintain an action for the recovery of such costs in any court of competent jurisdiction

Section 2 Any person persons co-partnership association or corporation who shall obtain a license in accordance with the provisions of section one of this act shall be entitled to loan money in sums of three hundred ($300) dollars or less either with or without security to individuals pressed by lack of funds to meet immediate necessities at his their or its place of business for which said license is issued and to charge the borrowers thereof for its use or loan interest as follows upon loans not exceeding one hundred ($100) dollars in amount not more than (3) per centum per month upon loans exceeding one hundred ($100) dollars in amount and not exceeding three hundred ($300) dollars not more than two (2) per centum per month and in addition in any case in which the loan is made for a period of not less than four (4) months on sums not exceeding fifty ($50) dollars in amount an examination fee of not more than one ($1) dollar on sums exceeding fifty ($50) dollars an examination fee of not more than two ($2) dollars may be charged for examining the security offered or the credit and responsibility of the borrower No charge of any kind in addition to interest shall be made on a loan of less than fifteen ($15) dollars No charge in addition to the said interest and examination fee shall be exacted charged or collected

It shall not be lawful for said lender to divide or split up applications for loans under any pretext whatsoever so as to require or exact any other or greater charges than prescribed herein or to make any charges for renewals or extensions or for any transfers or changes of any loan or loans within four months of the date of the original loan Said licensee shall be entitled to charge for each renewal extension or transfer of any loan made after the expiration of four months from date of said loan a new examination fee as hereinbefore specified providing said renewal extension or transfer shall be for a period of not less than four months from date of making said renewal extension or transfer Interest shall not be payable in advance and shall be chargeable only upon unpaid balances The examination fee herein provided may be payable at the time of the making of the loan A licensee shall not be entitled to any examination fee or any charge whatsoever unless a loan is actually made If interest or charges in excess of those hereinbefore prescribed shall be received by any licensee the said licensee shall thereupon lose all his right to collect or receive the interest and charges allowed under this act and shall be entitled to recover from the borrower only the amount actually loaned together with interest at the rate of six per centum per annum upon unpaid balances less any and all amounts already paid by the borrower on account of said loan either as principal or interest Any person borrowing money from any licensee under this act who shall be charged and pay any charges or interest in excess of those prescribed and allowed by the provisions of this act shall be entitled to recover back from the lender by action at law begun at any time within two years from the date of the last payment any and all sums of money so charged and paid in excess of the amount of the original loan together with interest at the rate of six per centum per annum upon unpaid balances up to the date of final payment of said loan and in addition fifty ($50) dollars as a penalty to be paid to the borrower

Section 3 A licensee making any loan under the terms of this act shall at the time of making such loans give to the borrower a receipt or card upon which shall be stated the date and amount actually loaned the amount of examination fee the amount and date of each payment thereon and the rate of interest charged On the back thereof or immediately attached thereto shall be printed in legible type in English a copy of section two (2) of this act

Section 4 Wherever payment is made on account of a loan to which the provisions of this act shall apply the person receiving such payment shall when payment is made give to the person paying a receipt setting forth the amount then paid the total amount previously paid and the amount remaining due identifying the instrument accompanying the loan to which the payment is to be applied

Section 5 A licensee under the provisions of this act shall not ask for accept or receive from any borrower or intending borrower any power of attorney or written instrument authorizing or purporting to authorize any person or persons either individually or acting as officer or agent for any person persons co-partnership association or corporation either within or outside of this Commonwealth to sign make or execute any note instrument or written promise to pay any sum or sums of money whatsoever Any note instrument or written promise to pay any sum of money made or executed by virtue or authority of any such power of attorney or written authorization shall be null and void and proof that the same was made in said manner shall be sufficient to prevent recovery being had upon the same in any court of this Commonwealth

Section 6 Every person persons co-partnership association or corporation or any partner director officer agent or member thereof who shall violate any provision of this act or shall direct or consent to such violation or who shall lend money in sums of three hundred ($300) dollars or less and charge or receive for the loan or use thereof intrest in excess of six per centum per annum without first having complied with the provisions of section one of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than five hundred ($500) dollars for the first offense and for each subsequent offense a like fine and to suffer imprisonment not to exceed six months or both in the discretion of the court

Section 7 This act shall not affect any existing laws special or general authorizing a charge for the loan of money in excess of interest at the legal rate and provided that this act shall not apply to any person persons partnership association or corporation operating under the laws relating to banks trust companies building associations or pawn brokers

Section 8 All acts or parts of acts insofar as they are inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

The House met at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Charles A. Ambler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain of the Senate, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our kind Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for this beautiful morning, and for all the blessings of nature, and for all the possibilities of our lives. Opportunities coming to us from day to day, many of them being accepted by us, carry with them a corresponding responsibility.

Help us, we pray Thee, to remember that whatsoever we sow that we must also reap. Help us to have a conscience at all times void of offense both toward God and man, and may we live to the best interests of the largest number of the people of this Commonwealth, so that there shall be brought about the greatest amount of good to them.

We ask Thy blessing upon this House, upon its Speaker and upon all its employes. We ask this in our Saviour's name. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on motion of Mr. Bauerle, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. KUHN. Mr. Speaker, I am at this time rising to protest at the order we are having in this House. It is absolutely impossible to ascertain what the Speaker is saying or to hear the vote, or anything that is occurring in this House, and I would like to ask if there is not some way in which we can maintain order. There are a number of bills and measures going through at this time. We are here representing eight millions of people and it seems to me that we should know what is going on.

The SPEAKER. The Sergeant-at-Arms will kindly keep order in the rear. The members will please keep order.

Mr. A. C. SCHAEFFER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, there are times in a man's life when he is compelled to do certain things, and this is one time of my life. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen, that I am compelled to say a few words in favor of this bill. This pertains only to the anthracite mine worker. Much has been said on the floor of this House concerning the poor farmer, and I think that we have taken good care of him as far as legislation is concerned. Now there is another man whom we have to take care of, and that man is the mine worker who goes down deep into the bowels of the earth to earn his daily bread; the man that bids good-gye to his dear ones five or six o'clock in the morning and leaves them hale and hearty, and who is brought home a few hours after, a corpse. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, place yourselves in those men's position, and see if they are asking too much. All they are asking for, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, is justice and a square deal.

The mine operator is pleading for time; he said he had not time to prepare himself for this matter. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I say he has had since 1895 to prepare himself for this matter. There is another matter I want to call the attention of the House to, and that is this—when the coal companies raise the price of coal, they do not ask you if you want six or eight months to prepare yourself for this raise in price; they raise the price and you have to pay it whether you like it or not. And in behalf of two hundred and twenty thousand mine workers, I appeal to you, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, to pass this bill.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, in 1891 the Legislature passed and the Governor approved an Act of Assembly providing for the health and safety of the persons employed in and about the anthracite coal mines of this Commonwealth. By Section 8 of Article 17, of this Act, the mine operator was made responsible in damages for the neglect of duty of the Mine Foreman and Assistant Mine Foremen. In 1895 the first case was tried under the Act, which case is known as the Durkin vs. the Kingston Coal Company, reported in 171 Pa. 193, and in this case, the Supreme Court declared that Section 8, of Article 17, of the mine act, was unconstitutional, and assigned three reasons for so holding, which are as follows:

First. The Mine Foreman was a fellow-servant with the men employed i nthe mine.

Second. Under the mine act of 1891, the mine operator was not free to select his foreman, he being compelled to select a man whom the State declared competent and who was required to possess a State certificate.

Third. The mine act took the operation of the works out of the operation of the mine operator and placed them in charge of this certified Mine Foreman.

Since the adjudication in Durkin vs. the Kingston Coal Company, mine employes have been without a remedy to collect damages for injuries received by them when the neglect charged was that of a certified Mine Foreman, while performing duties impososed upon him by law.

The death rate in the anthracite coal mines of this Commonwealth has been approximately from five to six hundred deaths yearly since 1891, and the number of non-fatal accidents gives an average of about twelve hundred per year since that time, and the victims and their dependents have been without any law giving them remedy to collect against the mine operator for these accidents.

In 1907, the law-making bodies of the State passed an Employer's Liability Law. This law provides that the neglect of fellow-servants shall not be a defense if the accident happened by reason of defects in the plant or works under the control of the operator of which defects he could have knowledge by the exercise of ordinary care. The act further provides that the foreman, or person in charge, shall be the agent of the owner for whose neglect the owner shall be responsible in damages. This act was interpreted by the Supreme Court, in 1911, in the case of D. Jorko vs. Berwind-White Coal Company, reported in 231 Pa. 164, wherein it was held that the Employer's Liability

Law of 1907 did not apply to the neglect of duty of certified Mine Foremen and if the Legislature intended that it should apply to the neglect of duty of a certified Mine Foreman, it would be unconstitutional.

From the above cases it can readily be seen that it will be impossible to pass a Liabiltiy Law in Pennsylvania, giving rights to mine employees for the neglect of duty of the certified Mine Foremen so long as the present mine acts remain as they now stand and the object of Senate Bill No. 160, is to modify the Mine Act of 1891 in such a way that operators of coal mines will have the right of free selection of their Mine Foremen and the Mine Foremen and all other mine employees will be under their supervision and control. When this is done a Liability Law can then be passed wherein the mine operator will be held responsible for the neglect of the person in charge of his mine in the same manner and to the same extent that the owners of other works in this State are responsible to their employees for the neglect of duty of the person in charge of their works.

There are four sections of the Mine Act of 1891 which need modification in order to remove the barriers which stand in the way of mine employees recovering against the mine operators for the neglect of duty of the Foreman in charge of a mine and these four sections are modified in Senate Bill No. 160. They are as follows:

Section One of Article 8. This section of the Mine Act, as it now exists, requires the Mine Operator to employ a certified Mine Foreman. Senate Bill No. 160 modifies this section to such an extent that the Mine Operator can employ a certified Mine Foreman or he can employ a person as his foreman who, in the judgment of the Mine Operator, is equally competent with persons holding State Certificates, thus giving him the right of free selection of his Mine Foreman.

Section 6 of Article 8 of the Mine Act is so modified by Senate Bill No. 160 that the word "certified" is stricken from the section, thus permitting the mine operator to employ as his foreman any person competent to fill the position.

Rule One of Article 12 of the Mine Act requires the mine operator to place the underground workings and all that is related to the same under the charge of a Mine Foreman. This section is so modified by Senate Bill No. 160 that the operator has supervision and control of the Mine Foreman and all other mine employes. This is required of the owners and operators of all other works in this State and should be required of the Mine Operator.

Section 8 of Article 17 of the Mine Act was declared unconstitutional in the case of Durkin vs. the Kingston Coal Company reported in 171 Pa. 193, and in declaring this section unconstitutional the court held that the Mine Foreman was the agent of the State. This section is so modified by Senate Bill No. 160 as to make the Mine Foreman and any other person placed in charge of the works the agents of the Mine operator in about the same language and to the same extent that the persons in charge of other works in this State are declared by the Act of 1907 to be the agents of the owners of such works.

These four amendments to Senate Bill No. 160 are, according to the best legal authority in Pennsylvania absolutely necessary in order to bring the miners under the Workmen's Compensation Act.

There are two other amendments to the Mine Law of 1891 sought to be corrected in Senate Bill No. 160; one is, that the word "miner" is defined. This is done in pursuance of a recent decision of the Dauphin county courts, wherein it was held that the Legislature should define the word "miner." The other amendment permits a representative of parties in interest to attend coroner's inquests where death takes place by reason of a mine accident which representative will have the right to examine witnesses and read the law governing the case to the coroner's jury. The purpose of this amendment is that parties in interest can appear at the proper place and have a fair investigation as to the cause of mine accidents with a view to preventing similar accidents from taking place.

We invite all the members of the present House of Representatives who are interested in fair play to take an active part in our behalf and lend their aid and influence in having Senate Bill No. 160 pass the House at the earliest possible date.

The coal operators are very anxious to amend this bill postponing the operation of the same until January 1, 1916. This act being an amending act, there is some question as to whether or not the postponement of it will be legal, and we earnestly request each member who will assist us in this fight to put forth his best efforts to see that the bill passes the House in its present form and that it will not be amended in such a way as to postpone the operation of the act until January 1, 1916.

This, to my mind, is one of the most important bills of this session and deserves the support of every member of this body.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1689, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section four of article two of the Constitution of Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill to explain its provisions.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, owing to the fact that there has been some sentiment, or some suggestion as to the possibility of a new constitutional convention being called, or a convention being called, to ratify or approve the present constitution, there have been some requests made along the lines of changing the time when the Assembly and Senate meet. This bill was handed to me to present to this House, and I would ask that each member carefully look it over and understand it before you vote on it. Not that I am personally or directly interested in it, but there seems to have come a time, especially in this last session of the Legislature when we have been held here for a certain length of time on account of the fact that the Chief Executive has not had time to prepare different measure which he wishes to submit to this House.

Now this resolution will have to go through two sessions of the Legislature and finally have to be voted on by the people in order to change the meeting of the House so that the Governor has time to arrange different measures that shall be put before it, and that they can be acted upon intelligently by the Legislature, and not consume so much time.

If the members of this House want more time to look this over, if you feel inclined to vote for it, I am satisfied that you place it on the postponed calendar until you have had time to look it over just at your own discretion

BILL POSTPONED.

I therefore move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar for the present.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1703, entitled:

An Act to amend an act entitled "A supplement to an act, entitled 'An Act to provide for the erection of a house of employment and support of the poor in the County of York,'" approved the first day of April, one thousand eight hundred and five; to enlarge the powers and duties of the Directors of the Poor and of the House of Employment for the County of York, and to authorize the said Directors of the Poor and of the House of Employment for the County of York to purchase lands and erect buildings thereon for the employment and support of the poor in the County of York, and to authorize the County Commissioners of the County of York to levy and collect taxes necessary to pay for the said lands so purchased by the Directors of the Poor and of the House of Employment for the County of York and the buildings erected thereon; to authorize the payment of the expenses of the Directors of the Poor and of the House of Employment for the County of York and the employment of an attorney by the said Directors of the poor

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, on account of the absence of the sponsor of the bill, and upon his request in case the bill came up before he returned here this morning, I move that further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. BROSIUS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Mr. HABGOOD. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Bill No. 1610 (Senate Bill No. 634), File Folio 2489 on the bottom of page 19 of to-day's calendar, Bills on Third Reading Postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1610 (Senate No. 634), entitled:

An Act giving to banks bankers and trust companies in case of insolvency of any depositor therein or of an assignment for the benefit of creditors by any such depositor or of the appointment of a receiver for the property of such depositor a lien on any balance to the credit of such depositor at the time of such insolvency assignment for the benefit of creditors or appointment of receiver to the extent of the liability of such depositor to such bank banker or trust company upon any promissory note bill of exchange letter of credit or other indebtedness in any form whether or not the same has then matured

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. HABGOOD. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1610 be recommitted to the Committee on Corporations for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. WHITTEN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1391, entitled:

An Act regulating corporations furnishing electricity for light heat or power purposes and imposing penalties

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Mr. BROWNLEE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Bill No. 1514, File Folio 8171, Bills on Third Reading Postponed for the Present, on page twenty-two of to-day's calendar.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1514, entitled:

An Act amending an act entitled "An Act supplementary to 'An Act for the taxation of dogs and the protection of sheep' approved the twenty-fifth day of May Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three requiring all dogs to wear a collar to be provided by the owner together with a tag to be attached thereto showing payment of tax said tag to be provided by the county commissioners imposing certain duties upon constables tax collectors and county commissioners and providing for the killing of dogs whose owners fail to comply with this act and the act to which this is a supplement and providing penalties for failure to comply with the provisions of this act" approved the fifteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred eleven as amended so that assessors of the several cities wards boroughs townships or other assessment districts of this Commonwealth shall collect an annual license fee for said dogs at the time of the annual assessment and issue a receipt and a tag therefor providing for the publication of the assessor's list of licensed dogs requiring that all unlicensed dogs be killed and fixing penalties for the violation of this act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BROWNLEE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen, this is a very important bill despite the fun we have had over it. The sheep industry of this Commonwealth is a very important industry. Between the censuses of 1900 and 1910 the sheep of this country decreased in the neighborhood of four million. I can remember when there were half a million sheep on the hills of my county. There are there today not more than forty thousand. There ought to be ten times that many. It is a very important industry to every man in these days of the high cost of living.

Now this bill does no injury to any honest interest. It does not affect the sportsmen nor the dog fancier, nor the humane society. It only affects the unclaimed, unowned dog. This bill is not a drastic one. It only changes the existing law in two or three slight ways. The old law was unenforcible. The assessor assessed the dogs; that is, he pretended to assess the dogs that he saw and then six or eight months afterwards when the tax collector went around to collect their tax there were no dogs there on which to collect the tax. This bill amends the law by having the assessor, when he makes the assessment, collect the tax, issue the tag and then publish the result of his assessment in the county papers; and the Commissioners then call upon the constables, the State Constabulary and the Human Society, if it desires to kill or put out of the way the dogs that have not been assessed or have not paid their tax.

Now gentlemen I hope you will pass this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Section 12 That section twenty-six of said act which reads as follows

"Section 26 All rents tolls rates charges and all other income received by the said board shall be in charge of the treasurer thereof who shall deposit the same monthly with the State Treasurer The moneys so paid to the said State Treasurer shall be kept by him in the same manner as other funds received by him for the use of the Commonwealth except that he shall keep the same in a separate fund The moneys in said fund shall be used for the purpose of paying the cost of maintenance operation and improvement of said canal or waterway and appurtenances including salaries and all other expenses of the board and of making distribution among the contributing counties as provided in section twenty-seven of this act and for these purposes the said moneys in said fund are hereby specifically appropriated and shall be paid out by the State Treasurer in the same manner as other expenditures herein provided for are paid by him without further act of appropriation" be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows

Section 26 All rents tolls rates charges and all other income received by the said board from all sources shall be in charge of the treasurer thereof who shall deposit the same monthly with the Treasurer of the Commonwealth The money so paid to the said Treasurer shall be kept by him in the same manner as other funds received by him for the use of the Commonwealth except that he shall keep the same in a separate fund The moneys in said fund shall be used for the purpose of paying the cost of maintenance operation and improvement of said canal or waterway and appurtenances including salaries and all other expenses and liabilities of every kind of the board and of making distribution among the contributing authorities as provided in sections one and twenty-seven of this act and for these purposes the said moneys in said fund are hereby specificaly appropriated and shall be paid out by the Treasurer of the Commonwealth in the same manner as other expenditures herein provided for are paid by him without further act of appropriation

Section 13 That section twenty-seven of said act which reads as follows

"Section 27 That out of the surplus of rents tolls rates charges and other income accruing from the operation of said canal or waterway or the sale of water or water-power remaining after the payment of the cost of operation maintenance and improvement as hereinbefore provided the State Treasurer shall from time to time set aside such sums as the board may recommend and deem consistent with the proper maintenance operation and management of the canal and its appurtenances and make pro rata distribution thereof among the contributing counties until the said contributing counties have been repaid the amount of their contributions principal and interest each county to receive such proportionate part as its contribution bears to the total sum contributed by the various counties in aid of the construction of said canal or waterway and appurtenances" be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows

Section 27 The surplus revenues which shall arise directly or indirectly from the operation of such canal or waterway (that is the gross income of such canal or waterway from all sources less the amounts necessary to provide for the maintenance operation and improvement thereof) shall be distributed from time to time by the Treasurer of the Commonwealth upon the written order of the Board to and among such of the public authorities specified in section one of this act as shall make contributions in money or in bonds in aid of such canal or waterway and to which surplus revenue receipts shall have been issued by the Treasurer of the Commonwealth under the provision of section thirteen of this act substantially pro rata according to the amount of their several contributions in money or in bonds at their par value but to such extent only as may be necessary to repay such contributors the amount of the several contributions made by them in money or in bonds at their par value with interest on such bonds

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MYERS. Mr. Speaker, in 1911, this Legislature passed an act enabling counties to appropriate moneys or issue bonds for the construction of a waterway connecting the Great Lakes or the Atlantic Ocean with the navigable streams of this Commonwealth. In 1913 this Legislature passed an act providing for the location maintenance and construction of a canal. In this act of 1913 there was also a provision providing for the appointment of a commission to do this work . Governor Tener appointed this commission and it has now been at work for almost a year and, as I understand it, will present their report about the first of June, which will be after this Legislature adjourns.

By reason of the work of this Commission, it has been found necessary to amend the act of 1913, in order to carry on its work in an orderly way. This act, Senate Bill No. 694, is an amendment to the act of 1913 and provides, among other things, that the canal shall be a depth of nine feet or more. The act of 1913 provides that it shall be a depth of twelve feet. It has been thought advisable by the commission to make this depth nine feet or more. That is one of the amendments contained in Senate Bill No. 694.

Another amendment is a provision for the Board to consist of seven members instead of five members, inasmuch as the States of Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia are interested in this project, it has been considered advisable that the Commission consist of seven members, three of whom shall be non-residents of this State. They will look after the States of Ohio and West Virginia.

The other amendments in Senate Bill No. 694 are of minor importance, and only technical, suggested by the engineer in charge of the work.

Senate Bill No. 695 is a companion bill to Bill 694. This bill briefly provides the manner in which the indebtedness shall be created by the counties in the canal zone. In other words, upon the petition of fire per cent. of the electors of the counties in the canal zone, presented to the quarter sessions court of that county, setting forth a date of election, the court shall order an election to be held in that county.

Now, gentlemen, it is up to the counties within this canal zone as to whether or not they want this canal. Five per cent of the qualified electors of the county can petition the quarter sessions court of that county as to whether or not an election shall be held. The court will then make the order authorizing the election and if a majority of the voters in that particular county are in favor of increasing the indebtedness of the county for the purpose of constructing this canal, the canal will be constructed,—that is, as far as that county is concerned. If the voters vote against it, the project is lost and the expense of the election is borne by the county which presents the petition to the court.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, with your permission and the indulgence of the members, I shall, as one who is affected by this canal proposition, to say a few words in connection with this measure.

Before taking up the subject or the discussion of this inter-national canal, which is presumed to connect the Atlantic with the Pacific and the Great Lakes with the Gulf, I want to say in connection with what my friend from Washington said, in regard to Ohio participating in this measure, that a similar bill to this bill was before the Legislature of Ohio last week and was killed in committee. I make that statement so that you will not be misled that the State of Ohio is taking part in connection with the building of this canal.

It has been stated by those favoring the building of this canal, that the Republican platform of 1914 was pledged to the building or constructing of this canal. I want to read you, gentlemen, from the original Republican platform, on file in this capitol, and see what it does say regarding this. It says: "We recognize that Western Pennsylvania is the rapidly growing iron manufacturing center of the world. Its prosperity and indirectly that of the State, will be greatly augmented by the Panama Canal, thus rendering imperative the earliest possible construction of the Lake Erie and Ohio River canal, making Pittsburgh a lake port, and creating the greatest trade route in the country between it and the seaport of Philadelphia, and joining Eastern Pennsylvania and Western Pennsylvania by water route with the commerce of the world. We declare in favor of such liberal appropriation and legislation, both State and National, as may be necessary therefor."

I read that for the purpose of contradicting the argument of the gentlemen who say we are bound by the Republican platform to shoulder this burden upon a few counties in Western Pennsylvania. We are bound by the plaform to appropriate by the State and by the Nation, appropriations for the buliding of this canal, but there is not one word in the Republican platform of 1914, or in the Republican platform of any other year, that says we are to place this burden of fifty or one hundred million dollars, on a few counties in western Pennsylvania. If the framers of this bill intended to be fair, why didn't they specify the counties that shall be affected by this.

Read the bill, if you please, and it says: "Certain counties in western Pennsylvania." What counties are they? Not one who is in favor of this bill has ever attempted to explain what counties are to be affected by it, and we take for granted that our county of Armstrong is one, and that is why I am here opposing the bill.

The Legislature, it is true, in 1913, appropriated one hundred and fifty thousand dollars for a survey of this canal. As far as we know from the reports that have been submitted, from the blue prints that have been laid before the people, there has never been a survey made, but they come in here and tell us that after this Legislature adjourns, and after we pass these obnoxious measures, then they will present to us a report and blue prints showing that the survey has been made. We have, in western Pennsylvania, as those who live in that section of the State know a natural water course to Lake Erie, by the Allegheny River route.

When the Flood subsided after Noah's Ark had landed the Creator of this Universe left there a natural water course for the natural transportation of natural resources that were located in those hills. We come within twenty miles of Lake Erie by a natural water course of the Allegheny River which, instead of being nine feet deep and twenty feet wide, has at some places a width of a half a mile and a depth of fifty feet. It does seem strange that after having received one hundred and fifty thousand dollars to make this survey that they should now come here and ask for thirty-five thousand dollars more for office rent. I repeat again, that as far at least as blue prints go, there has been a survey made and that is the only thing they have certified to. They say they have spent hundred and fifty thousand dollars and they are asking for thirty-five thousand dollars now as a deficiency fund to pay for office rent. If there was a survey made, and if this Commission did investigate which way they shall take to reach Lake Erie from Pittsburgh, why select the overland route for a canal? If they were going to construct a street railway or a railroad or a jitney bus line, then it would be all right, but when they are attempting to construct a waterway, why should they go overland one hundred and ten miles? Why should they go overland when they could reach that point within twenty miles, by a natural water course. I tell you, gentlemen, that the proposition is not feasible; it is not fair; it does not look good on the face of it in its entirety. I want to say to you that the only appeal they have comes from the Chamber of Commerce of the City of Pittsburgh. We have not found out who is asking for it. They say that these men originated the appeal for this canal between Lake Erie and the Ohio River; that it originated in the Chamber of Commerce of Pittsburgh. I would be ashamed to make that statement and say that it has originated in the Chamber of Commerce in the City of Pittsburgh. They stated that at their recent meeting they passed a resolution asking this House to pass this bill. The Chamber of Commerce consists of twelve hundred men of whom thirty-two are directors. At this meeting that passed this resolution that you received as members of this House ten men were present. Is that a representative number to represent a body of twelve hundred men? Do the wishes and desires or the expressions of ten men represent the wishes and desires of twelve hundred men I leave that with you for your consideration. They tell us that the freight rates will be reduced from seventy-nine cents a ton on ore and coal to—well, it varies from nine cents to forty-five cents a ton. I heard the statements made that it was from nine to forty-five cents a ton. If that be the case; if that be true, why don't the coal operators, the ore operators, the steel manufacturers and those great industries in Western Pennsylvania come into this House and say to us as members of this Legislature "Do this for us." What do they say? The Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, one of the greatest industries we have in the State of Pennsylvania, use more ore and transport it from the Great Lakes than any other industry, say to us that they are opposed to this measure. We also hear from Mr. Taylor, Chief Engineer of the Washington Coal and Coke Company, who says that they are opposed to this measure. We don't want to put the burden on the taxpayers of this county. We have had a number of the representatives of the great industries say to us "Don't do this; it is not fair to the taxpayers" and yet they come in here and tell us that there is a great demand for it. There has not been any explanation as to how they are going to have this ore transported when the Lake is frozen over or when the canal for five months in the year will not permit the transporting of ore. There are only eight months in the year in which it can be done. Is it practical to do that? I understand that this is intended for a nine-foot canal. Why, when you come to ore it would be necessary to float it down in a float boat and they call it a ship canal. A ship the size of the ill-fated Lusitania could not get within a hundred miles of such a waterway. I want to say to you gentlemen that it is not fair to the western counties of Pennsylvania. A few years ago we had a proposition before us in this State asking us to bond the State for fifty million dollars for good roads, which would have been a thousand times more benefit to the State than this canal and yet we voted it down. I don't believe it would pass in the counties of this State that are affected who will be asked to go into this matter—I don't believe that it is a good proposition if you are going to ask seven or eight counties to bond themselves from fifty to seventy-five or a hundred million dollars to build this canal when they would not bond the State for fifty million dollars for good roads. If it were something like the Philadelphia Port, that would give us access to the ocean that would be a different proposition, but this is so insignificant and so worthless and so valuless as a matter of industry and transportation and it is not a practical measure and why should we be burdened by it? Of course, they say let it come up to the people like the Full Crew agitation or Local Option or every other question. The cry then is "Leave it to the people" and we all use it. But do you know gentlemen that when you leave it to the people it involves expense. In Allegheny County it cost sixty thousand dollars to hold an election; in our county it is six thousand dollars, and suppose we have to spend that six thousand dollars every year, because that is what they want us to do in this bill. You never heard of any proposition like this, but there is a reason for this. But we are not going to say that they received an enormous salary or that they will raise their salaries one hundred and twenty-five per cent. if they could. We don't care for that; they may get any salary they want. We don't care what salary they get; that is not in this argument, although it should be, but this is a serious question. I say to you, gentlemen, that you ought to vote with western Pennsylvania counties on this proposition. Why? Because the western counties are affected seventy-five per cent. and that is putting it low. The members of those counties, representing their constituency, are opposed to this bill and that is the best evidence that it is not wanted by those counties. I am aware of the fact that certain pressure has been brought to bear on this House by members of the august body across the Hall. I say to you, gentlemen and members of this Legislature, you are too big men to have the rubber stamp put on you. You men who are attorneys, business men, ministers and all vocations and avocations of life, are you going to allow the members from the Senate do come over here and put the rubber stamp on you. I don't see why you should not have backbone with you this morning and vote according to your convictions and let the Senators on the other side do the same thing. I don't criticise you or I am not trying to tell you men what you should do, but I believe that you men have too much intelligence striking from your countenances to make me believe that you are going to be rubber stamp men. Boys, stand up this morning and vote as men with backbone in you, as men with brains in your head and not as men influenced by rubber stamps carried in men's pockets.

Mr. McVICAR in the Chair.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Milliron, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman from Armstrong to inform this House that in the State of Ohio that the Ship Canal Bill was killed in committee? I ask the gentleman from Armstrong to state to the members of this House from where does he get the authority to so state?

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, from reliable information.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, under reliable information. I can only say that, after listening attentively to the gentleman from Armstrong, I see pictured upon the wall the voice—the medium of newsppaer writing by an element of people who have at no time or positively who never will voice the sentiments or the requests of the common element that are a constituent part of this great Commonwealth. Everything that the gentleman from Armstrong stated I heard in conversation last evening. I heard the same thing and a most beautiful memorandum and tact of memory. the gentleman from Armstrong now bespeaks therewith. Let us for a moment stop and see from where and from what sources radite this so strongly fortified opposition to the ship canal bill. In the great western part of the State of Pennsylvania, our best press has almost unanimously put its stamp of approval on the ship canal bill, with the exception of possibly two newspapers that are now under the right and are the mouthpiece, the fluent current. of our beloved friend, the junior member of the United States Senate, whose family at one time, gentlemen of this House, stood before the common people of Pennsylvania and deliberately told them that ninety cents a day was a decent price for labor. I ask you, does this look like sufficient money to take care of a family? A corporation with millions who are always looking for a retrenchment of expenses and personal antagonism of men possibly as one of the bone and sinew of this great enterprise.

A man who has stood by the City of Pittsburgh and done more for it than any other man that has even sat in that executive chair as its Mayor. I am not here to eulogize any man, for a public office, but I am here to try to overshadow any question of doubt that may arise in the minds of the members of this Assembly that there may be an undermining current of extravance on the part of this Commission.

For a moment let me take you back to the City of Pittsburgh to an enterprise that cost ten millions of dollars for improvement. The removal of the hump, if any of you are familiar with our city, the elevation of our streets above the flat line, the improvement of West Carson street, the child's playground association, and during the construction and operation of this work of ten million dollars, not a finger, not an iota of suspicion can be raised among the taxpayers of that city that one cent was misappropriated from other than what was intended. The gentleman from Armstrong says possibly one hundred million dollars. I can assure you, my friends, that if the estimate propounded by the gentleman in question says fifty million dollars, you can almost rest assured that it is not going to cost much more than that, because the estimates they have had were forty-seven million dollars and there may be an added three million dollars for possible items, and then they are in grave doubt as to what might be had. The gentleman from Armstrong calls us "rubber stamp members." If there is one in this House that bears the sign of a "rubber stamp," the gentleman from Armstrong is the man. I want him to know and I want every man here to know that I am not an agent for any party or parties, but I am here as a citizen of this Commonwealth to ask for what I think is just, and I cannot see anything unjust in putting a proposition to the people who by their own initiative say whether they shall have the opportunity to vote and by that referendum vote they shall say whether they shall issue these bonds or whether they shall not. Has there during this session any more fair proposition been brought to your attention than this We are not asking you to build this ship canal; we are only asking you to give the people of these counties the right to say whether they shall issue these bonds or not In this State at the present time it will only affect two counties directly, or three, Allegheny. Lawrence and Beaver, and the canal, itself traverses only two counties in this State of the three in question—Lawrence County and Beaver County. Now, if the Federal Government authorities improve Allegheny river, then our friend from Armstrong will possibly be asked for his county to vote as it is now, the Allegheny river is practically an unnavigable stream; there are certain sections of it on which boats come down only particular times of the year. He had you members believe that this Commission is asking for thirty-five thousand dollars for its offices. Now, as a member of that Appropriation Committee, I know differently. We have passed the bill for two years for twenty-five thousand dollars. and not thirty-five thousand dollars.

For the benefit of the House and with your indulgence, I wish to read an article in to-day's paper in reference to the activity on the part of the State of Ohio, the Pittsburgh Dispatch: "Columbus, Ohio, May 10.—An agreement has been arrived at with respect to the Ohio-Pennsylvania Ship Canal Bill by Senator W. D. Tremper, of Portsmouth, which has been passed by both branches of the Ohio General Assembly and is now awaiting the action of Governor Frank B. Willis. The Governor is understood to be ready to disapprove the bill and to suggest the passage of an amended bill to take its place. The reason for the Executive disfavor, is that it provides that the tax levies necessary to pay interest and the sinking funds on the bonds proposed to be issued by the counties in furtherance of the canal project are outside of the limitations of the Smith one per cent. tax law."

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I permitted the gentleman from Armstrong to proceed with his argument, and I ask the gentleman to give me the same opportunity, and when I am through, he then may interrogate.

The SPEAKER. The gentlemen declines to be interrogated at this time.

Mr. STEEDLE. (Continuing quotation of newspaper article) "The Governor is heartily in favor of the preservation of the law and will not permit any plan to interfere with his pledge to the people. To-day former Republican State Chairman Harry M. Daugherty had a conference with Governor Willis on the matter. He was one of those with whom former Mayor W. A. Magee, of Pittsburgh, consulted on the occasion of his visit to Columbus on behalf of the bill. There is no doubt that an amended bill will be passed by the General Assembly."

Now, in West Virginia, this bill has passed both Houses and has been signed by the Governor. Now the act in itself only provides an opportunity to the people. We all agree that the bill itself is not of a specific character. This is for the reason that the bill must be flexible because it is not of the bonding type that is commonly affected by counties in issuing bonds. Now this is a bill that affects practically two states and the way it would be. is if one of the respective counties that could be possibly be affected would have the Grand Judy vote it down or disapproved by the county commissioners or possibly by a judge it would defer from time to time the construction of this canal, and the sooner we get it the better it will be. The proposition as I said is opposed by the people who are only prone to act for their own selfish interest. The corporations, especially the railroads, of course, do not want competition in the Pittsburgh waterways, because if they had to compete with the ship canal, instead of paying ninety cents a ton for raw material brought from the lakes they would have to compete with a price anywhere from thirty to fifty cents. They do not want any competition. They do not want you to do anything that will affect them. That has been proven here to you by the repeal of the full crew bill, and the gentleman from Berks at that time said what are they next going to ask for. I am only waiting the time when they will ask you for something more. Now here we are, they are asking you not to favor these measures because they say their finances are going to pieces. Now there is nothing unjust in this bill. If two other states see fit to place this before the people of their Commonwealths why cannot we? It is only a common factor. Two years ago they all howled "we want the initiative, referendum and recall" now here is an opportunity to grant the people two parts of that. If they do not want it they can reject it. If it is favorable they accept it, there is nothing unjust or nothing unfair in it. Just a word in closing, I want to say that the Legislative body is only part of the people. You get your authority from them. This is simply granting them the right to exercise their own judgment whether they want this built or whether they don't. Therefore, my friends and members of the House, I ask you to give this bill favorable consideration and vote aye.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny what the result will be if any one of these counties votes against bonding the county.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, then the bill falls.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, now isn't it a fact that the agruments of the gentlemen in favor of this proposition are that then they will go and ask the State to appropriate that amount of money?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, no. The gentleman is asking me a question, and if I may be permitted to explain the question, it is a subterfuge argument promulgated by the people who are opposing this measure and it is of an unfair type, and I want to say to the gentleman from Armstrong, that I answer his questions specifically and say no.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman, in his argument, spoke of the referendum and the recall as being the greatest motive before the American people. Does that apply to the liquor question the same as to the canal proposition?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman from Armstrong how he voted on the liquor question?

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I voted "no" and I am talking "no" now.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I did likewise.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that the State at large is interested in this proposition. By reason of the character of the argument made by the accomplished chairman of this Commission before the Committee on Judiciary General, the members of that committee will recollect that Mr. Magee stated positively and unequivocally that in case a county fell down, a small part of a county feel down that application would be made to this body to appropriate the money necessary to complete this canal. Now, Mr. Speaker, the canal question is not a new one in Pennsylvania. We had that question before us about 1817 and continuing until 1840. And during that period the State appropriations for canals were an enormous amount, in fact the debt of Pennsylvania that was discharged only a few years ago was created almost entirely for the purpose of constructing canals. It was then promised, as it is now, by the promoters of the proposition, that it would be very probable. It was said that nobody will ever be—no county will ever be called upon to pay a cent of this money. Well, it seems rather inconsistent for the same gentlemen to state first that this proposition was submitted to private bankers; that there was an attempt made to finance it as a proposition that would make money; and then say that these counties would never be called upon to pay a cent of interest or principle. That was stated before the Judiciary General Committee at the public hearings on this bill. Nevertheless the New York bankers, who it was said had been consulted with reference to the formation of this bill, were allowed to put a provision into it that the bonds might be sold at ninety-five. That has been eliminated by amendment. Nevertheless those bankers turned it down. They were not willing to buy bonds based upon the credit of the proposition. They were not willing to pay out their money as an investment; but thought that the rich counties of Western Pennsylvania back it if they are perfectly willing to do so.

It would seem, after all, gentlemen of the House, that the proposition is this: It was stated, not only once, but twice or thrice, that if any county fell down why, application would be made to the State to take up that county's share. Now if that is to be, if the State is to put money into it, let it be a State canal and let us pass a bill, if we must have it, and commit ourselves to the program of public works and appropriate the money from the State and put it under the control of the State. Do not create a Board of Canal Commissioners such as existed from 1825 to 1859 that caused a scandal, that was a stench in the nostrils of all decent people. This matter of the public works in Pennsylvania has been a matter of investigation by political economists in recent years and the things that happened under the Canal Commission make us think that the good old times were hot-beds of corruption rather than anything else.

Now, I submit, gentlemen of the House, that this is a vicious bill in many of its provisions. The Commission has power to agree with any land owned affected by this with respect to his damage. The land owner has the right of appeal but the Commission need not take any. There is no auditing authority constituted by this bill or the bill to which it is a supplement. The whole thing is vicious on the broadest kind of ground. I live in a county in the southern tier that will not be affected oneway or the other; but I do not want to see the State committed, even by implication, to a programme that will be calling for money, money all the while, to the detriment of our charities, to the detriment of our schools and to the detriment of our public roads. The time to stop this thing is now and I hope that the vote of this House against this bill will be so emphatic that we will never hear anything more of it.

Mr. HABGOOD. Mr. Speaker, there are a great many points that have been covered in this argument which I have no interest in whatever. It does not appeal to me as a personal question whatever; but it does appeal to me as a business question from the standpoint of Pennsylvania as a State and from the standpoint of Western Pennsylvania, from which I come. I do not know but what, as the gentleman from Armstrong says, this may be made to include my county, as he seems to think it can be put around on any county. If it does, I am prepared to say, without any question, that in my judgment the people of my county would vote upon it as they thought best and if they favored it by a majority they would be glad to have the bonds accordingly. But there is one point which I wish to call to the attention of the members of the House which has not been mentioned and that is this: The City of Philadelphia and County of Philadelphia is very anxious and desires us to assist them in every way possible to improve their docks and to improve their water facilities in the harbor of Philadelphia; and the State of Pennsylvania in the last session and in this session, is willing to do it. As a member of the House I think it is to the interest of the whole State to do it and should vote for an appropriation by the State itself as originally asked of one million dollars and now reduced to one fourth that amount for economic reasons of revenue only, as I understand it. Now, gentlemen of the House, it seems to me that when we are prepared and willing to vote for a direct State appropriation for improving the harbor facilities and dock facilities of the City of Philadelphia from the State'e money, when we are also willing to vote to allow the County or City of Philadelphia to bond itself for sixty million dollars, some of which would be used for that purpose as I understand it, that it is only fair, from a business proposition that we should consider the improvements and benefits for greater water-way facilities along commercial and business lines for the western end of our State; and if a canal coming down through the western part of our State is a parallel line with the proposed improvement of the dock facilities and harbor facilities in Philadelphia, then it seems to me that from the Western part of the State we should be loyal to that end and the whole State through the interest of that end and that you in the Eastern part of the State should be loyal with us for our water facilities the same as you ask us to be for you for your water facilities; for, after all, it is a question of the whole State. Any thing else would be inconsistent and I hope the gentlemen will consider it in that sense, leaving out all personalities and vote for the bill.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Habgood.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HABGOOD. Certainly. Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I would like the gentleman from McKean to state to the members of this House how far and over what water a boat could pass in going from the dock at Philadelphia to New Castle, Lawrence county?

Mr. HABGOOD. Mr. Speaker, I used to be able to qualify in geography, but I cannot do it on that question, but if that question refers to this argument I will say that the boats from Philadelphia will go out over the ocean and reach their destination if not torpedoed. The boats from the western part of the State will go through the Allegheny and Ohio rivers and Great Lakes and ultimately reach their destination, going out in the ocean through the gulf, if the water-ways are properly adequate.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I want to say that if the canal is as full of holes as the argument produced by the gentleman from McKean on this canal benefitting the port of Philadelphia it will fall on dry land.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, in so far as this question which is now before the House for its consideration is concerned, I rise to say a few words in behalf of these measures, not as one representing a district which to my mind will be benefitted by the passage of these bills, but rather from the broad-gauge standpoint as to whether or not the passage of these bills would benefit any considerable portion of this Commonwealth. Now I am convinced that if the proper legislation is passed and the effort made along the lines proposed by these bills that there would ultimately come to a large portion of our citizens some material benefit. I do not altogether agree with my friend, the gentleman from Armstrong, in so far as his remarks apply to the platform of various parties on this question. In 1912 the Republican Party platform contained a pledge advocating a complete survey of a canal between the Ohio River and Lake Erie and favored legislation providing for joint action on the part of the States of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia in the planning, construction and operation of this great project. The same plank which was contanied in the platform of the Republican party was contained in the platform of the Washington Party and likewise in the Democratic Platform. The Legislature of 1913 kept that pledge which was made to the people of this Commonwealth by the enactment of the very bills which are now up for amendment through these bills under consideration at this time. In 1914 the gentleman from Armstrong says that the Republican Platform, if I understood him correctly, did not pledge itself to legislation along these lines. I accept the exact language which was used by him in the argument and which was taken from the Republican Platform, but take exception to his construction of it. That platform states: "We declare in favor of such liberal appropriations and legislation, both State and National as may be necessary therefor and as incident thereto for the improvement of the Ohio, Allegheny and Monongahela rivers and their tributaries." That, to my mind, sir, is a pledge in so far as the Republican Party is concerned to such legislation as would be proper under the existing circumstances. It does pledge itself to an appropriation and in addition it pledges itself to legislation, and that is exactly what we are considering here to-day, a plan of legislation to put into effect these plans which are being promulgated for the great benefit of western Pennsylvania.

Now there seems to be but one objection, as I gather from the arguments of the gentleman who spoke against these bills, and that is this: That the cost of this project should not be saddled upon a few counties. Now, Mr. Speaker, if we are dealing with a proposition, the enactment of that proposition into law which is material, giving a benefit, as I am convinced it will benefit certain counties in this Commonwealth, why, in the name of fairness, is it not proper in the first instance to put that proposition up to these particular counties? That is done by the submission of this question, under this legislation, to the people of those counties; and if the people of those counties do not see fit to support it by their vote when the question comes before them, then it would be time for this legislature to meet the question of an appropriation by the State itself to carry on this project. Let us meet one question at a time and if the people of these various counties are not in favor of this legislation and vote it down, then it will be ample time for this Legislature to consider the question as to whether or not the State should make an appropriation to carry out this project.

I am advised that my friend from Westmoreland is mistaken in the statement which he has made concerning the action of the other three States upon this question. I am advised—and I get my information from just as reliable a source as the gentleman from Westmoreland got his— that these similar bills have already passed the West Virginia Legislature and similar bills passed the Ohio Legislature but last week were recalled for amendment in some immaterial manner and I am informed that that legislation is favored there; and therefore I think, in fairness to the vast project which will confer such great benefit upon such a large portion of this State that we should support this project and leave it up to the people of these particular counties to say whether or not they desire this legislation.

Mr. MYERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Milliron.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MILLIRON. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MYERS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Armstrong made the statement that the Jones-Laughlin Steel Company were against this project. I wish to ask the gentleman from Westmoreland whether he knows of his own personal knowledge that the Jones-Laughlin Steel Company are against this project.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I have it from a reliable source, but if the gentleman from Washington county will say that that is not the case, I will believe him.

Mr. MYERS. Mr. Speaker, I have personal knowledge that the Jones and Laughlin Steel Company is not against this project. Further Mr. Speaker, I have personal knowledge that the Washington Coal and Coke Company is not against this project. Now, Mr. Speaker, the Jones and Laughlin Steel Company, which controls the Vesta Coal Company, is the largest producer of coal in Washington county. Further, the Jones and Laughlin Steel Company, which is also the owner of the Vesta Coal Company, has the largest bituminous mine in the United States, in Washington county.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I have reliable information that they are not against this project. Further, I have reliable information that they are for it. I also have reliable information that the Pittsburg Coal Company, the largest bituminous mining company in the world, is also for this project. They are the largest owners of surface, the largest owners of coal of any corporation, or any individual, in Washington county, and they are the largest individual tax-payers, and the largest corporation tax-payer in both Washington county and several other counties in the western part of this State.

Now, gentlemen, those organizations are for this project. If the project goes through in the counties, on a petition of the voters of the counties, or the electors of the counties, they will be the organizations and the individuals most affected. Now, the statement which the gentleman from Armstrong has made as to these organizations being against this project, is not correct, and I know it and can prove it.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, as I said in reply to the gentleman's question, I have just that much confidence in the gentleman from Washington county, that if he says they are not against it, and knows from his personal knowledge they are not, it does not need any proof for me. I just want to call the attention of the House to one more fact in connection with the caanl. In 1840 a canal was built from Rochester to Erie—Beaver, or possibly a half a mile or a mile from where this canal is to start,—practically over the same route,—in 1840. In 1871 it was abandoned as impracticable. Now, do you think it is right to build another canal there in 1915 and abadon it in 1950, because from the supply of ore from the ore beds along the Great Lakes, at the rate they are mining it now, in thirty years there will not be a pound of ore left there, and what use will the canal be then? I say, gentleman, that this is not a practical proposition, to build this canal where one has already been built and abandoned.

If it is such a good proposition for Jones and Laughlin, and the Pittsburgh Coal Company think it is such a good proposition from a financial and saving standpoint, why don't they take hold of it? If it reduces their rate from 79 cents a ton, to 9 cents a ton, where could they invest to greater advantage than to finance this matter themselves? They cannot do it. The proposition has been tried in this country and abroad. I want to say to you that the only way it will ever be financed is by wishing it upon the innocent tax-payers of those counties in western Pennsylvania.

I want to say further that we have had up before this House recently measures for the raising of revenue. It is not the hospitals or the insane asylums, or the schools, or the roads, that are sucking the sap out of the revenues of this State, but it is the commissions that are appointed in this State. According to the provisions of the platform of 1912, which my friend from Philadelphia read to you, pledging an appropriation for the complete survey of the canal, one hundred and fifty thousand dollars was appropriated. The Republican platform was carried out by the members of that Legislature, it was signed by the Governor of the State and up until the present moment, as far as the public knows, from reports or blueprints, there has never been a survey made, and I say to you, when you give one hundred and fifty thousand dollars to this commission, and one hundred and fifty thousand dollars to that commission, it is no wonder we want to tax automobiles. It is a wonder we do not want to place a tax on the children in our homes, of a dollar or two a head, to take care of the vicious and obnoxious commissions appointed with large appropriations.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

The SPEAKER. The next special order for 11:00 o'clock is House Bill No. 1454, Senate Bill No. 695, on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1454 (Senate Bill No. 695), as follows:

An Act authorizing counties to increase their indebtedness and issue bonds in aid of the construction by the State of Pennsylvania or by a Commission Board or other agency thereof of canals or navigable waterways connecting the Great Lakes or the Atlantic Ocean with any navigable waters of this State Providing that county commissioners shall submit the question of issuing such bonds to a vote of the electors of any county when directed so to do by order of the court of quarter sessions made upon petition filed by qualified electors and taxpayers and requiring county commissioners to issue such bonds if a majority of the electors voting on the question vote in favor of such issuance providing for the manner of delivery and sale of such bonds and for the procedure in other respects and repealing inconsistent legislation.

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever the State of Pennsylvania or a commission board or other agency thereof incorporated or otherwise shall be authorized by any present or future law or laws of this State to construct maintain and operate a canal or navigable waterway to connect the Great Lakes or the Atlantic Ocean with any navigable waters of this State by a route situate within or partly within and partly without this State and with termini as in said law or laws generally indicated which law or laws shall provide for such construction by such voluntary contributions or appropriations in money or bonds at their par value as heretofore shall have been made or as hereafter may be made pursuant to the authority of any present or future laws by the United States any of the several states of the United States and various counties cities towns municipal corporations or other political subdivisions of such states or by some or all of the said United States states and other public authorities for the collection of tolls and charges for the use of such canal or waterway and appurtenances but only to such extent as may be necessary to provide for the cost of the maintenance operation and improvement thereof and to repay contributions made in money or in bonds at their par value and the interest on such bonds and for the distribution of any surplus revenues or such canal or waterway and appurtenances among such contributors to the cost of construction substantially pro rata according to the amount of their several contributions in money or in bonds at their par value to such extent as may be necessary to repay said contributors the amount of their several contributions made in money or in bonds at their par value with interest on such bonds thereupon it shall be lawful for any county in this State to issue bonds in aid of the construction of such canal or waterway and appurtenances as hereinafter provided

Section 2 At any time after the legislature of this State shall have enacted a law or laws as contemplated by the first section hereof a petition may be presented to the Court of Quarter Sessions of any county signed by qualified electors of the county equal in number to at least five per centum of the largest vote cast in the county for any candidate at the last preceding municipal election at which county officers were elected and verified by the affidavits of at least five of such petitioners stating that in the judgment of such petitioners such county by reason of its location or commercial or industrial interests will be benefited by the construction of the canal or waterway authorized by such law or laws and that it is desirable that bonds of the county should be issued in aid thereof and praying said court to order an election to be held at a date stated in said petition upon the question of increasing the indebtedness of the county to be represented by its bonds to be issued in aid of such canal or waterway in such aggregate principal amount as may be stated in said petition

If said petition shall appear to said Court of Quarter Sessions to be in proper form it shall file the same fix a date for a hearing thereon not more than thirty days thereafter and direct such notice of the hearing be given to the county commissioners of said county and to the public generally by advertisement in a newspaper circulating in the county or by posting as to said court may seem proper

Any person interested including the county commissioners may file exceptions to said petition prior to the day fixed for the hearing and at such hearing any person in interest may be heard and the court may hear evidence and call witnesses but shall not be required to inquire into the matters set forth upon the judgment of the petitioners as to the benefit to the county resulting from the construction of said canal or waterway and the desirability of the issue of bonds as set forth which matters shall be deemed to depend upon the result of the election prayed for If the court shall find that such petition conforms to the requirements of this act it shall by order direct the county commissioners to call an election to be held in said county on the day specified in said petition for the purpose of taking a vote of the electors upon the question of the increase of indebtedness and issuance of bonds of the aggregate principal amount set forth in the petition

Such election shall be called held and conducted in the manner provided by section three of an act of the Legislature of Pennsylvania entitled "An Act to regulate the manner of increasing the indebtedness of municipalities to provide for the redemption of the same and to impose penalties for the illegal increase thereof" approved April twentieth eighteen hundred seventy-four (Pamphlet Laws sixty-five) and the acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto except that the county commissioners shall not be required to signify their desire to make the increase of indebtedness in question or to fix the late of the election which latter shall be determined by the petition All expense incident to the calling and holding of such election shall be paid by the county

If by the returns of such election it shall appear that the majority of the electors voting on the question of the increase of indebtedness and issuance of bonds shall have voted in favor of such increase and issuance of bonds the county commissioners shall issue bonds of the county as hereinafter provided If at any such election a majority of the votes cast for and against such increase and bonds shall not be in favor of such question then no further election upon such question shall be held during the year following The power hereby conferred shall not be deemed to be exhausted by a single submission to a vote and a favorable vote thereat

Section 3 Whenever any officer of the State of Pennsylvania or any commission board or other agency thereof or any officer of such commission board or other agency thereunto duly authorized by any present or future law of the State of Pennsylvania shall certify to the county commissioners of any county which shall have voted as aforesaid to issue bonds to aid in the construction of said canal or waterway that contributions or appropriations in money or bonds at their par value have been authorized as contemplated in the first section of this act at least equal in amount to the estimated cost of such canal or waterway and appurtenances the county commissioners shall by resolution provide for the issuance and execution by the commissioners clerk of the commissioners and treasurer or controller of the county under the seal of the county of the amount of bonds authorized by the electors as aforesaid and said officials shall thereupon execute said bonds and the treasurer or controller shall deliver such bonds so executed to the Treasurer of the State of Pennsylvania The said bonds shall bear such date and run for such term not exceeding thirty years from their date bear such rate of interest not exceeding six per centum per annum payable annually or semi-annually and be in such form either coupon or registered or coupon and registered combined of such denomination and payable as to both principal and interest at such place or places as the county commissioners by resolution may provide and shall contain a recital that they are issued pursuant to the authority of this act and such recital shall be conclusive evidence of their validity and of the regularity of their issue The resolution authorizing and directing the execution and delivery of said bonds shall provide for the collection of an annual tax on the taxable property of the county sufficient to pay the interest and also the principal thereof within thirty years which may be assessed levied and collected without regard to any limitation or restriction contained in any other law or laws upon the amount of taxes which may be assessed levied and collected Said bonds may be sold from time to time at public or private sale for the best price obtainable but for not less than par and accrued interest in such manner as may be provided by any present of future law of the State of Pennsylvania and the proceeds thereof shall be applied to the cost and expenses involved in the construction of such canal or waterway and appurtenances but no purchaser of said bonds shall be liable to see to the application of such proceeds Before any of said bonds shall be sold all matured coupons if any thereunto belonging shall be detached therefrom and cancelled and delivered to the county commissioners of the county issuing the same

In the authorization and issuance of any such bonds county commissioners and other authorities shall comply with the requirements of "An Act to regulate the manner of increasing the indebtedness of municipalities to provide for the redemption of the same and to impose penalties for the illegal increase thereof" approved April twentieth one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four (Pamphlet Laws sixty-five) and the acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions of this act

Section 4 Nothing herein contained shall authorize or require the county commissioners of any county to submit to the electors the question of increasing the indebtedness of said county or authorize or require said county commissioners to issue bonds in such amount that the indebtedness of such county will exceed seven per centum upon the assessed valuation of the taxable property therein as limited by Article nine section eight of the Constitution nor shall the total amount of bonds issued by any county under the provisions of this act and outstanding at any time exceed two per centum of the last assessed valuation of the taxable property of such county

Section 5 An Act entitled "An Act to enable counties to appropriate money to issue bonds in aid of the construction by public authority and control of canals or waterways suitable for steamships steamboats barges or other vessels and providing for the procedure in such cases and to enter into contracts to that end with other counties and other public authorities of this or other states of the United States" approved the thirteenth day of April Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven be and the same is hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE (SPECIAL ORDER).

The SPEAKER. The special order for the hour of 12:00 o'clock is House Bill No. 554 on final passage.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 554, entitled:

An Act to provide a standard form of policy contract to be issued by fire insurance companies transacting business in Pennsylvania designating the provisions thereof exempting certain policies and prescribing penalties for any violations

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to insert an amendment to this bill at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend by striking out the words "or knowledge" in line 84, page 6, section 1.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instruction of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. This amendment in this bill was of such a nature that the bill can be proceeded with in regular order.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, This is the bill known as the standard policy act. If you will turn to your file you will find on page six that the amendment is on line 84, the words "or knowledge" ought to have been stricken out of the bill, but on examination I found it had not been stricken out. With these words in the bill the explation I gave the House a few days ago would have been erroneous, but with these words taken out the bill is as I explained it to the House. I want to explain the importance of the Standard Policy Act. There is no contract that is so generally used by the people of Pennsylvania as the contract that they make with insurance companies when they take out their fire insurance policy. Every property holder almost that has perishable buildings on it in these days, carries fire insurance. As a matter of fact scarcely any man reads his contract. It is vitally important that the nature of the contract which is attached to a fire insurance policy makes it almost imperitive that every State should define what that contract should be and by so doing they give the public that protection. The State of Pennsylvania has been trying for years to have a standard policy contract.

But for some reasons, I think, because it was not thoroughly explained to the Legislature, Pennsylvania has failed to do so. Mutual and stock companies have adopted in the State of Pennsylvania, almost universally the New Jersey or the New York standard policy, but under present conditions if an insurance company wanted to deceive the public by changing the nature of that contract so as to make the policy void because of some little failure on the part of the assured, the company could come into the State of Pennsylvania, and issue insurance under any character of contract because we have no standard of contract required by the State of Pennsylvania. If this bill passes, no insurance company, no fire insurance company can do business in the State of Pennsylvania unless the contract be drawn to conform to this present standard form of contract. Now this contract is presented to the members of this House because the public, the insurance public, will have better privileges than under the standand now used, which is as I said, the New York or the New Jersey standard. Now I will read to you the present standard now in general use in the State of Pennsylvania. I am going to read to you the contract in general use. I asked you some few days ago if you would not take this particular bill home and compare it with the present contract that is generally used in Pennsylvania. Now this contract which is in general use in Pennsylvania in lines 14 and 15, has this language that if on your property the hazard or the fire hazard is increased by your neighbors and you don't notify the company, under the contract you have at home, your policy is void, because it reads, the present policies you have in your own safe read this way, that if the hazard be increased by any means within the control or knowledge of the assurged, the policy is void if you don't notify the company. Now if you pass this act it will read "if the hazard is increased by any means within the control of the assured," the word "knowledge" being wiped out by the amendment that I have just offered, so that the insuring public in Pennsylvania will have a contract that is more fair to them than the contracts that they now have. At least my contracts, and being in the insurance business I pretty nearly know that what I am saying in regard to the general contract is true. Now in the present contract that you have at home, if you will read it when you get home, you will find in lines 86, 87, 88, 89 and 90, where it provides that in case of a loss the insured and the company each select a man to arbitrate the loss. Should these two fail to agree they then appoint an umpire and the finding of any two of them is the finding in the case. In practice in Pennsylvania it has frequently occurred that the insurance companies and sometime the insured but very seldom the insured, almost always the insurance company representative, will not agree on an umpire and the consequence is the insurance company arbitrator by not agreeing upon an umpire prolongs the findings; in the meantime you will not draw any interest under that contract that you now have for this long period that you are held up before you can get your money. Now under the contract that I offer, if you will read it carefully, you will find that if the two arbitrators cannot agree upon an umpire within 15 days either party can go to the judge of the county court and ask him to name an umpire. Now these two changes from the present policy generally used in Pennsylvania are practically all the changes in this bill that I ask you to vote for. The only other changes in this contract have been made to conform to the decisions of the courts as to ambiguous language that occurs in this contract. The changes have been put in this new contract that I present to the House so as to take out of it the ambiguity that exists in the other contracts, but which after all have been slighted practically by the court decisions. I want to say to you that I have no interest in the world as to whether you pass it or not. My interest is only as a citizen and as one assured in the State of Pennsylvania, and I would like to see this bill go on the statute books, because it would prevent in the future what has sometimes occurred in the past, men who are handling fire insurance business being allowed to make any contract that they desire have not given the public what the public thought they were receiving. Hereafter that door will be closed, and every contract of fire insurance that is written in the State of Pennsylvania by any company will give the public identically the same promises as to indemnity, therefore, I think the House ought to pass the bill.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RESOLUTION NO. 16.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 16, File Folio 7195.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the resolution.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 16.

Whereas, In compliance with a concurrent resolution approved May twelve, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, a commission of five persons was appointed by the Governor on December twentieth, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, to investigate and examine the various law in effect in the different states relating to the recording of deeds, mortgages, the transfer of lands, the insurance of titles, and the practical operation of such laws, and to propose such changes in the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth as to insure the best system of recording; and,

Whereas, The said commission made a second report to the present Legislature, again recommending an amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania, and also recommending that the commission shall be combined, because, in order that the relief needed may be effected, questions of great importance will have to be carefully and exhaustively considered, but the membership of the commission was left to the discretion of the present Legislature; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the commission to investigate and examine the various laws in effect in the various states relating to the recording of deeds, mortgages, the transfer of lands, insurance of titles and the practical operation of such laws, and to propose such changes in the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth as to insure the best system of recording, be authorized to continue its work, and make report and recommendations to the next General Assembly in one thousand nine hundred and seventeen; and that the expenses therefor be limited to five thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary, and that the same be provided for in the next general appropriation bill; and be it further

Resolved, That all the powers conferred upon said commission under resolution of May twelfth one thousand nine hundred and eleven authorizing the appointment of said commission, are hereby continued.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendment.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Strike out the original resolution and insert the following:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

In the Senate, May 11, 1915.

Whereas, In compliance with a concurrent resolution approved May twelfth, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, a commission of five persons was appointed by the Governor on December twentieth, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, to investigate and examine the various laws then in effect in the different states relating to the recording of deeds, mortgages, the transfer of lands, the insurance of titles, and the practical operation of such laws, and to propose such changes in the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth as to insure the best system of recording; and

Whereas, The said Commission made a report to the General Assembly in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, recommending an amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The said Commission made a second report to the present General Assembly again recommending said amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania, and also recommending that the work of the commission be continued, but the membership thereof left to the discretion of the General Assembly, because in order that the relief needed may be effected, questions of great importance will have to be carefully and exhaustively considered; therefore

Be it resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Governor of the Commonwealth is hereby authorized to appoint a commission of five persons whose duty it shall be to continue the work of the former commission by a further investigation and examination of the various laws now in effect in the several states relating to recording of deeds, mortgages, the transfer of lands, the insurance of titles, and the practical operation of such laws, and to propose such changes in the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth as to insure the best system of recording, and make report and recommendations to the next General Assembly in one thousand nine hundred and seventeen; and that the expenses therefor be limited to three thousand dollars ($3,000), or so much thereof as may be necessary, and that the same be provided for in the next general appropriation bill.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

The resolution as amended was then concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time, from page 4 of to-day's calendar, House Bill No. 1703, File Folio 8221, which bill was postponed this morning.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1703, entitled:

An Act to amend an act entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An Act to provide for the erection of a house of employment and support of the poor in the County of York'" approved the first day of April one thousand eight hundred and five to enlarge the powers and duties of the directors of the poor and of the house of employment for the county of York and to authorize the said directors of the poor and of the house of employment for the County of York to purchase lands and erect buildings thereon for the employment and support of the poor in the County of York and to authorize the county commissioners of York to levy and collect taxes necessary to pay for the said lands so purchased by the directors of the poor and of the house of employment for the County of York and the buildings erected thereon to authorize the payment of expenses of the directors of the poor and of the house of employment for the County of York and the employment of an attorney by the said directors of the poor

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, this bill merely relates to York county. It gives the poor directors power to purchase land and to erect poor buildings in the County of York and in the Count of York only. Last year the Board of Charities instructed the County of York that it was necessary for the construction of a new poor building in that county, because the old building was a fire trap and was totally inadequate for the uses for which it was intended, and they instructed us to erect a building that would not be a fire trap and that would be suitable for the conditions of the poor. We find that we do not have legislation to comply with the instructions of the Board of Charities. This bill has been advertised in two newspapers, as required by law.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1448, Senate Bill No. 631, File Folio 1613, entitled:

An Act to provide for the creation by bodies of electors of political parties not otherwise entitled under the law to participate in primaries and elections and giving such parties the right to participate in primaries and elections providing the manner in which such parties may be created providing the manner in which such parties may have the exclusive right to use certain designated names for their parties or policies providing a method of objecting to petitions filed for the purpose of obtaining such exclusive right to use a party name under which to participate in primaries and elections providing for the enrollment of qualified electors so as to entitle them to vote the ballot of such parties at primaries providing for the designation of a person upon whom shall be served notice of objection to such petitions or other notices required by law to be served upon such parties and who shall serve such notices as are required to be made or filed by such parties under the law in the matter of the nomination of candidates providing for the payment of costs incident to objections to such petitions and also for the expense incident to holding such primaries providing penalties for violations of the provisions of this act and the punishment for certain offences hereunder and providing for the repeal of inconsistent legislation on page 11 of to-day's calendar, be recommitted to the Committee on Elections.

Mr. ARTHUR. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. ARON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from page 26 of to-day's calendar, Bills on Final Passage Postponed, House Bill No. 831.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 831, entitled:

A joint resolution proposing an assignment to article eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this resolution is to remove a constitutional qualification exercising the privilege of the elector, namely: Payment of tax within two years prior to the election. The sovereign levies taxes and where a taxpayer owns property there is no trouble in collecting that tax; where the taxpayer does not own property the only method we have of collecting that tax is by imprisonment which is one that is not usually followed; therefore, this constitutional provision acts as a means of collecting tax. The principal objection that I would have to the repeal of this amendment, however, is not that. I believe that the qualification for the privilege of voting should be more stringent instead of less stringent. Every good citizen pays his taxes and no citizen that is not a good citizen should be permitted to vote. The idea of removing that qualification that requires a man to pay taxes in order that he may vote, is, to my mind, very abhorrent to the proper exercise of the privilege of the elector. The basis of this resolution, however, is that it permits the irresponsible citizen, known frequently as the "floater," to come in and exercise this high privilege of voting without paying any tax. In my opinion, there has been nothing more vicious before this House this year and I hope the bill will be defeated.

Mr. ARON. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this resolution proposes an amendment to the Constitution with regard to the qualification of electors. After it passes this House at this session it will have to pass the session of 1917, and then be submitted to the people for their approval. I say that thousands of citizens are disqualified at elections because they forget, inadvertently, to purchase a tax receipt; the next point I make is that many other citizens who fail to have their names put upon the assessor's list cannot get a tax receipt, which they cannot do except when their names are upon the assessor's list. This poll tax is not intended as a revenue raiser. I have taken the trouble to read the constitutional debates on this question, as passed by the Convention of 1873, that the right of voting should not be taxed. It was considered at that time that the right to vote was a natural and a social right. Now, the only reason why this qualification was inserted in the constitution was that at that time it afforded a method of registration, but now at this time, that we have the personal registration, a good reason for requiring this poll tax as a requisite to vote does not exist. I am talking about thousands of people who will not pay this fifty cents for a poll tax and the Republican Party as well as the Democratic Party will use the money to buy votes and the poor man is open to corruption in this way. Now, Mr. Speaker, I claim again that the man who does not own real estate pays as much as the man that does own real estate, and that the poor man pays taxes only for what he personally consumes and that it is unfair discrimination between a man that owns a little real estate and a man that does not. I ask you, gentlemen, to vote for this bill.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1081 (Senate No. 391), entitled:

An Act providing for the payment of interest on damages caused by the taking injury or destruction of private property for public use

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1 by striking out on line 5, after the word "municipal" the words "or other"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendments as read? Is there any objection?

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I object to the amendments.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and unanimous consent is not granted.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered for the purpose of amendment.

The SPEAKER. The bill has not been agreed to on third reading.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker I move that the House go into the Committee of the Whole for the purpose of offering amendments.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker I do not think that the bill as it is, ought to pass. The author of the bill possibly had some good reason for offering the bill, and he is entirely satisfied with the amendments. The author is entirely satisfied with these amendments.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order. I have not heard the Chair decide on the question as to whether this House shall go into the Committee of the Whole.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I do not think that the House with the bill in its present form, will desire to pass it. The bill in its present form will require as soon as a survey is made in any enterprise that may require the taking of private property under the power of eminent domain, for the interest on the money to immediately begin. Now, surveys are made for public improvements sometimes a year, or two, or three years, before the improvement is started, consequently it would be very unfair for this Legislature to say that the interest on the damages that are finally found should begin from the time of the survey. It is perfectly proper for the interest to begin from the time that damage has occurred through the entering of private property. I do not believe the House is going to pass a bill of that character. I do not think it ought to for that reason. I think the House ought to defeat the bill in its present form. My amendment was simply to correct that condition and with that corrected I would not have objected to the bill.

The SPEAKER (Charles A. Ambler) in the Chair.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker this bill is a very plain one. It was under discussion before the Judiciary General Committee at length. The bill as originally introduced in the Senate was in the shape that it is now in. When it came to the House it was amended by striking out the very words which the gentleman from Delaware attempted to have stricken out this afternoon. In the discussion before the House Committee on Judiciary General it was deemed wise not to make these amendments because the purpose of making the amendments would be to militate against municipal corporations. The effect of the passage of this bill is that where private property is taken for public purposes whether it be taken by a municipal corporation or any other corporation that interest on the damages which are assessed by a jury of view for the taking are to run from the time of the taking, and not from the time that some physical change is made in the property so taken. Now it was the thought of the Committee on Judiciary General that municipal corporations should not be put in any different light from any other corporation which was to take private property for public use. And if interest was to be charged against municipal corporations from the time of taking it should be charged against any corporation. This House has refused to consider the amendments on the bill and it is now in the original shape introduced into the Senate. If you gentlemen think that the proposition is a fair one and fair to those who are owners of property which should be taken over by a municipality or other large corporation for public purposes then support the bill, if you do not, vote against it.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I think that the House realizes that there is quite a difference on the question of a municipality's taking of private property. It is just possible that there may be municipalities in our State where there might exist a very unfriendly feeling upon the part of some of the borough authorities, and those borough authorities having a personal feeling against the individual whose property might be taken might in some instances in the State, and I presume, that is the reason the bill is here, hold up the payment to the injury of the citizen. Now that cannot occur so far as the development of our State in the way of public utilities is concerned, because under the law you cannot enter a man's property until you put up bonds from the time of entry, if there is any damage done, and so of course there is no right of the private citizen to recover. but if this bill passes, then from the time of the taking it would be construed, from the time of putting up the bond for the entering and making of surveys that would be held unjust and would be against public improvement. Now if the members of the House feel that in the case of the municipality this privilege should not be extended why then of course they should vote that way and vote against the bill, but surely I do not think the House would vote for the bill in the form it is in now.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. FORSTER offered the following motion which was twice read and considered:

Moved by Mr. Forster, seconded by Mr. W. H. Wilson, that the vote by which Senate Bill No. 56, File Folio 183, entitled:

An Act for the prevention of fraud and deception by prohibiting the use of added artificial coloring matter in such edible alimentary pastes as macaroni spaghetti vermecelli and noodles on page 25 of the calendar of May 3rd was stricken from the Calendar be reconsidered.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, I ask for the reconsideration of this bill for the purpose of amending it so as to meet the objections that were raised to it.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I move that Mr. George W. Allen, of Pittsburgh, be invited to take the Chair and address this body.

Mr. GANS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Adams, and the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Flynn, a committee to escort Mr. Allen to the Chair.

Mr. ALLEN escorted to the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to say that he has had the pleasure of serving in the House with Mr. Allen in two different sessions and it gives him great pleasure to present to you Mr. George W. Allen. (Applause).

ADDRESS OF HON. GEORGE W. ALLEN.

Mr. ALLEN. It is very well for you, my fellow sufferers, that my voice is not in good form. Were it in good form and owing to the fact that you have been in session but a short time I should lay down a few rules for your observation during the remainder of this session. However, inasmuch as it is painful for me to talk and doubtless more painful for you to listen, I only say one word to you and that is this:

You have reached the point in this session of the legislature where many of you new members will be swept off our feet unless you keep your eyes wide open, because these last few weeks are the days and the hours and the moments when the big things slip through and flop over and you may be called to account when you return home for the way you voted on certain things when you did not know just exactly what you were voting on. I know that you have been busily engaged for almost five months now with legislative work and I believe that every man who has a seat upon the floor of this House has been conscientious in his work. I have been down here a number of times sitting along the side walls and in the rear yonder and up front, renewing old acquanitances and it has been a pleasure to me, my old friends, to look into the faces of those with whom I served in 1911 and those with whom I served in 1913. Why, you new members may not be aware that in 1913 when this session convened I came down a few days in advance to look at this desk and to sit in this Chair to see whether it was big enough or not (applause) but there was a slip-up and another fellow occupied it. Now I feel a good bit better and you boys down there can feel a good deal better than the fellow up here because there is not one-half the responsibility that rests on you; but there is this responsibility, and that is to uphold the Chair. The best rule of action that you can get in mind when you take your seat in this body, and if you have not done it, now commence because you cannot get along—there is no way you can get along unless you help the fellow who is trying to lead the way and carry things with it.

I compliment you, my good friends, on your attentiveness to your duty. It is seldom that the seats—at least when I have been here— that the seats are vacant. I see the men every time I step into this House, I see a great many of the members either in their seats or hobnobbing and log-rolling around the House and scratching somebod else's back so that in turn they will have their own back scratched. That's business. Here it is your duty to give attention and to vote, and as I said a moment ago to uphold and assist those in authority.

I thank you, my good friends of the past, and those of the present, for the compliment you have conferred upon me I thank you for this opportunity to look you in the face and to express my kindliest interest in you, your officers and your work, and I bid you God-speed to the finish. (Applause).

RECESS.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the Chair will declare a recess until 8.15 o'clock this evening.

Whereupon, (at 5.30 o'clock P. M.) the Chair declared a recess until 8.15 o'clock this evening.

AFTER RECESS.

The House reconvened at 8:15 o'clock P. M.
The SPEAKER (Charles A. Ambler) in the Chair.

An Act providing for a plan to include in and make part of Valley Forge Park the site of Sullivan's bridge and certain other land and of ways thereto and for report thereof and its publication and making an appropriation.

Mr. GREENWOOD, from the Committee on Appropriations reported as committed, House Bill No. 1604 (Senate Bill No. 216), entitled:

An Act relating to the Legislative Reference Bureau and authorizing and regulating therein a system of municipal reference information.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1677 (Senate Bill No. 936), entitled:

An Act authorizing township school districts which entirely surround a city or borough to acquire in such city or borough lands and to erect thereon buildings for high-school purposes and exempting property so acquired from taxation by such city borough or school district thereof and authorizing such township school directors to enter upon and occupy sufficient ground for such high school purposes and providing for the determination of damages done and suffered by the owners of the land by reason of the taking thereof for such high school purposes.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SONES. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend section 3, line 57, by adding after the word "purposes" the following "and actually required for important public purposes"

Further amend section 3, line 63, by striking out the following "and actually required for important public purposes"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to on third reading.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1223 (Senate Bill No. 387), entitled:

An Act concerning notaries public who are stockholders directors officers or employes of banks banking institutions trust companies or other corporations

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FRUIT. Mr. Speaker, in reading this bill over I find that this will permit clerks in banks, trust companies and other business houses which discount paper or take care of checks and drafts, to protest any checks or drafts which may not be paid immediately. I believe, Mr. Speaker, that it has been the settled policy of this Commonwealth not to permit Notary Publics to belong to or be clerks in any banks or trust companies on account of the inherent danger there is of the clerk trying to increase his salary by making two or three dollars extra in protest fees. This business is ably taken care of now and any checks or drafts that have to be protested can be taken care of by the notary publics already created by the Senate. I believe this would not only be an unnecessary thing, but also be a great detriment to those of us who may, at times, be short of funds and not able to meet them until a few hours after the check comes in. I hope you will vote this bill down.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. MEARKLE offered the following motion which was read by the Clerk as follows:

Moved by Mr. Herman and seconded by Mr. Rininger, that the vote by which House Bill No. 1161, file folio 7297, entitled:

A Supplement to an act entitled "An Act to secure to laborers within this Commonwealth the benefit of the exemption laws of this Commonwealth and to prevent assignment of claims for the purpose of securing their collection against laborers outside of this Commonwealth" approved the twenty-third day of May Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven regulating the practice in trials on actions of debt instituted u provisions of the said act was defeated on final passage be reconsidered.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, this bill for which the motion has just been made for reconsideration was defeated during the absence of the sponser of the bill. In my opinion, if the history of the bill had been known by an explanation given at the time it was before the House for consideration it likely would not have been defeated. In order to understand this bill it is necessary to know something of the history of it. In the year 1845, the General Assembly passed an act exempting wages from attachment. In order to avoid this Act a practice grew up in cases of corporations doing business in two States, for instance, in Pennsylvania and West Virginia, to assign the claims to some person in the State of West Virginia, and there accept an attachment proceedings because wages in West Virginia can be attached. In order to obviate this practice the General Assembly passed an Act in 1887 providing that a laborer or wage earner under such circumstances could recover back the debt, interest and costs. But the Courts in the construction of this Act construed it that the wage earner must prove that the claim was assigned with the intention and for the purpose of evading the Virginia Act and as the evidence was wholly in the possession of the other party he generally could not do so.

This bill is for the purpose of meeting that defect by providing that the person who makes the assignment must show that it was made in good faith, and puts the burden upon the person making the assignment. You will, therefore, see that it is a bill for the protection of labor and it is in harmony with the laws of the States of Ohio and Indiana on the same subject.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON FIRST READING.

Mr. W. H. WILSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to have House Bill No. 1772 read the first time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1772, entitled:

An Act to provide revenue by imposing a State tax upon the sale or agreements to sell or memoranda of sales of stock and upon deliveries or transfers of shares or certificates of stock of domestic and foreign corporations copartnership associations and joint stock associations providing the manner of collecting such tax and prescribing penalties.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered. To be laid aside for second reading.

BILL ON FIRST READING

Mr. NEVILLE asked and obtained unanimous consent to have House Bill No. 1770 read the first time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1770, entitled:

An Act providing for a plan to include in and make part of Valley Forge Park the site of Sullivan's bridge and certain other land and of ways thereto and for report thereof and its publication and making an appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

BILL ON FIRST READING

Mr. GREENWOOD asked and obtained unanimous consent to have House Bill No. 1604 (Senate Bill No. 216) read the first time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1604 (Senate No. 216), entitled:

An Act relating to the Legislative Reference Bureau and authorizing and regulating therein a system of municipal reference information.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1428, entitled:

An Act repealing part of section fifteen of an act entitled, "An Act relating to Allegheny County," approved May first one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one in so far as the same relates to the salary of the chief clerk of the Controller; also repealing sections eleven and thirteen of an act entitled "A supplement to an act approved the first day of May Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, entitled an act relating to Allegheny County," passed April eighth, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two; also repealing section two of an act entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled an act relating to Allegheny County," approved the first day of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one and the supplement thereto, approved the eighth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, passed April twenty-second, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three; also repealing section one of an act entitled "An Act relating to Allegheny County," approved May seventh one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four; also repealing an act entitled "An Act to increase the salary of assistant warden of the Allegheny County prison," approved April sixteenth, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six; also repealing section three of an act entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled "An Act for the better management of the Allegheny County prison, approved twenty-third of March one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five," passed April fifteenth one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven; also repealing an act entitled "An Act to increase the salary of the clerk to the County Commissioners in and for the county of Allegheny," approved April eighth one thousand eight hundred and seventy; also repealing an act entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled "An Act relating to Allegheny county, approved the first day of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one," passed April eighteenth one thousand eight hundred and seventy; also repealing section nine of an act entitled "An Act relating to the fees, salaries and duties of certain county officers in Allegheny County," approved April sixth one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one; also repealing an act entitled "An Act increasing the salaries of the chief and assistant clerks in the office of the Controller of Allegheny County," approved April first one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, line 4, by inserting after the word "the" the word "County"
Amend title, line 7, by striking out the words "day of"
Amend section 1, line 10, by striking out the word "day"
Amend section 1, line 11, by striking out the word "of"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendments as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1531 (Senate No. 272), as follows:

An Act creating a State Bureau of Elevator Inspection in the Department of Labor and Industry and defining the powers thereof throughout the State of Pennsylvania excepting the cities of the first and second class providing for the appointment of a chief inspector an assistant chief inspector and as many elevator inspectors and employes as may be necessary from time to time to enforce this act and providing salaries for the same Providing laws for the protection of the public elevator operators and attendants Empowering the chief of said bureau to make alter amend and repeal rules and regulations relating thereto And providing a penalty for the violation of any provision or provisions of this act or the rules and regulations of said bureau

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That there is hereby established a State Bureau of Elevator Inspection The head of the Bureau shall be a chief inspector who shall be appointed by the commissioner of the Department of Labor and Industry and who shall receive an annual salary of five thousand dollars ($5,000)

Section 2 The Commissioner of the Department of Labor and Industry shall appoint an assistant chief inspector who shall receive a salary of three thousand dollars ($3,000) a year and who shall during the absence or disability of the chief of the bureau possess all the powers and perform all the duties of the chief and who in addition to his duties prescribed by this act shall perform such other duties and possess such other power as the chief of the bureau shall prescribe

Section 3 The Commissioner of the Department of Labor and Industry shall appoint one computer at a salary of eighteen hundred dollars ($1,800) per year eighteen elevator inspectors at a salary of fifteen hundred dollars each ($1,500) per year two tank inspectors at a salary of fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500) each per year a chief clerk at a salary of twelve hundred dollars ($1,200) per year three clerks at a salary of eleven hundred ($1,100) dollars each per year a stenographer at a salary of one thousand ($1,000) dollars per year and a messenger at a salary of nine hundred ($900) dollars per year

The inspectors under this act must be competent and practical elevator mechanics having had practical experience in elevator-mechanism and all other employes appointed hereunder shall have such special qualifications as may be required for the proper inspection of passenger and freight elevators

Whenever the chief of the bureau of inspection shall deem it necessary for the safety of the public he shall have the power to order the discontinuance of the use of any passenger or freight elevator and to compel the owner lessee or agent of the building within which such elevator is located or any other person responsible for the running of the same to make such alterations or repair as he may deem necessary for the safety of persons and property using or carried upon said elevator before the same is again put in use

The chief of the bureau of inspection shall also have the power to condemn any mechanical part or appliance connected with any passenger or freight elevator if the same in his judgment is dangerous or unreliable and whenever any such part or appliance has been condemned it shall be removed and the elevator made safe to the satisfaction of the chief of said bureau before again put in operation

Whenever any elevator shall be in need of repairs in any respect pertaining to the operation of the same or any of the apparatus or machinery connected with an elevator shall become impaired necessitating the temporary disuse of the elevator or any accident shall occur in an elevator or elevator shaftway affecting life or limb it shall be necessary for the owner lessee or agent of the building in which the said elevator is located or other person under whose control and management the said elevator is operated to notify the chief of the bureau of inspection of such impairment disuse or accident

No elevator shall be operated without having displayed therein a certificate of inspection from the State Bureau of Elevator Inspection stating the carrying capacity of the elevator whether freight or passenger No person shall at any time operate an elevator unless he is over the age of eighteen (18) years and if in the judgment of the chief of the bureau of inspection any person running an elevator shall be deemed incompetent so to do the person firm or corporation having control of said elevator shall at once remove such incompetent person and replace him by duly licensed operator No elevator either passenger or freight shall be operated without an attendant if in the judgment of the chief of the bureau of inspection the character of the business or construction or location of the elevator warrants the same

Any person firm or coporation operating an elevator without having a certificate as herein provided or who shall violate any provision of this act shall be subject to a penalty of fifty ($50) dollars for each and every such violation and the said penalty shall be collected as debts are by law collectible

All elevator shafts shall conform to the requirements of section four of the Act of Assembly of April twenty-five nineteen hundred and three

No elevator shall be erected re-erected or altered and no enclosures built or interlock or other safety appliances installed without first having obtained a permit from the Bureau of Inspection

The applicant for a permit to erect an elevator must submit a plan of the whole ground floor of the building showing proposed location of the shaftway and drawings of the elevator and also an elevation of shaftway the said plans and drawing to be filed as a part of the records of the bureau

No permit shall be issued to erect an elevator or sling hoist in any thoroughfare where it is necessary to pass through the shaftway or under the elevator whether inside or outside of the building

No permit shall be issued allowing power to be applied to any back guide elevator or roller hoist

No wooden hoist drum shall be allowed

Whenever any back guide elevator shall be in need of extensive repairs it shall be condemned and replaced with a guide post car or the hatchway must be closed but if the shaftway occupies a thoroughfare the location of the same must be changed except in extreme cases where in the judgment of the bureau such change is practically impossible This clause does not apply to a carriage elevator

All elevators must be so located as to give easy and safe access to all principal parts for inspection adjustment and repair

No pressure tank shall have less strength than a factor of safety of four (4) and no other part affected by this load shall have less strength than a factor of safety of four (4) for freight five (5) for passenger and six (6) for all drum shafts and overhead supports

No power driven elevator shall have less than two (2) main hoisting cables and all cables must be attached to a substantial and effective equalizing bar with means for adjustment

The maximum load on hoist cables must not be greater than one-sixth (1-6) of the ultimate strength for passenger elevators and one fifth (1-5) for freight the basis of computation being Standard Swedes iron hoisting cable

All sheaves and drums for hoist and counterweight cables must conform to the standards of the Bureau of Inspection

No elevator car shall be suspended by any kind of cable other than metallic

Every passenger elevator car hereafter constructed must have its frame built of metal and no inferior material of any kind shall be allowed to enter into the construction of any elevator

Every guide post elevator car must be provided with safety clutches that will prevent the car from falling in case of broken cables or broken or deranged machinery

Every passenger elevator now in operation or that shall be hereafter installed shall be provided with speed governor in connection with a gradually applied safety

Every freight elevator having a car speed of over fifty (50) feet per minute shall be provided with a governor in connection with gradually applied safety

Every freight elevator having a car speed of less than fifty (50) feet per minute must be provided with speed governor which may work in connection with an instantaneous safety

All elevators must be tested with a maximum load
All wooden guide posts must be provided with independent guide straps
All elevators carrying more persons that the regular attendant and designated assistants not to exceed three in number shall be classed as passenger elevators and are subject to all the requirements of passenger service
Every power driven elevator must be automatic terminal stops other than those required on the controlling mechanism
Every power driven drum hoist elevator must have a slack cable controller shifter
All brakes operated by a check line must be so arranged as to be applied automatically if the check line should break and all electric brakes must be applied by breaking the current
All passenger elevators must be equipped with mechanical interlocks and all interlocking mechanism must conform to the requirements of the Bureau
Where any interlock already installed is found to be unreliable or does not conform to the requirements of the bureau it shall be condemned and be replaced within a reasonable time by an approved interlock

Requirements for Elevator Locking Device

a The device must prevent the doors of the landing being opened either from inside or outside except when the car is within three inches of such landing
b The device must prevent the opening of the landing door either from outside or inside when the car is at the landing until after the controlling mechanism of the car has been set in position to stop the car
c The opening of the landing door when a car is at a floor must immediately lock the controlling mechanism in the stop position and the devices must prevent the starting of the car up or down until the landing door has been again closed and locked
d The locking device electrical or mechanical shall be such as will hold immovable and secure the carriage used in such elevator while any gate door or doors at the landing that are used for entrance thereto or exit therefrom are open and unsecured
e The device must be so arranged that the car can run from top to bottom without touching any of the mechanism at the landing unless it is desired to stop at a floor
f The device electrical or mechanical shall be such as to place the power of controlling the elevator beyond the control of the attendant while any gate door or doors on the landing leading to the carriage is open and unsecured
g The device must prevent the car leaving the landing from any cause whatever while the door of the enclosure is open
h No interlocker mechanism shall so affect the controller of any elevator as to reduce the valve lap to less than one-third (1-3) of its total amount
All automatic door opening and closing devices must be independent of the interlocking device
No pilot valve shall be installed or allowed to remain in service that cannot be controlled by an interlock within the limits of two-thirds (2-3) of its total lap
Any pilot valves now in use if in the judgment of the inspectors and the chief of the bureau of inspection are considered a source of danger shall be condemned and removed
Every hydraulic elevator shall have an independent exhaust pipe from the controlling valve of the discharge tank and no two cylinders shall be allowed to discharge through the same pipe unless provided with checks
The shaftways of all passenger and freight elevators hereafter constructed must be enclosed below the first floor with either fire-proof or slow burning construction All windows opening into elevator shafts are to be guarded with screens or bars
All hand power elevators in which the platform travels more than one story shall be equipped with a speed governor
If the shaftway of any passenger elevator is so located or the motive power is so limited in range as to make a basement air pit impracticable the air pit must be constructed above the first floor
The pit of every elevator shaftway must be kept clean and dry at all times Stop or resting blocks shall not be allowed at the bottom of shaftway
At the top of the shaft and under the suspension sheaves and beams of every power driven elevator there shall be built a substantial working platform or grating the said platform or grating to be of such a character as to prevent tools or other dangerous weights from falling through and down the shaftway
No explosives inflammable or suffocating material whether solid liquid or gaseous or any pipe for conveying the same shall be stored or kept under any elevator shaftway
No elevator shaftway shall be used for the storage of any material or the running of any rope wire or pipe except for the use of the elevator itself

All elevators used for carrying passengers must have their hatchways surrounded by substantial vertical enclosures the same to be made flush with the hatchway and continuous from floor to ceiling on every open side of the car and on every floor except the top where a height of six feet six inches is sufficient On every other side of the car the enclosures must be at least six feet six inches in height All enclosures doors must be made to slide except in extreme cases where necessity compels the adoption of some other movable enclosures but in all cases this enclosure door must be of such a character as to be controlled by an interlock All grill work enclosures must be substantially braced and be kept in through repair Wherever an elevator shaftway has been constructed as not to admit of a mechanical interlock on the basement door the said door must be so constructed as to close and lock automatically when the car leaves

Whenever the car of a passenger elevator has more than one doorway every doorway must be provided with an inside sliding door and the doors must be so arranged and connected that the opening of any one door mechanically closes all the other doors
Every freight elevator shall have its hatchway surrounded by vertical enclosures and gates The fixed enclosures to be not less than six (6) feet in height and the gates to be as near six (6) feet in height as the condition will warrant Wooden gates must be made of vertical strip with spaces not wider than two (2) inches All gates must be self-closing and also fitted with device to prevent them being raised until the platform is at the floor landing and whenever practicable they must be made to slide vertically Full automatic gates wherever found will be condemned and must be replaced within a reasonable time by gates approved by the bureau
All enclosures must be made flush with hatchways on every open side of the car and whenever window recesses occur in the shaftway the same must be covered by a substantial grille or screen Where it is necessary to place a lifting gate on any elevator car the said gate must be so hung and balanced as to close automatically when the car leaves the landing
Whenever in the judgment of the bureau the construction of the building or the nature of the business is such that the standard vertical enclosures are impracticable they may adopt such safeguards as will afford the best protection Fire doors on the floor side of brick shaftways are not deemed sufficient protection and self-closing vertical gates shall be required in addition
Every elevator occupying a thoroughfare that cannot be guarded by vertical enclosures must be provided with a loud ringing gong that will ring continuously or at close intervals while the car is descending through the thoroughfare
Every power driven freight elevator must be provided with a signal bell that can be operated from every floor and the controlling device must be provided with some form of lock that will enable the attendant to hold the car immovable while loading and unloading All freight elevators not in the care of a regular attendant must have signs posted on every floor prohibiting all persons from riding on the car

Every sidewalk elevator must be protected at the street level by a removable railing of such construction that the controlling mechanism of the said elevator will be locked and held immovable until the railing is in place

Every sidewalk elevator must be protected by a substantial guard that will open the sidewalk doors far enough in advance of the car to prevent crushing a person between the car platform and the sidewalk doors

Where any freight elevator shall have flush enclosures but not self closing gates the owner agent or lessee may provide all the shaftway doors with substantial safe inside locks and put the car in charge of a regularly authorized operator otherwise the shaftway must be provided with approved self-closing gates

The bureau of inspection shall have the power to demand a regularly licensed operator on any elevator when in the judgment of the bureau the safety of the public requires the elevator to be placed under such control Should the owner agent or lessee refuse to comply with the same demand the elevator shall be locked up

All elevators counterweights must be hung in guides and the foot of the guideway must be so protected as to prevent any person from being injured by the descending weights

All counterweights must have their component parts so fastened together as to prevent any piece or pieces from becoming detached from the guides should the counterweight be accidentally drawn to the top of the shaft with the usual velocity

All hydraulic elevators must have their valve chambers and cylinders provided with means for preventing the accumulation of air

If any accident shall occur to any elevator affecting life or limb or in any way impairing the strength or efficiency of said elevator it shall be the duty of the engineer in charge of the building or in the absence of the engineer the superintendent to immediately notify the chief of the bureau of such accident The chief of the bureau shall cause any such accident to be promptly investigated

The owner agent or lessee of a building will be held responsible for the failure of the engineer or superintendent to properly report any elevator accident in said building or for any negligence on the part of said engineer or superintendent affecting the safety of any elevator under his control

The builder of any elevator will be held responsible for the proper construction of the said elevator in all its parts and for the execution of all rules and regulations of the bureau regarding elevator construction

If the owner agent or lessee of any building shall receive a written notice from the bureau that any passenger elevator under his control is in an unsafe condition and shall continue to operate the said elevators ignoring the requirements of the bureau the chief of the bureau shall after the lapse of two days from the date of notice have the power to post a written notice at the elevator entrance stating that the said elevator is in an unsafe condition and said notice shall not be removed until so ordered by the chief of the bureau

All power driven elevators must be inspected at least once every six months after first inspection All hand hoist elevators must be re-inspected at least once in twelve months after first inspection

Pressure tanks must be inspected as often as in the judgment of the bureau their condition may require

Certificates of inspection shall be in force one year from date of issue unless in the judgment of the bureau any elevator is found to be in an unsafe condition In such cases the certificate shall be removed and the elevator put out of service until it is put in safe running condition

The elevator inspectors with the concurrence of the chief of the bureau may require safety appliances in addition to those before mentioned when in their judgment the same may be necessary to better provide for the safety of the public

The inspection of elevators shall be conducted during business hours (eight ante meridian to five post meridian) and with as little interruption to the business of the establishment as possible The inspection of pressure tanks need not be conducted during business hours

The owners and tenants of buildings in which elevators are located their agents and employes shall be required to admit elevator inspectors at all times and with as little delay as possible and to give every facility for the prompt execution of all inspections

Every elevator shall be regularly inspected by the bureau of inspection regardless of any other inspection and no insurance or casualty company's certificate will be accepted in lieu of a certificate from the State Bureau of Elevator Inspection Said bureau created by the provisions of this act shall be under the direct supervision and control of the Department of Labor and Industry

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

In section three, at the end of line 41, after the word "Inspection," insert the following "or by an insurance or casualty company duly authorized to do business in the State of Pennsylvania."

In section three, line 340 and 341, strike out the following "regardless of any other inspection and no," and insert the following in lieu thereof: "or by an insurance or casualty company duly authorized to do business in the State of Pennsylvania and an."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendments as read? Is there objection? The Chair hears object and unanimous consent is not granted.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker it has been the custom of the House for the last week or two to play the policy of economy. To-night we are about to act upon a bill that creates a bureau of Elevator inspection in the department of Labor and Industry, I think it is to the interest of the House or the members of the House to study this bill very carefully. It creates a bureau of elevator inspection at an approximate cost to the State of Pennsylvania of from sixty to seventy-five thousand dollars per year. This does not refer to the cities of the first class or the cities of the second class. It takes in only the cities of the third class and the other sections of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. In the cities of the first and the second class the casualty companies, the insurance companies make the inspection of elevators and their reports are filed with the Department of Labor and Industry and considered as satisfactory inspections. This is generally done also throughout the State. We come here to-night to create a department in the department of Labor and Industry for the inspection of elevators in third class cities and other sections of the Commonwealth. Now if the inspection of elevators by the various casualty insurance companies throughout the State of Pennsylvania, where they have hundreds of inspectors which they must and have to have, is satisfactory for the cities of Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Scranton, I think should also be satisfactory to the different sections of the State of Pennsylvania, especially when it creates a department at an expense of from sixty to seventy-five thousand dollars per year. This, gentlemen, to my mind is a vicious bill and should be considered carefully by the gentlemen of this House before voting on it. It occurs to me in looking over the bill that its plans and specifications are so mysteriously broad that I fail to comprehend the entire purport of the act and it occurs to me that there is something, somebody, somewhere, somehow, that is interested in some sort of device that he is endeavoring to put on the market somewhere. I do not know that this is true, but it occurs to me from the examination of this bill, and I would advise the members of this House to consider this bill carefully before voting on it.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of this House, I am somewhat surprised at the gentleman from Allegheny making an allegation that he cannot substantiate. He says that he thinks that it is a scheme on the part of some company to obtain some patronage by which they will be able to go on and tax the citizens of our State. Now, gentlemen of the House, I feel sure that you all appreciate that when any man introduces a bill that he does it in good faith, and I submit that the gentleman from Allegheny has introduced measures and his faith has not been questioned. It is a bad thing for any man to stand on the floor of this House and question any man's right or any man's motive unless he can substantiate that by some material fact. I therefore say to you that you must, in fairness to this measure, sweep away from your mind any consideration of any ulterior motive. The only object in introducing a measure of this kind, because it is a Department measure, is the safeguarding of the lives of the citizens of our State. In Philadelphia we have just such an act applying to us there. We have numbers of elevators there, inspected, and have been heretofore by insurance companies, but we have our inspectors, and gentlemen I want to say to you that that has been the greatest insurance that the citizens of Philadelphia have ever had. I want to say to you, further, that throughout this Commonwealth there have been more people killed by elevator accidents, outside of Philadelphia, I am speaking, than by any of the railroad companies, or by all the railroad companies combined—Now of course, a department of this kind cannot be carried on for nothing. Of course you must spend money, there is no doubt about that, but if we safeguard the lives of our citizens, if we protect them when they go into large buildings where they must use elevators and do use elevators, I say that the expenditure of that amount of money or ten times that amount of money makes no difference to the State of Pennsylvania, so far as its citizens are concerned. I hope every member of this House will to-night vote for this measure. It is a deserving one, one in which I have no interest and is a department measure to safeguard the lives of the people and that is all the purpose of it. I think we all ought to vote for this measure.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker I am very much inclined to agree with my friend from Pittsburgh. I do not think that the lives and safety of the public will be at all benefitted by the passage of this bill. There are certain things in this bill to cause you to pause. "Whenever the car of a passenger elevator has more than one door-way every doorway must be provided with an inside sliding door and the doors must be so arranged and connected that the opening of any one door mechanically closes all other doors." Now, whether that is practical or ont when introduced I do not know, and I do not know of any elevator doors so constructed. I presume myself that there is only one patentee of that kind of a door. Now I do not say that the party who introduced this bill had any thought in his mind of doing anything that would be of personal interest to himself or to any man, But I do not say that what my friend from Pittsburgh has suggested, that this bill, whether there is any interest whatever in it or not, that this Legislature, in my judgment—I am frank to say that I do not know whether the passage of a bill making these requirements will add to the safety of the public or not. I do not know whether that device is of such condition that after being installed they get out of order and get more dangerous than the present condition of elevators throughout our State. I am frank to say, so far as I have observed in the various newspapers of the number of accidents that have arisen through elevators through any mechanical device, I know of very very few. I rarely see anything of the kind. Now, if it will save the lives of our citizens, sixty thousand dollars is an insignificant sum; but what evidence have we here that it will do so. We want to have the evidence that a certain mechanical device must be provided for by this Legislature as regards all of the elevators of Pennsylvania. We also have the evidence that it has a cost of fifty to sixty thousand dollars. Now in the absence of evidence of the most positive character that it will produce the results that my friend from Philadelphia thinks, I think we ought to hesitate as to whether we shall pass this bill. Personally, I do not know that I can afford to support the bill in the form that it is in.

Mr. ALBEE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reynolds.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reynolds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALBEE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if it is not true that the elevators are now inspected in cities of the third class and in boroughs by the factory inspectors.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, from what the gentleman from Allegheny says, and he seems to be very familiar with it, they are inspected by insurance companies only. That is what he said.

Mr. ALBEE. Mr. Speaker, I would say that our elevators in the boroughs are now inspected every year, at different times in the year, by the factory inspectors that visit the stores and factories.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, they are totally incompetent to inspect elevators and know nothing about it.

Mr. ALBEE. Mr. Speaker, they are familiar with machinery and are supposed to be competent. Gentlemen, I think this is an added expense that we do not need.

Mr. HABGOOD. Mr. Speaker, this is anotheer one of these bills which is introduced seemingly aimed at the smaller cities the same as others have been at the smaller counties. By the process of elimination the second class cities are cut out of it and it is not fair, for what is good for the goose is good for the gander; and those who have stricken out the second class cities know that we don't want it and yet they are here probably with the intention of voting it upon the third class cities. It is not fair and I protest against such legislation and ask you to vote down this bill. The third class cities don't want it and don't need it.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, this bill appears to emanate from the Department of Labor and Industry but there is nobody as yet, so far as I am able to see, that has come into this House prepared to speak for the Department of Labor and Industry and say that Commissioner Jackson is asking for the passage of this bill.

As has been said by the gentleman from Allegheny, the salaries provided for in this bill amount to $46,200.00. You add to that the expenses that would be necessary to carry the provisions of this bill into effect in paying the traveling expenses of the eighteen elevator inspectors and the running expenses of this bureau and it would amount to at least seventy-five thousand dollars a year. Less than two weeks ago this House passed a bill increasing the number of factory inspectors in the Department of Labor and Industry by fifty and I assume that those fifty men are competent and are qualified and will have the time to properly inspect and pass upon the elevators in the boroughs and second and third class cities in the State.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I am reliably informed that this bill does not come from the Department of Labor and Industry.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

The SPEAKER declared the noes appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for and forty-nine voting in the affirmative and one hundred and twelve in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill not agreed to on third reading and therefore dropped from the Calendar.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. GANS asked and received unanimous consent to report a bill from Committee at this time.

Mr. GANS, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1771, entitled:

BILL ON FIRST READING.

Mr. GANS asked and received unanimous consent to have House Bill No. 1771 read for the first time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1771, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation for the purpose of refunding to the Karl Schlatter Dye Works Incorporated of Philadelphia certain moneys erroneously paid into the State Treasury.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. WALTER asked and received unanimous consent to report a bill from Committee at this time.

Mr. WALTER from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as amended, House Bill No. 1738 (Senate Bill No. 1406), entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section eight article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania

HOUSE BILL NO. 1 MADE A SPECIAL ORDER.

Mr. W. H. WILSON offered the following motion which was twice read considered and agreed to.

Moved by Mr. W. H. Wilson, seconded by Mr. Conner, that House Bill No. 1, File Folio No. 7267, entitled:

An Act relating to the holding of a Constitutional convention providing for the submission of the question of holding such a convention to the electors regulating the time and manner of nominating and electing delegates fixing their number and compensation providing for the organization and constitution of the convention defining its powers providing for the publication of the constitution proposed by the convention and for its submission to the electors and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of this act on page nineteen of today's calendar, Bills on Third Reading Postponed, be made a special order of business on third reading for Wednesday, May 12th, at 11:30 A. M.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1691 (Senate No. 156), entitled:

An Act to prevent deception in the sale of paint putty turpentine or any substitutes therefor and providing penalties for the violation hereof

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill that you are about to consider is one that is satisfactory to all concerned. It embodies the principle of the bill that I introduced earlier in the session and that this House so generously passed. There are no objections at all to the passage of the bill. The former feature of the Thompson bill, as you will see by consulting this Act, has been wiped out. It embodies the feature of the bill that the House passed earlier in the session and is perfectly satisfactory to all concerned and I would therefore ask the House to vote "aye" upon it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Mr. FRUIT in the Chair.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which Senate Bill No. 375, File Folio 3187 was defeated on final passage on May 4th, be reconsidered.

Mr. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the title of the bill for information.

The Clerk then read the title as follows:

An Act relative to the deposit of county funds by the county treasurer in banks of certain counties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to say for the benefit of the House that the purpose of this is to offer an amendment in which I think practically all of the valid objections to the several bills that have failed have been met. You will remember that this bill was defeated last week for the reason that certain objections were made to it, among others that it eliminated the larger counties and it required interest to be paid on some very small accounts where the Banks probably would not pay it. Last night Mr. Love's bill was defeated for some other reasons, among others that the county treasurer had to ask for bids.

Now, I am going to send this proposed substitute to the desk and ask to have it read by the Clerk for the information of the House.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendment for the information of the House.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend by striking out all after the enactment clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following: That whenever the funds in the treasury of any county having a population not exceeding eight hundred thousand inhabitants shall be greater than an amount which the county commissioner thereof shall deem necessary to meet current expenses, it shall be the duty of the county treasurer to place such surplus funds in such bank or banks as will agree to pay interest thereon at a rate not less than two per centum per annum, such interest to be paid to the county treasurer for the use of the county.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that this bill has been considered twice and defeated twice and therefore cannot be resurrected.

The SPEAKER. This particular bill?

Mr. FLYNN. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker, this particular bill. I understand that this bill strikes out all after the enacting clause and inserts a bill that has twice been defeated in this House.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentlemen from Elk, the Chair would state that this particular bill has been defeated but once. The other bill, proposed by the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Love, has been defeated twice.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I still insist upon my point of order. This seeks to insert a bill that was defeated twice.

The SPEAKER. The first question to be considered is whether this House will reconsider this particular bill. The question of amendment will then follow, if you reconsider.

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say that this proposed amendment is considerably different from any bill bill that has been defeated. I do not believe the point of order should be sustained. I want to say this, in regard to the merits of the motion to reconsider; this is simply giving to the other counties of the State the same advantages that Philadelphia in her wisdom enjoys for herself, and Allegheny county, in her wisdom, enjoys for herself,—by a special act. It applies to every county underneath Allegheny.

I want to say further that the Supreme and the Superior courts of the State of Pennsylvania have handed down decisions to the effect that where the county treasurer receives any interest, it shall be paid over to the county. It simply resolves itself to this, whether you members of this House want the taxpayers of your county to have the benefit of the interest on these county funds, or whether you want the bank to have it. In many cases the interest on these funds is enough to bear the entire expense of running the county office and we all know how keen the banks of this State are for accounts. Time after time, bank after bank now is paying interest on daily balance or checking accounts, and the idea that the taxpayers of the county should not have the benefit of this interest is not right. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a "yea" and "nay" vote on this motion to reconsider.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to state that I have not heard a valid reason as to why we should exhume this carcass, and I am against the reconsideration of this bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Gibson and Mr McClintock and were as follows:

TIME EXTENDED ON HOUSE BILL NO. 1608.

Mr. LIPSCHUTZ asked and obtained unanimous consent to extend the time on House Bill No. 1608, file folio 1043, entitled:

An Act to amend the third section of an act entitled "An Act relative to the supervision and control of hospitals or homes in which the insane are placed for treatment or detention" approved the eighth day of May Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three so as to fix the compensation of the Secretary of the Committee on Lunacy.

on page 22 of today's calendar, for five days.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from page 20 of to-day's calendar, Bills on Third Reading Postponed, House Bill No. 1324. File Folio 7515.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1324, entitled:

An Act to amend the tenth and fourteenth sections of an act entitled "An Act authorizing the release on probation of certain convicts instead of imposing sentences the appointment of probation and parole officers and the payment of their salaries and expenses regulating the manner of sentencing convicts in certain cases and providing for their release on parole their conviction of crime during parole and their rearrest and reconviction for breach of parole and extending the powers and duties of boards of prison inspectors of penitentiaries" approved the nineteenth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred eleven so that a convict sentenced to the penitentiary for a crime committed during his period of parole shall begin to serve the said sentence after having first served the remainder of the term which such convict would have been compelled to serve but for the commutation authorizing said parole and so that a convict violating his or her parole may be arrested and confined by authority of the board of inspectors of the penitentiary from which such convict shall have been released on parole and investigation and report upon said case made by said board before the Governor shall issue his mandate for the recommitment of such convict

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, if the gentlemen of the House will permit me just a minute I should like to ask that every man here vote in favor of this bill. This bill is desired by the Board of Inspectors of both the eastern and western penitentiaries and is intended to put the prisoners in closer touch with the institutions, and is also intended to benefit prisoners who are out on parole. As the law now stands a prisoner out on parole cannot be re-arrested except on warrant issued by the Governor. This bill will permit the Board of Inspectors to bring them back and when brought back will give the Board of Inspectors much greater control over the prisoners. They feel that this bill is in the interests of humanity and the welfare of the prisoners and it ought to be passed. I ask the members of the House to vote in favor of enacting it into a law.

On the question concurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—178.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1678 (Senate No. 972), entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the twenty-ninth day of April one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one entitled "An Act authorizing and empowering the several counties of this Commonwealth to purchase bridges already erected or to erect and maintain bridges or culverts with the necessary approaches joining cities and boroughs which are separated by a river creek or rivulet and providing for the condemnation of land necessary for the said approaches"

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?
